ELECTRIC LIGHT AND NEW BANK

These New Additions to Bonners Ferry Glory enough for one Week.

Bonners Ferry is the largest and most important town in the Northwest without electric lights, telephones, water works and a bank. That a town of this size, and where the valume of business transacted is so great, should be so long without modern improvements is one of the unaccountable things. But the dawn of better things is at hand. The electric lights will be turned on tonight, and telephones and water works will come as suddenly as the banks. It was thought a few weeks ago that the waterworks proposition had been financed, but it seems that there is a temporary delay. It's a good investment and capital will discover it soon.

As announced in these columns last week the town is to have one and possibly two banks. Mr. Van-Velsor authorized the HERALD to announce last week that he had completed the organization of a bank, associating his own and local capital in the enterprise. The articles of incorporation were not filed, however, as stated, but the gentleman is reported to have gone to Spokane to purchase a safe and bank fixtures.

Messrs. Baxter and Mahoney have also requested the HERALD to announce that they will open a bank in Bonners Ferry, and that they have gone out to buy bank fixtures and attend to the business of incorporating the institution.

Banking facilities in Bonners are, therefore, a certainty.

Struck by a Train.

Frank Campbell, a bridge carpenter of this place, employed by the Great Northern, and working with the crew near Katka, was struck by the K. V. logging train Thursday evening, and seriously injured. The accident occurred between town and the mill. Campbell was coming into town on a speeder and the K. V. engine was pushing a train of cars ahead. A brakeman on the front end of the train carried a lantern, and Campbell also had a lantern, but as so many persons walk the track at that point with lanterns, Campbell evidently did not note the approaching train. The brakeman saw the danger when the speeder was only a car length away, and called to Campbell to jump, which he did, but too late to escape injuries. The car struck the speeder as it was tipping over off the track, and Campbell was picked up, having received a bad bruise in the side. How badly he is injured was not ascertained. He was taken to the hospital in Spokane on the next train.

Fine Fire Proof Vault.

The C. C. Mercantile Co. have recently had constructed a valuable acquisition to their place of business. It consists of a large, fire proof and burglar proof vault. The vault is large and roomy, accommodating a large safe, besides plenty of room for records and such other valuables as should be kept in safety. The vault is built of solid masonry from the ground up to a level with the office floor, above which brick is used, making a wall of ample thickness, fitted with the latest style of doors. It is a very fine vault in every particular.

Establishing Logging Camps.

The Bonners Ferry Lumber Co. is establishing two logging camps for the winter, in addition to the camps that will be put in by contractors. One of these camps will be on the Moyie and the other on the south side of the Kootenai. They employ about 50 men.

Ed Gilson has a contract from the company and has established a camp near the Moyie springs.

Occupy New School House.

There was no school yesterday, it being moving day—moving out of the old school house into the new. A force of men are busy placing the school furniture in the new building. School will reopen Monday morning in the new school house.

But Bonners Ferry don't Object.

There is a lot of dissatisfaction at the little towns along the Corbin right of way over the fact that the paymaster of the construction work will not cash time orders at any point but at Bonners Ferry. One day recently a fellow had forty cents coming and when he sold his time order at Elmira the merchant who purchased it found that he could not cash it without going to Bonners Ferry for the purpose. The argument of the construction paymaster is that by paying off the men at Bonners Ferry he can better keep in touch with the working crews and secure their services after pay day.—Pend d'Oreille Review.

Big Mortgage.

Of the big mortgages on record in the Spokane county auditor's office, that filed Wednesday from the Spokane International Railway company to the Knickerbocker Trust companp of New York for $4,200,000 stands near the head of the list, says the Spokesman-Review. The contract recorded says that the railroad company has resolved to issue bonds at the rate of $30,000 a mile for the full extent of its road. Each bond is for $1000, and to bear interest at 5 per cent. They are to bear date of July 1, 1905, the interest upon them is payable semi-annually, and the mortgage matures in 1955. The filing fee collected by the auditor was $10.50.

Clothing Sale.

We have 112 men's suits left which we are closing out at half their value.

$30.00 suits at $15.00.
$20.00 suits at $10.00,

SENATOR HEYBURN.

All Efforts to injure the Senator's Standing will prove a Failure.

Senator Heyburn has gone east to attend to some public business of interest to Idahoans, and will be found in his place in the Senate when congress convenes, more determined than ever to wage his fight for the best interests of his state.

For the past six months a most persistent effort has been made to break down the prestige of Senator Heyburn. The onslaughts have been as terrific as they have been persistent. The mediums of attack have been the Boise Statesman, the Spokane Spokesman-Review, and the Portland Oregonian. The real assailant remained under cover, The motives for the war on Heyburn will develop in due time, and when it does it will be found that it has to do with political intrigue and the cupidity of big corporations.

Senator Heyburn, in opposing the creation of forest reserves in Northern Idaho, represents the wishes of his constituents. No one wishes to live alongside of a forest reserve, the boundary line of which marks the end of civilization and development and bars all expansion. Sentiment is so pronounced upon that subject in Northern Kootenai county that if Senator Heyburn and Senator Dubois would come up here and canvass the country, Senator Heyburn would get every man and woman in this territory to sign a petition to restore the Priest River Reserve and the proposed Kootenai Reserve to the public domain, and Senator Dubois could not get a single signature to his proposition favoring the reserves.

In this matter of forest reserves Senator Heyburn represents the interests and wishes of his constituents beyond all question or argument.

Senator Dubois is now engaged in a herculean effort to get back into the Republican party. His object is commendable, but it is to be regretted that he could not have come out in a more straightforward manner, rather than truckling to the administration, and in misleading the President as to sentiment in Idaho on this subject. Had Senator Dubois with the great prestige of his office aided Senator Heyburn in his opposition to the extension of forest reserves in Northern Idaho, it is altogether likely that this great injury to our state might have been prevented.

Repeal the Commutation clause and the Timber and Stone Act if necessary, but give North Idaho towns and settlements a chance to grow and expand! All honor to Senator Heyburn for making the fight for the people!

In connection with this forest reserve subject, there appeared in the press dispatches a few days ago a statement that applications had been filed with the Interior Department for the purchase of 1,800,000 acres of forest reserve land, (probably timber) and it has been frequently announced that the government was "formulating rules" whereby the timber could be sold. Who will be the purchasers of this timber? Who will have the money but the corporate interests? Will a poor man be able to buy any of it?

The forest reserve policy is the most effective scheme ever conceived to prevent the common people from enjoying their heritage and to turn that heritage over to the capitalists—from the inception of the scheme, when the Deu land steal was perpetrated, down to the present time when it is proposed to "reserve" the balance of the timber lands from the common people for corporate greed, to be parcelled out to the capitalists as suits their convenience.
