HAINS'S ARMY CHUMS ARE SENT TO POSTS OUT OF COURT'S REACH

Three Officers, Much Wanted as Witnesses Before Grand Jury, Have Been Transferred Out of State Jurisdiction.

Three officers stationed at Fort Hamilton, intimates of Capt. Peter C. Hains, one of whom occupied half of the Hains quarters on the reservation, have been transferred outside the jurisdiction of the courts of New York by order of the War Department. The three army men were expected to be important witnesses in the trial of Capt. Hains and his brother, T. Jenkins Hains, for the murder of William E. Annis.

The men transferred and their present posts are: Lieut. Andrus, to the Artillery School at Fort Monroe, Va.; Lieut. Farnsworth, to Fort Stevens, Ore., and Capt. Patten, to the Artillery School at Fort Monroe, Va. Capt. Mould, from Fort Moultrie; Lieut. Kersott, from Fort Stevens, and Lieut. Rogers, from Fort Hancock, have been transferred to fill the vacancies. These changes took effect Sept. 1.

Regarding the Government's move, District-Attorney Darrin, of Queens County, said to-day:

Are Important Witnesses.

"I learned of the transfers only very recently. I shall appeal to Washington at once to have the men returned to the jurisdiction of the Queens County Grand Jury. These men are familiar with the domestic relations of the Hains family. They are important in proving the State's contention that the murder was deliberate and the work of sane men."

Lieut.-Col. Ludlow, commandant at Fort Hamilton, said to an Evening World reporter to-day:

"The orders transferring the officers are not unusual. They were promptly executed, as in any other case. So far as I know, the War Department's action had no relation to the Annis case.

The October Grand Jury sits Monday. Mr. Darrin had five subpoena servers searching the army posts for the men and was only told two days ago that the much sought officers had been transferred to remote posts. A witness cannot be brought from another State under subpoena, even in the case of murder.

War Department May Relent.

Unless the War Department directs the transferred officers to take service and return to New York, District-Attorney Darrin says an important phase of the case, tending to show the deliberation of the slaying, will be dangerously threatened. He has confidence, he says, that the War Department is as anxious to serve the ends of justice as he is.

That some influence was at work in removing the men is evident, Mr. Darrin says, from the fact that only three witnesses wanted in the Hains case were transferred.

Lieut. Andrus occupied, with Capt. Hains and his family, cottage No. 8. Lieut. Farnsworth and Capt. Patten were cronies of Capt. Hains at the fort. It was in the apartment of Lieut. Andrus, it is stated, that Mrs. Hains one night threatened suicide. She was later found in one of Lieut. Andrus's rooms, it is reported, breathing heavily. It was said that she had taken gas, but the fact that the reservation homes are equipped with only electric lights refuted this theory.

A quartermaster at the fort said today:

"Capt. Hains was abnormally crazy. His excitement and his admiration were always abnormal. Once, when he was building a pleasure boat, something went wrong, and for two days he was a raving lunatic. I'll bet he's so angry now that they have to keep him in chains."

AQUEDUCT RACE TRACK, Oct. 3.—For the first time this season a two-year-old, Fashion Plate, beat a field of all aged horses here this afternoon. It was in the Edgemere Stakes, which looked a proper good thing for Frank Gill. Fashion Plate led all the way, finishing out good and gamely.

Frank Gill ran one of his good races, but it wasn't quite good enough to beat the two year old. Royal Tourist ran well and momentarily threatened in the stretch. Brother Jonathan, heavily weighted, didn't run to expectations and finished last of the filed.

Joe Notter rode Frank Gill. This was his first mount since the last day of Gravesend, when it was given out that he would ride only the Keene horses thereafter. McGinnis brought Notter out and gave him his start in the jockey world. It was probably for this reason that Rowe consented to his riding his old employer's horse.

Cressina Galloped Home.

The opening event resulted in an easy victory for Cressina. She led all the way and was only galloping at the end. Black Mary had an exceedingly rough journey and really didn't get going till she struck the stretch. She came then, but could only get Biskra, who ran second most of the way. The rest were strung out.

Jockey McKinney Hurt.

Ed H. Carle's Bat furnished the upset in the steeplechase handicap by beating out Sandy Creeker, the choice in the drive on the flat. Henderson, who rode

STRIKE BREAKER SET UPON BY FOUR TAXICAB PICKETS

Pulled From His Car at Columbus Circle and Severely Beaten.

RESERVES CALLED OUT.

Company Won't Recognize Teamsters' Union, to Which the Men Belong.

The first act of violence in the taxicab strike took place late this afternoon.

