Universal SCREEN MAGAZINE No. 73.

SCREEN MAGAZINE No. 73 opens with a study in chemistry for the kiddies. The magic of modern science enables youngsters to make a variety of useful things, including soap, glass, ink, etc. The vaudeville act this week is performed by some highbrow ponies, who dance and perform to the delight of any audience. This issue of the Magazine contains an official film of the United States Department of Agriculture, and shows how Uncle Sam is supplying his country with sufficient lumber to tide it through the war without any shortage. Fishing for sea cow, or Manati, is another interesting subject this week. This is one of the strangest and most ponderous aquatic animals. Fishermen find hunting it an exciting sport. The Magazine ends with a Miracle in Mud by Willie Hopkins, entitled "Sea Food."
