READING MATTER ON EVERY PAGE

Weekly Advertisements.

Those who desire to have advertisements inserted in the Weekly Empire should hand them in by Saturday morning, at the latest.

☞Our advertising patrons will perceive that, by our arrangement of reading matter, their advertisements will be always new—a very important matter to them.

☞See 4th page for Telegraph Reports.

Y. M. C. A.—There will be a regular meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association at Wesley Chapel this evening at 7½ o'clock.—A full attendance of the members is requested, as business of importance will be transacted.

A. T. Barrett, Rec. Sec'y.

The Mails.—Business men and citizens generally will please see our correct Table of the Time of closing the Mails at the Dayton Post Office.

General Change of Time.—Our readers are referred to the advertisements of the various Roads diverging from this point, and to the "Time Table," which we have prepared with great care, in another column. A general change of time is made to-day, and our Time Table will be found concise and correct.

Matt. Peel's Minstrels.—This unsurpassed Ethiopean Troupe will open a short season at Huston Hall this evening, when they will give one of their irresistibly funny and severely chaste entertainments to all who really desire to see and hear something refreshing. The Peel's Campbell Minstrels will show the people this evening that they have not been told the half about the excellence of their entertainments. Go early and get good seats.

Gymnastics.—On to morrow evening, the German Turners of this city, give a Gymnastic exhibition at the Dayton Gymnasium. They will be assisted, we learn, by Prof. Roemler; and the occasion will be a pleasant one, and we hope to see the Room filled to its utmost capacity.

The Entertainment Saturday Night.—The very superior musical and dramatic entertainment given by Mrs. C. Henri and Troupe, at Beckes Hall on Saturday evening last was, we are sorry to say, but poorly attended. This was owing, doubtless, to the very disagreeable and rainy weather. Those who failed being present certainly missed a rare neat and classical treat; and we hope that it will be repeated that our citizens may have the privilege of seeing and hearing this truly talented lady artist.

The absence of music on Saturday evening was another matter to be regretted. Mr. Henri informs us that he had procured a piano, and had made positive arrangements with Dr. Unger to accompany the musical portion of the entertainment, but the gentleman very strangely failed to come up to the mark, thereby annoying Mrs. Henri in a very unpardonable manner. But notwithstanding all this, she acquited herself charmingly.

Mr. Williams is an excellent reader and actor, and Funny Henri as a pantomimist, athlete and dancer has few equals. The audience was delighted with the entertainment, and the general desire was that it would be repeated; which we hope will be done when the weather is more favorable.

Since writing the above Mr. Henri informed us that entertainments will be given on Friday and Saturday evenings of this week, at Beckel's Hall; the first to be the occasion of a Benefit to the talented and accomplished lady actress and songtress, Mrs. C. Henri, and the second evening will be for the Benefit of "Funny Henri"—unrivalled pantominist and delineator of the funny genus, homo. On these occasions the best musical talent will be obtained and every effort made to please the people. Remember Friday and Saturday evenings of this week.

Get out of the "Way."—Our readers will remember the "Balloon Mania" which raged here last Summer, gotten up by a soi-disant Professor yclped Wilson, and a valuable side arrangement "known of all men" as Miss Way. This couple figured extensively in this place and Springfield, and were unfortunate in both places, having to leave with more dispatch than was pleasant. Since then we have seen occasional notices, we presume more truthful than complimentary, of this pair, as they were floating towards a southern clime. The Delta mentions their advent in New Orleans, and says that Miss Way in company with one professor Wilson, will make a grand balloon ascension from Congo Square, New Orleans, intending to cross Lake Ponchartrain, if the wind serves. Previous to the ascension, she will take part in a public debate with a Kentucky lawyer, on "Woman's Rights." Miss Way certainly exhibits great versatility of talent, and while her oral arguments will undoubtedly have much weight with the audience, it is to be feared that she will make Prof. Wilson wait too long, or that her own weight will be too great for the balloon to get a way. Should the wind fail, and the party lose their Way, the waters of the Lake closing over the concern, it could be said with propriety that a very great nuisance had been disposed of.

