MAR-4'22 "THE BOW WOWS", [illegible] Hal E. Roach. ©OIL 17597

The comedy opens showing the wrath of Marie's father when she brings home a new dog and forces him to foot the bill. He tells his daughter that if the dog doesn't win the first prize at the dog show, she will have to leave home and take her canines with her. Leaving for the show, she encounters "Snub" as the dog-catcher, who is having the time of his life chasing dogs up and down the busy thoroughfares. He starts a flirtation with Marie, and is looked upon favorably, but the girl hesitates because of his lowly position in life.

Arriving at the Dog Show, Marie places her dog on the bench to await the awarding of prizes. Then the Sportsman appears and looks jealously at her dog, determining to make way with it. While he is thinking his plan over, Pollard catches his dog and places it in the cage on his wagon. Noah, thoroughly angered now, takes Marie's dog while she isn't looking and clips all the hair off of it. The girl is horrified when she sees what has happened, but Pollard appears and covers the shaved dog with Marie's furs just at the time the judges approach. The beautiful fur on the dog surprises the judges and Marie wins first prize.

This document is from the Library of Congress
"Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection, 1912-1977"

Collections Summary:

The Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection, Class L and Class M, consists of forms, abstracts, plot summaries, dialogue and continuity scripts, press kits, publicity and other material, submitted for the purpose of enabling descriptive cataloging for motion picture photoplays registered with the United States Copyright Office under Class L and Class M from 1912-1977.

Class L Finding Aid:
https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi020004

Class M Finding Aid:
https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi021002

National Audio-Visual Conservation Center
The Library of Congress