AUG -8 1921

©CLL 16841C

Written and directed by William Watson!

Bank Robbery Foiled By Infant's Quick Wit

"The Clean-up"

With

CHAS. DORETY and BABY PEGGY

DORETY is president, treasurer, bookkeeper and general all-around man of his bank. It wasn't much of a bank, as banks go, but it did boast of the smallest, neatest little porter in 48 states. It happened to be the one thing that made him a papa—his Baby Peggy.

While father was busily juggling the books, little Peggy was rollin' the dice with her assistant—the spade-black porter. While they were all busily at their own individual jobs, in walks a freak Jesse James. He takes the bank's money and escapes. As he does so Baby Peggy catches a glimpse of his face.

In her wanderings at the sea-shore Babby Peggy comes to a large umbrella under which the bank robber lies reading an item concerning the bank robbery that mentions the robber had overlooked a large booty. Baby Peggy recognizes the thief, overhears his remark that he is going back to get what was overlooked. So Peggy runs back to the bank, calls the police, and sure enough the thief is again cleaning up, but through the quick thinking of his little daughter, father's vast fortune is saved.

This document is from the Library of Congress
"Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection, 1912-1977"

Collections Summary:

The Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection, Class L and Class M, consists of forms, abstracts, plot summaries, dialogue and continuity scripts, press kits, publicity and other material, submitted for the purpose of enabling descriptive cataloging for motion picture photoplays registered with the United States Copyright Office under Class L and Class M from 1912-1977.

Class L Finding Aid:
https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi020004

Class M Finding Aid:
https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi021002

National Audio-Visual Conservation Center
The Library of Congress