☞On Saturday afternoon, an overburdened scaffolding, at the Phillips building, now in course of erection on Main, between 2d and 3d streets, fell suddenly, precipitating several workmen and a large quantity of brick into the cellar below. It was almost a miracle that the men escaped with only a few bruises.—The affair created quite an excitment in the neighborhood for a short time, as the report went out that several men were buried beneath the brick and rubbish.

Season Opened!—To-morrow F. J. Welty, N. E. corner of Main and 4th streets will open his Saloon for the Summer Season. All those who wish Ice Cream, Orange Ice, and other luxuries can be accommodated. He will be open on and after tomorrow, during the season.

☞It has been ascertained that in this vicinity, few, if any, fruit buds have been injured by the frost. Very general examination has been made, and we have had the results reported to us daily. The trees in this vicinity are very heavily laden with fruit blossoms, and it is evident that all these cannot arrive at maturity; a great many must fall off, in order to allow the trees to perfect the fruit which will remain. But this falling off will be caused by nature's inability to sustain so great a draw upon her resources. Up to this time the frost has had nothing to do with blighting the fruit buds; for examine them where you may, they are nearly all green and growing, which could not be the case had the frost killed them. The buds, then, will remain upon the trees, in all probability, until nature is unable to afford them all nutrition, when the more feeble will drop off. After this throwing off, the probability is that we will have a larger fruit crop than we have had for several years past. Let us, in the mean time, "watch and pray."

Killed By Lightning.—During the violent thunder storm on Saturday evening last, a Mrs. Haustine, who resided on Wayne st., south of the Ditch, was killed by lightning. It seems that she had gone to the cow stable, in the rear of the lot, for the purpose of getting something she wished to use at the house; and when on her return, and about midway between the stable and the house, she was struck by lightning and instantly killed. Her clothes were set on fire at the time; and when discovered, a minute or two after, her body was badly burned. It is supposed that the lightning was attracted by a steel vessel she was carrying in her hand at the moment of the dreadful causuality. The house was not at all injured in the shock, but the family were almost blinded, and were considerably shocked by the electric discharge.—The unfortunate woman was thus suddenly seperated from a husband and young child, while she was in the prime of life.

Discharged.—It will be remembered by our readers that in last November Henry Mack, a young man engaged in butchering in this place was arrested by the authorities in Greene county, on a charge of forgery. He was admitted to bail, and has since attended to his customary business here. Last week the Grand Jury of Greene county failed to find a bill against Mr. Mack, and he was discharged from custody by the authorities, with the very decided belief, after every possible light was given the case, that his arrest on the charge was most unjust. Mr. Mack conducted himself in a commendable manner during the pendency of the annoying and unjust charge against his character, and his exhoneration will be received with delight by a large circle of friends.

Fine Jewelry—Assignee's Sale.—Those who desire to obtain, at low prices, the best quality of Jewelry, are referred to the advertisement of "Assignee's Sale of Fine and Rare Gold Jewelry," in another column. We called in to see the stock, and must say that to our economical eyes the effect was dazzling! It is by far the largest and finest display ever before offered here at public auction, and as the jewelry will be sold, no matter what it brings, rare bargains will be doubtless obtained by those who would be pleased to obtain jewelry, at cheap cost. The sales commence to day, in the room in the Phillips House, next door to Dietrich's Drug Store, and will continue for a few days only. Improve the opportunity—you may not again have so good a chance to get a supply of fine jewelry goods at merely nominal prices. Wall. Bennett, the salesman, will see that the ladies receive proper accommodations at the room. We need hardly assure our lady readers that he will see that good order is preserved in the saleroom.

The Reynold's Friction Bolt.—We see the Patent for this valuable invention has been issued. It has given great satisfaction here, for the past six months, in many of our most complete Mills, such as the Commercial, Oceola, Oregon and Ohio. We learn that its leading advantages are that it saves from 3 to 10 lbs. of flour, per barrel; requires no additional room, or power; and never injures, while it often improves it by giving it additional color and flavor.

