Chief and Ralls of 32d Lead Hitters of Big League

Wreckers First in Two Departments But Baby Regiment Batters Carry Off Individual Honors—Dunlap and Hawkins Lead for All-Stars and Wreckers—Hollis Has Four Sacrifice Hits in Two Games—Few Fail to Hit Safely

Chief, the peppery short fielder of the Infants, is the leading hitter of the Oahu-Service League, according to the figures compiled by the league officials. He is closely followed by Ralls, who has been hitting well since the series opened. Hawkins of the Wreckers is leading that team, and Dunlap holds the honors for the All-Stars.

Hawkins leads in runs scored, Hollis is ahead in sacrifice hits, and Kovins, Judd and Smith lead in stolen bases. The Wreckers top the league in both hitting and fielding. The All-Stars and Infants have the most sacrifice hits, and the All-Stars lead in stolen bases. The averages to date are as follows:

HILO ATHLETICS GIVEN BOOST BY SPORTING FANS

Rowing, Baseball and Swimming Will Be Featured July 4; Crews Expect to Win

Members of the Hilo Yacht Club are working out on Hilo harbor in preparation for the big regatta which will be held in the Crescent City on July 4. Word comes from Hilo that the club has three crews out for practice, and Webster, who is in charge, predicts that this is Hilo's year in rowing circles.

Hilo made a great showing in the events last year, and if the Crescent City does not win one of the events this year, there will be a lot of disappointed people in that town. The celebration this year promises to eclipse all others, and with baseball, swimming and rowing the followers of sport will have their fill.

The Hawaii Post has taken up the plan of establishing a branch of the A. A. U. in Hilo. The daily newspaper argues that if a record is made, and one will be made, that the same should be established. It is expected that the Hilo followers of sport will take up the matter with the local association.

Hale Holden, president of the Chicago Burlington & Quincy Railroad Co., has been elected a director of the Merchants' Loan and Trust Co.

PACIFIC LEAGUE MEETING

There will be a meeting of the Pacific League at the Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock this afternoon. All officers and members are requested to be present. The contest for the prize offered will close this week, and all managers are requested to have their reports ready at the meeting.

MILLS LOSES STAR PLAYER FOR GAME WITH HIGH SCHOOL

Mills will go into the game against the McKinley team today minus their star player. Suna Hung, the peppery second sacker of the Manoa Valley school, will not be in the lineup against the high school team. The loss will be a blow to Mills, and should give McKinley the advantage in today's game.

Suna Hung is one of the best players seen in the interscholastic this year, and has been on his toes at all times working for the team. Ahn Soon Nam will perhaps work for the Mills team this afternoon when the squad meets the Chillingworth crew at Moilili, while Mainichi or Nunnida may hurl for the high school squad.

If McKinley wins in the game against the Mills team, they will have to win from St. Louis to clinch the banting in the interscholastic league. McKinley, Mills and St. Louis have fast teams and appear to be the class of the league.

RAGTIME DOUBLES BEGIN AT Y. M. C. A.

J. C. Chamberlin and J. W. Canario will divide the prize for high three-string during the Y. M. C. A. senior bowling league season, which has just closed. Each of these crack bowlers registered 632 for three games.

K. T. Pong had the best single score of the league, 246. Pong also won second high average prize. Carl Wikander took first prize for high average during the season, as was announced in Saturday's Star-Bulletin.

The ragtime doubles tournament, which opened at noon today, will be the premier event on the "Y" alleys from May 15 to June 15. Any bowler may roll two matches with any other bowler who is a member of the Y. M. C. A. Total pinfall for three games by the winning team is the figure that

DOINGS ON THE DIAMOND CIRCUIT

The fans are still talking about that baseball game between the Wreckers and Baby Regiment, played last Sunday at Moilili. The Wreckers will play Ruger on Sunday and another hot game is expected.

The Mutual baseball team of the Commercial League will give a benefit dance at the Outrigger Club on Saturday evening, May 19. Dude Miller's orchestra will furnish the music for the occasion and a large crowd is expected. The players report that a large number of tickets have already been sold for the dance. The tickets are selling at $1 which includes the ladies.

