EDUCATION DRIVE URGED ON BANKERS

1,000 Attend Banquet Here of Institute—Notables Are Present.

Addressing more than a thousand members and guests of Washington Chapter, American Institute of Banking, at the 33d annual banquet at the Willard Hotel last evening, Frank R. Curda of Chicago, president of the national organization, declared that education now occupies the limelight in the banking field and urged officials in all banks to acquaint the public more fully with what the banks are doing and how they are doing it.

There can be no improvement in the objectives of banking, he said. Safety and service will always be the two greatest aims, and they will be obtained by successful bank management. Sound banking calls for high qualities of integrity, dependability, originality, judgment and courage, supported by knowledge and experience.

In these days of specialization, he added, there must be systematic study of theory, practice and management, the kind of guidance which has been offered by the American Institute of Banking for nearly 40 years.

Stonier Speaks.

Harold Stonier, executive manager of the American Bankers' Association and national educational director of the institute, the other guest speaker, was greeted with vigorous applause. He devoted a part of his address to the importance of the institute's educational work as carried on by the chapters and at the Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers University.

The attendance of 1,028 broke all institute records and tested the hotel's seating capacity. It was one of the largest banquet gatherings ever held in the Capital by any organization. Many high Government officials, bank presidents and other prominent financiers were among the guests. William H. Laughlin, president of Washington Chapter, presided at the dinner. During the evening he presented Paul J. Seltzer, head of the chapter last year, with a handsome gold watch as a gift from his associates.

Special Guests.

Among the special guests present were John K. McKee, M. S. Szymczak and Chester A. Davis, governors of the Federal Reserve Board; Marshall R. Diggs, acting controller of the currency; E. H. Gough and G. J. Oppegard, deputy controllers of the currency; Daniel W. Bell, acting director of the budget; Charles H. Henderson, Howard J. Klossner and Emil Schram, directors of the Reconstruction Finance Corp.; Hugh Leach, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond; L. E. Birdsell, general counsel, Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.; Walter Wyatt, general counsel, Federal Reserve System; C. B. Upham, assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury; Francis C. Brown, general counsel, Reconstruction Finance Corp.; Chester Morrill, secretary, Federal Reserve Board; D. J. Needham, general counsel, American Bankers Association; Thomas J. Groom, president, District of Columbia Bankers Association; H. H. McKee, chairman, District of Columbia Clearing House Association; Bolitha J. Laws, president, District of Columbia Bar Association; Edward F. Colladay, president, Washington Board of Trade; Frank J. Hogan, general counsel, District of Columbia Bankers Association.

Floor Show Presented.

The program concluded with an elaborate floor show and dancing, the junior bankers and their guests being glad to forget for a time such weighty matters as bank credit, dearth of loans, low interest, bond and stock quotations, service charges and the drive for more cordial relations with the public and a host of others.

Robert H. Lacey was general chairman of the Banquet Committee, assisted by T. Hunton Leith, Richard A. Norris, I. J. Roberts, Walton L. Sanderson, Margaret P. Haydon and John M. Christie.

Chairmen of the subcommittees were Raymond L. Jones, Alice H. Whitton, Francis E. Robey, G. Elmer Flather, Frank M. Perley, Paul J. Seltzer, G. M. Rowzee, jr.; Aubrey O. Dooley, J. Earle McGeary and Myrtle P. Lewis.

AIRLINES SET RECORD

January Revenue Passenger Miles Total 27,110,800.

Revenue passenger miles flown by the airlines of the United States during January totaled 27,110,800, a new all-time January record, according to Col. Edgar S. Gorrell, president of the Air Transport Association of America.

The January total exceeded that for December, which never before has occurred in air transport history, he said. The favorable traffic passenger trend, amounting to an increase of 50.5 per cent over the total for January of last year, Col. Gorrell attributed in part to newspaper advertising and to publicity attendant upon the new low air trip insurance rate of 25 cents for $5,000 of coverage.

IRA VAIL
FAMOUS RACING DRIVER says

"I can't get over the way this Hudson 112 holds the road. I came through mountains all through the east over roads that were sheeted with ice. Cars and trucks were sliding into the ditch all along the way, but you'd have thought my wheels were glued to the road. After over 9,800 miles of the kind of driving I've given it, you get to know a car pretty well, and I can tell you this Hudson 112 has everything."

Ira Vail

Hudson engaged Ira Vail and three other noted race drivers to give the new Hudson 112 the equal of more than a year's hard use in a few weeks — to prove its performance for you.
