"Seashore Shapes"

Two-reel Century Comedy

Starring

BABY PEGGY and TEDDY the Dane

LOUISE is being courted by DeFeat and Baron Island. In reality they are bogus, but she only discovers this later.

One of them is an organ grinder, and the other is a life-saver. Count DeFeat invites Louise to go swimming with him. He tries to keep from her that he is the life-saver. She accepts. Baron Island attempts to conceal his true vocation, and when Louise sees him with a hand organ and monkey tells her he is dressed for a masquerade ball. He has trained his monkey to pick pockets, and is reaping a fortune when Teddy the Great Dane sees him, and after a spirited chase teaches him a lesson. In order to be chaperoned Louise takes her little sister, Baby Peggy, along with her. The organ grinder, in desperation, steals Baby Peggy, and the life-saver swims after the motor boat with captive and captured in it. It is only through Teddy, the faithful Dane, that Baby Peggy is saved, and the life-saver realizing his uselessness jumps back into the water.