The Pacific League players have been breaking into the limelight with circus plays recently. Lum Wing and Gomes both made one-handed stops of hard-hit balls on the meat hand and threw their man out at first, and Tan Lo and Fun Luke have featured with great running catches. Buckland is the star circus performer in the Oahu-Service League to date with a great catch.

There is a slight difference in the fielding average of the Healanis and the batting average. The team has made 29 hits in two games which is enough to lead the league. The Hawaiis are second with 27 hits, but are resting in the cellar.

Kekahio of the Spalding had his eye on the ball last Sunday and secured three hits in four times up. Charley En Sue also came through with an equal number of bingles.

Little Marcial, the "Let's Go" third sacker of the Filipinos and the center fielder for the Service First team, is at home in both positions and looks like one of the best all-around players in the amateur circles.

Charley Brown of the Spaldings is improving as an outfield, and in the last game made two good catches in the jungles.

Lani, who pitches for the Service First team, ought to stop a lot of the teams this year, as he has plenty of stuff. With more experience he ought to make good as a mound artist. His catcher held him up in good style, and did not make an error during the day.

Zerbe and Camacho were the leading hitters for the Mutuals on Sunday against the Schuman team and Camacho broke through with a triple and a homer.

Schuman, Ah Hook and Johnny Williams were the leading hitters for the Schuman team. "Scotty" came back into the game and secured a double and single.

When a pitcher strikes out 18 men he ought to win a game, but Johnny Williams sent back this number to the bench against the Mutuals and then lost out. He struck out every man on the Mutual team and sent his brother back to the bench twice via the strikeout route.

Crabtree, who plays right field for the Schuman team, played good ball on Sunday and handled all his chances without an error.

Goliah, the captain of the 25th Inf. team, wasn't sure that the Pacific League players could play ball. After watching the last two Sunday games, the Wrecker captain is convinced that the youngsters can play ball in a manner that is surprising.

Gomes, the new shortstop of the Braves, is some player. No better baseball could be asked for than that put up by the peppery shortstop. Benny Anahu also played great ball at third and his pegging to first was unusually good.

The Chinese team looks strong this year and with some good pitching should be up in the hunt at all times. They have a nice looking infield in Dunn, Wong, Pong and Hung.

Kai Luke and Yen Chin have been hitting the ball hard in the Honolulu Junior League and are crowding the leaders for honors.

DUKE WILL PLAY BASEBALL WITH McKINLEY TEAM

Champion Swimmer of World to Appear in Pacific League Games at Moilili

Duke Kahanamoku, world's champion swimmer and expert oarsman has cast his lot with the followers of the great American game of baseball and will play with the McKinley team of the Pacific League this year. Norman Ross is a track athlete, Ted Cann plays football, and now the sprint champion takes up the game so dear to the heart of the fan.

Duke is no mean ball player, and has appeared in a number of practice games, when he made a good showing. He plays ball every day at the beach and Henry Chillingworth, after seeing him in action, decided that he would make an excellent first sacker, and Duke will be given his first chance in the game McKinley game.

He Likes the Game

Many people have been under the impression that Duke likes swimming better than any other sport. He does like it, but he is enough of a fan to enjoy baseball perhaps more than either swimming or rowing. His natural ability in athletics will stand him in need on the ball field, and Chilly believes that Duke will fill the position at first to the entire satisfaction of all.

Duke will make his first appearance with the McKinley team on May 26, when that aggregation opposes the strong Chinese team at Moilili Field. Duke said yesterday that he was practicing every day, and would be ready when the call came. McKinley has a good team and the added strength of Duke will give them enough power to win the pennant.

Opening New League

Duke has already appeared before the fans of Honolulu in the capacity of a pinch hitter, when he acted with other notables at the opening of the Oahu-Service League. Governor Pinkham had a good curve ball, but after two strikes were called he connected with the sphere for a clean hit.

Duke has never before been given an opportunity to play baseball, but since the organization of an amateur league his longings have been fulfilled, and it is expected that he will take a keen interest in the league. The fans of Honolulu will be pulling for Duke to make good at the national game.