An automobile came down Broadway with a strike-breaker on the seat. It had reached Columbus Circle, almost opposite the Circle Theatre, when four pickets of the strikers darted out of a hallway and leaped upon the car, seized the chauffeur and dragged him off his seat into the street, where they beat him severely. Sixty other men rushed in from all directions and the chauffeur was dragged into an alleyway near the theatre.

The reserves were summoned from the West Sixty-eighth and West Forty-seventh street stations. When they arrived the mob scurried away in all directions. Four arrests were made, and the prisoners were taken to the West Sixty-eighth street station, while a crowd of 5,000 excited people yelled for and against everybody concerned.

Following directions from the United Teamsters of America, of which they are members, 500 chauffeurs in the employ of the New York Taxicab Company left their machines this morning, completely paralyzing the "red taxicab" service in Manhattan, and causing no end of disappointment and confusion at the twenty different stations which the company has maintained at hotels and casinos.

The strike order reached the two garages of the company, in West Sixty-second street and West Fifty-sixth street, at 7.30 A. M., after twelve of the machines had departed. These were hurriedly hauled back, however, and deserted in front of the "Tent," the West Fifty-sixth street headquarters. Not a "red taxicab" wheel turned all morning. The men are defiant, and the company is firm against unionism among its employees.

The demands of the men as presented to the company two days ago by a committee of three chauffeurs and two drivers from the Teamsters, are:

What the Men Demand.

Flat salary of $2.50 a day.

No deductions for gasoline, polishing brassware, storing uniforms, fines and school instructions in company's school.

Recognition of the Teamsters' Union.

In reply to the demands of the drivers an officer of the company said to an Evening World reporter:

"We wouldn't have unions interfering with our men. There are 2,700 applicants ready now to take our carts out. Half of the men who struck to-day don't know what it's all about. We have encouraged the men to cut away from these unions and form a taxicab organization. If they were to present any grievances through such an organization we would unhesitatingly respond, and generously, too, but we will not have labor dictators.

"We are well equipped to fight this thing out, and can protect our stations all right. Any violence resorted to when new men take the cars out will be met by the police, whom we will call, if necessary, to protect our drivers."

The strike came at a time when the company figured it had regained their employees' good will. At a banquet tendered the chauffeurs in the Harlem Casino at 2 o'clock Thursday morning many expressions of regard were passed by the company's officers. However, at the same time a majority of the drivers were attending a meeting in Washington Hall on Eighth avenue and deliberating on declaring the strike.

The situation was in abeyance until the leaders of the movement learned that the company had urged strongly on more than a hundred of the old men, who happened to be waiting for their cars at the West Sixty-second street station, the advisability of forming a taxicab association at once—that very evening.

This aroused the agitators. After a five hour conference, at which the grievances of the men were gone over, and the support of the Central Federation Union assured the strike order was issued last night.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 3.—Not at any time this season have the Chicago Cubs put up a more careful and speedier warming up stunt than that which they placed on exhibition before their final game with the Reds this afternoon. Every man seemed to be on edge, for it was plain to the Windy City athletes that unless they succeeded in pinching off this battle, there would be nothing to it for the world's championship for them.

Harry Steinfeldt again was missing from the Cubs line up, his bad leg bothering him so that he could scarcely move around. However, judging by the manner in which Artie Hofman patrolled the beat during the past two days, the team has not been weakened much by the hospital stunt of Steinfeldt.

Quakers' Peerless Twirler Gets Third Straight Game, Although Matty Makes Great Showing in the Pitchers' Duel.

BY BOZEMAN BULGER.

(Special to The Evening World.)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—The Giants lost a heart-rending game to the Phillies this afternoon by a score of 3 to 2, leaving their chances of winning the National League pennant on a very slender thread. If they should finally lose out the man who will have killed their chances is Covaleski, the Polish left-hander recently imported from Lancaster, Pa. This newcomer in the league has beaten the Giants three games this week.

After making a beautiful start, Mathewson was rapped for two three base hits and a single in the fifth inning, and this gave them a lead which could not be overcome, though they had to make another to win.

In the last half of the ninth it looked as if the Giants had started one of the rallies for which they are famed, but it quickly petered out, and the game was gone. In this inning Herzog led off with a hit and scored on McCormick's three base smash to the fence. The New York crowd went wild over this opportunity. It looked like a sure victory with a man on third and none out.

Doolin, Seymour and Devlin all failed in the crisis, and the game on which so much depended was lost. It was pitiful to see the expressions of disappointment on the faces of the New York players who have fought so hard against every obstacle, and they were manifold, to win the championship. They still have a chance, but it is very slim. Much will depend on the Pittsburg-Chicago game to-morrow. If Chicago wins the Giants have a chance. If the Cubs fail the aspirations of the Giants are doomed unless the Board of Directors of the National League award them the protested game.