Night Thieving.—Last evening some thieves entered the cellar of Mr. Meals, on 1st street, and stole therefrom a valuable copper boiler.—"On the same, by the same," (as the marriage notices have it,) the cellar of Mr. Boone on 1st street, was also entered, and a quantity of canned fruit was stolen. We have heard rumors of several other small fry depredations committed since last Saturday; all going to show that prowlers are on the lookout for "snaps."

☞The Cincinnati Commercial has been enlarged, a column having been added to each page, and the columns lengthened. We are pleased to see our city cotemporary following suite to our lead, and closely following our language in speaking of the change, and proposing to go back to the old size just as soon as the rush of adv's abates. We are "sum."

Furniture Sale.—Christopher & Huber will sell a large stock of splendid furniture at the Rooms on Main Street 2d door above Second street, west side, an next Thursday. The ware will be sold without reserve, and will afford an excellent opportunity to those who desire bargains in that line. See the advertisement.

Prime Fresh Beef.—Stover & Pflaum, at the Patent Preservatory, in the Eastern Market House, keep the nicest and best fresh beef, and other meats, in town. They also keep an assortment of fine fruits. Give them a call.

☞In New York city Ohio butter is quoted at 20@25 cents per pound, while in this city the most venerable qualities are in demand at 30@40 cents.

Editor Empire:—It was the custom with the ancient Hebrews, when any person appeared among them professing to have the spirit of prophecy, to have all his sayings written down by the scribes. The document was then placed by the High Priest on the apochraphul side of the Tabernacle, and there remained until the sayings were all, or whatever part thereof was verified, was recorded by the scribes into the Great Book of the Law, and placed on the other side of the Tabernacle. Now then, as one of the ancients of our people is understood to have made a celebrated declaration, not long since, viz: "That two of the City Dads would leave that somewhat celebrated form, the Council,—one from choice, the other from necessity;" whether the aforesaid declaration was made in the spirit of prophecy, or not matters but little, as the as saying has been thus verified. It is to be hoped, then, that our modern scribes, will write down the saying, together with the addition, in the Great Book of the Law, to be read by all the people, for generations to come. Yours,

JONAS.

LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Pub: 22.