MILLS VS. McKINLEY

Mills School and McKinley will meet at Moilili Field this afternoon at 3:30 in a regular scheduled interscholastic game. McKinley will be a slight favorite over Mills, despite the fact that

JAMES W. JUMP IS AGAIN BOOSTING HAWAII FISHING

James W. Jump, game fisherman of Los Angeles and Honolulu—he's adopted here for at least three months out of the year—is boosting Hawaii nobly since his return to California. The Los Angeles Examiner of Sunday, May 6, contains a two-column article by him on "Sea Angling in Hawaiian Waters." It is an article written in Jump's well-known vivid and picturesque style, and is a big boom for fishing in the island waters. It is illustrated with a photo of Jump and the world's record ulua catch made by him, a 93-pound fighter taken on light tackle.

Baseball Tickets Bring Pleasure to Youngsters-Smith

Since the Pacific League announced that they intended to give away 500 free tickets to the school children of the city who were up in their studies, they have received a number of compliments on the action taken.

Cyril O. Smith, principal of the Royal School, writes: "Royal School wishes to extend to you its most hearty thanks for your kindness and thoughtfulness in donating the tickets to see the games on Saturday. This gift will give a great deal of pleasure to a large number of youngsters who would otherwise be unable to see the games."

George Raymond, inspector of schools, was in attendance at the games at Moilili Field last Saturday, and was very much pleased at the interest taken by the students. The youngsters led in the rooting, and all followers of baseball will second the league in the action taken.

FISHERMEN TELL OF GREAT CATCH SUNDAY

A party consisting of Mr. Geo. W. Armitage of the U. S. quartermaster's office, E. H. Paris, and Judge Coke had the pleasure of landing five good sized ulua Sunday. The smallest fish weighed ten pounds and the largest weighed twenty pounds. The party went out in the Sea Scout and spent Saturday night at Waianae Bay. Particularly good sport was had fishing with a sled and live bait. Regulation tackle (rod and reel) was used. Many strikes were had, however, the percentage of the catch was very fair and indicates that game fishing should be very popular this summer. May, June and July are particularly good months for ulua.

Whip and Spur Come Out of Moth Balls Ready For Work

June Race Meet Promises to Be one of the Best in History of Sport in Hawaii—Three Day Meet on June 9, 11 and 16 Will Bring Out Large Number of Entries—Visitors Beginning to Haunt Stables—Fillies Given Workouts on Kapiolani Track

Honolulu followers of sport are beginning to realize that it is only a short time until the colors will be grandly displayed at Kapiolani Park, the barrier will fall, and class will tell when the bang tails breeze under the wire once more.

Racing has been locked up in the closet since last fall, covered with moth balls, and carefully preserved, but now with the three-day race meet only a few weeks away, the call of the whip and the spur is heard, and hundreds of curious fans will soon be wandering out to the stables to give the hopes the once over.

Three-Day Meet

This year the followers of the sport of kings will have a three-day race meet on June 9, 11 and 16, under the auspices of the Hawaii Polo and Racing Association. On the afternoon of the 9th and 16th races will be staged and Kamehameha Day will be observed by a full day's race meet.

Last year the committee arranged two good meetings, but a number of details were left to the last, and some tall scrambling was necessary on the part of the officials. This year it is expected that the committee will begin work earlier, and in a few days the first plans for the big meet will be on.

Racing and Baseball

Baseball has taken up much of the interest among the followers of sport this season, and naturally will throughout the year, but the three days for racing will be left for the bangtails, and other sports will be cast in the shade on those days in all probability. It is predicted that the three days' racing in June will eclipse everything in the history of racing in Hawaii.

The last race in which the followers of the sport had an opportunity to watch them come under the wire was held last fall when Oneonta, trained to the mark, raced home ahead of Satisfax, the pride of Schofield Barracks. Inasmuch as the daughter of Rock Sand will race again this year, the interest is sure to be increased.

Work on Track

Superintendent R. Duchalsky has been working on the track at Kapiolani Park, and it is now working up right for a fast surface when the first race begins in June. The pacers and tangtails have been given workouts recently, and promising material has been uncovered for the maiden events.

In the harness class S. S. Paxson has been working Denervo for a test this year, and the starter believes that the pacer will again show to form. John Grace has had Carmalita out at the track and the pacer has stepped in workouts around 2.30. El Oro, a Hilo horse, has also been working around the 2.30 mark.

Belle Mackinney, owned by Bob Shingle, will enter the harness events this year, and has been given some good workouts by Patterson. Teddy Roosevelt, Maui Boy and Billy Boy are expected to be ready when the call comes next month.