The Giant manager had intended leaving immediately after the game in an automobile for New York, but he received a telegram from President Brush that he was wanted in New York immediately, as Mr. Brush was preparing to start for Cincinnati to have the tie game decision taken up by the Board of Directors of the League. So he decided to take a fast train.

They meet in Redland Monday. McGraw had a few things to say about Pulliam's decision, which cannot be given verbatim over the wire. Anybody wanting to get the exact words can have same by personal application to those who happened to overhear the discussion.

The New York players have quit fizzling on that tie game affair, but have made up their minds to go out and win anyway. They figure that they can win enough games on the diamond to offset that one won by Chicago the morning following the game.

An interesting point has arisen in regard to Pulliam's final decision, which may again upset the League. Supposing that New York and Chicago finish in the lead and are tied, then that game will have to be played off to settle the championship. If that was necessary it would delay the playing of the world's series and a special arrangement would have to be made so as to avoid the clause in the constitution, which says the season this year shall end on Oct. 7.

First Inning.

Tenney opened up with a two-bagger to left and went to third on Herzog's sacrifice, Doolin to Bransfield. McCormick was right on the job with a hot single to right and Tenney scored. Doolin forced out McCormick on a slow grounder, Doolin to Knabe, and Seymour forced out Doolin, Knabe to Doolin. ONE RUN.

Grant went out on an easy grounder to Tenney unassisted. Knabe drove a clean single into left, and advanced to second as Bridwell tossed out Titus. Herzog made a spectacular stop back of second and threw out Magee. NO RUNS.

Second Inning.

Devlin struck out. Bresnahan flied to Osborne. Covaleski threw out Bridwell. NO RUNS.

Doolin caught Bransfield's high fly to left Herzog tossed out Osborne. Doolin struck out. But Bresnahan dropped the last one and had to throw him out at first. NO RUNS.

Third Inning.

Matty shot a line drive straight to Titus's hands. And Tenney flied out to Magee. Herzog drove a single into centre, but was caught napping and thrown out, Covaleski to Bransfield to Doolin. NO RUNS.

Doolin singled past short and went to second on Covaleski's sacrifice, Bresnahan to Tenney. Bridwell scooped up Grant's grounder and tossed it to Devlin, who touched out Doolin. Knabe forced out Grant, Devlin to Herzog. NO RUNS.

Fourth Inning.

McCormick was thrown out by Covaleski. Doolin struck out. Seymour flied to Doolin. NO RUNS.

Herzog made a great play in throwing out Titus. Magee flied to Seymour, and Bransfield died the same way. NO RUNS.

Osborne led off with a long triple to left and scored on Doolin's long fly to McCormick. Doolin ripped off another three-bagger to the club-house. Covaleski lined a single into centre and Doolin scored. Matty got Grant's grounder, but in throwing to first hit the runner and he was safe. Covaleski started to third on the play but was thrown out. Tenney to Devlin. Grant was out stealing second. Bresnahan to Herzog. TWO RUNS.

Sixth Inning.

Mathewson struck out. Tenney flied to Knabe. Herzog walked, but was caught off first, Covaleski to Bransfield. NO RUNS.

Knabe smashed a double into left and went to third as Titus beat out a bunt. Magee flied to McCormick and Knabe scored. Titus was caught off first, Matty to Tenney. Devlin threw out Bransfield. ONE RUN.

Seventh Inning.

McCormick lined out to Bransfield and Covaleski threw out Doolin. Seymour slapped a long drive to the right field fence for two bases, but Devlin flied out to Magee. NO RUNS.

Herzog again covered himself with glory in throwing out Osborne. Doolin flied to Seymour, and Doolin was out the same way. NO RUNS.

Eighth Inning.

Bresnahan was thrown out by Knabe. Bridwell walked. Barry batted for Mathewson, and forced out Bridwell on a grounder, Doolin to Knabe. Tenney popped a foul to Grant. NO RUNS.

Wiltse pitching for New York. Covaleski fouled to Tenney. Grant popped out to Bresnahan. Doolin made a great catch of Knabe's fly to left. NO RUNS.

Ninth Inning.

Herzog singled to centre, took second on Osborne's fumble and scored as McCormick smashed a long triple to the right field fence. Doolin flied to Osborne, but there was no advance. Knabe got Seymour's grounder and McCormick was run down, Knabe to Doolin to Grant to Doolin. Seymour went to second on the play. Devlin struck out. ONE RUN.