Reno Horses Out

Among the entries working at the track are the Macfarlane string, Florence Roberts, Mary Jay, Fair Mary and Lahontan Water. The Wingfield quartet looks good, and in a recent workout Mary Jay stepped off the mile in 1.52, while Fair Mary did the seven furlongs in time close to 1.34. Florence Roberts was given a turn over five furlongs and came up strong in 1.04 for the five furlongs. Bubbling Water, owned by Bob Shingle, gave Fair Mary a pretty race recently and looks right for a place in the Hawaiian Derby.

It is not certain whether or not the horses from the Parker ranch will appear in the June meet, but prospects are not bright for their being entered, as the National Guard plans will, without doubt, interfere with the sending of the string to Honolulu. Johnny Caroll intended to take the mounts on Sumere, Gaiety, Myrtle and Gold Oak, but will perhaps ride under some other colors this season.

Dillingham String

The Dillingham string, with Umpqua, Oneonta, Seybolt and Onesta, by Oneonta out of Yola Girl, are in training for the meet, and John O'Rourke and some of the other trainers are confident that the Oneonta 2-year-old will show something in June. Senator B. Frances B., and Copra from Maui with Satisfax and Mohawk Boy from Schofield are expected to be entered in the June meeting ready for good races.

Summing it all up, there should be plenty of talent in the events this year, and followers of racing are confident that the meetings this season will add to the popularity of racing. The committee will soon be at work on the actual arrangement and the followers of sport will be given the news of the plans in a very few days.

RAWLINS BOOSTS HILO SWIMMING TOURNEY LATER

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.)

HILO, May 14.—William T. Rawlins of Honolulu is determined to bring a team of star swimmers to Hilo next September. The team will be made up of the mainlanders who are visiting Hawaii at that time and of course the Hawaiian wonders will also be with the team. Mr. Rawlins says that the mainland stars will not be coming to Honolulu till September and that they will not be here for July Fourth, as was anticipated.

The well known attorney and sportsman is determined that he will pull off a swimming meet at Kuhio Bay. If Hilo people do not care to get in and assist the movement, Rawlins will finance the swimming meet himself. He will interview the harbor commissioners and try and get permission to hold the meet at Kuhio wharf, upon which seats would be provided.

Rawlins, however, is hoping that enough interest in the swimming game can be aroused to make it possible for this city to undertake the task of arranging the meet. If the wharf were granted for the races the whole proposition could be made a paying one by a slight charge being made for seats on the grandstand or bleachers.

The visit of the mainland swimmers would be a great boost for the game and although there is no swimming club in Hilo, there are plenty of live wires who might be induced to take up the proposed affair and bring it to a successful conclusion without leaving it to a Honolulu man to put the meet over.

17-INNING HILO BALL GAME PUTS FANS IN ECSTACY

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.)

HILO, May 14.—One of the most exciting baseball games ever pulled off in Hilo was that of Sunday last when the Y. M. I. nine went up against the Japanese Athletics on the Mooheau diamond. The scoring board recorded 17 innings before darkness fell and the umpire called the game off. The score was then 1 to 1, and it was some score, plus some game.

The fans went up in the air with excitement as extra inning after extra inning was reeled off. The tied game at the end of the ninth had been a beauty, but the extra eight innings were the limit in excitement and the fans with heart disease simply could not sit still and watch the game. They disappeared behind the grandstand and begged their friends to let them know the score at the end of each inning. One man fainted when the 16th inning passed with the score still tied. He was taken to the hospital in a taxi and as soon as he arrived there he woke up and demanded to know what the score was. The nurses tried to get the tally over the phone from the Hawaii Drug Store, but everybody was too busy serving out pick-me-ups to the worn-out fans to think of answering the urgent call for the score.

The game progressed tied until the end of the second half of the 17th inning when it was so dark that the ball, when clouted to the outfield, could not be seen by the men in the garden.

The umpire-in-chief decided to call the game a draw and the crowd broke up declaring that no such game had been seen in Hilo before. The game batteries stuck to their guns right through the game and the men were wonderfully fresh at the end of the long game. Hilo is talking of this game as it never talked before of any individual struggle on Mooheau diamond.