AN ACT to incorporate the Washington National Monument Society.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled, That, for the purpose of completing the erection, now in progress of "a great national monument to the memory of Washington at the seat of the federal government," Winfield Scott, Walter Jones, John J. Abert, James Kearney, Thomas Carberry, Peter Force, William A. Bradley, Philip R. Fendall, Walter Lenox, Mathew F. Maury, and Thomas Blagden, (being the survivors of the persons mentioned in a certain grant bearing date on the 12th day of April in the year one thousand eight hundred and forty eight, by James K. Polk then President of the said United States, in virtue of a joint resolution of Congress, approved on the thirty-first day of January in the same year, of an authority to erect a monument to the memory of George Washington, on reservation numbered three in the said city of Washington) and, also, Jonathan B. H. Smith, William W. Seaton, Elisha Whittelsey, Benjamin Ogle Tayloe, Thomas H. Crawford, William W. Corcoran, and John Carroll Brent, and their successors to be elected in the manner hereinafter directed, shall be, and are hereby, created a corporation and body politic, by the name and style of "The Washington National Monument Society.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That all the property and all and singular the rights and privileges thereto in the aforesaid grant, shall be, and the same hereby are, vested in, and confirmed to, the corporation and body politic hereinbefore created; and that any and all property and right of property of any and every kind and description whatsoever, whether in possession or reversion or in expectancy, which may at any time before the passing of this act have been acquired by the voluntary association heretofore known by the name of the Washington National Monument Society, or which may hereafter be acquired by the corporation and body politic hereinbefore created, shall be, and the same hereby are, vested in, and confirmed to, the corporation and body politic hereinbefore created; and that the said —— corporation and body politic may apply to its uses, and for the purpose of completing the erection of the monument aforesaid, according to such by-laws, rules and regulations as it may, from time to time, hereafter, make and ordain, and any and all property of any and every kind, and description whatsoever, which is now appertaining to said monument, or which the corporation and body politic hereby created may hereafter acquire, by purchase, gift, or other lawful means.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be competent for the persons hereinbefore named and described as constituting the corporation and body politic hereby created, and their successors, to remove, by a vote of four-fifths of the said persons, any of their number; and the person so named shall no longer be a member of said corporation and body politic, nor have any authority therein: Provided, That for any other act within the legitimate objects of this corporation a quorum of five shall be sufficient for the transaction of business: Provided, That notice of all meetings which may not be provided for in the by-laws and ordinances of the corporation shall be given to all members thereof residing within the District of Columbia.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That when any vacancy shall happen in the said corporation and body politic, from death or resignation, or otherwise, the remaining members thereof shall elect and appoint a successor to fill the same, within ten days after the happening of such vacancy; and that on failure to fill the same within thirty days, it shall be the duty of the attorney of the United States for the District of Columbia to proceed against the said corporation and body politic, by a writ of scire facias, for a forfeiture of the charter hereby granted before the Circuit Court of the District of Columbia and the adjudication of that court thereon shall be conclusive. And should this charter be so adjudged forfeited, the monument and other improvements and property held under the same shall be placed by the President of the United States under the care and custody of the Commissioner of Public Buildings, or such other officer of the United States as he may designate or appoint for the time being.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That the said corporation and body politic, hereinbefore created shall, by the name and style of the "Washington National Monument Society," have perpetual succession, shall be capable to sue or to be sued, to plead or to be impleaded in any court of law or equity in the United States; may have and use a common seal, and the same may destroy, alter, and renew at pleasure, and shall have power to purchase, take, receive, and enjoy, to them and their successors, any and all property of any kind and description whatsoever, for the purpose of completing the erection of said monument; to dispose of the same as they shall deem most conducive to the object of completing the erection, now in progress, of the monument aforesaid; to elect, as soon after the passage of this act as may be convenient, such officers as they may deem proper, and to make and ordain such constitution, by-laws, ordinances, and regulations consonant to the objects of this charter as they may deem expedient and proper, and which shall not be repugnant to the constitution and laws of the United States; and to repeal, alter, and amend the same: Provided, always, That the President of the United States, for the time being, shall be ex officio president; and the governors for the time being of the several States of the United States shall be respectively ex officio vice presidents of the said society, corporation and body politic, and that all meetings thereof shall be held and all records and papers thereof kept at the city of Washington.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That this act may at any time be altered, amended or repealed by the Congress of the United States.

Sec. 7. And be it further enacted, That all laws, acts, or resolutions, or any part of any law, act or resolution, inconsistent with this act, shall be, and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 8. And be it further enacted, That this act shall be in force from and after the passage thereof.

Sec. 9. And be it further enacted, That nothing in this act shall be so construed as to authorize this said corporation to issue any note, token, device, scrip, or other evidence of debt to be used as a currency.

Sec. 10. And be it further enacted, That each of the corporators in the said corporation shall be held liable, in his individual capacity, for all the debts and liabilities of said corporation, however contracted or incurred, to be recovered by suit, as other debts and liabilities, before any court of competent jurisdiction. Provided, however, That nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to render said corporators in said corporation individually liable for any debt or liability contracted in the name or behalf of, the Washington National Monument Society at any time prior to the twentieth day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifty eight.

Approved 26 February 1859.

Fighting over a Grave.—A fight occured on Sunday, at the city Cemetery, beteen the keeper of the yard, Jacob Bellinger, and an assistant, Thos. Langford, who was digging a grave, which resulted in the former being shot by Langford with a pistol containing buckshot. The wounds are not considered dangerous, and the shooting party was admitted to bail yesterday for his appearance at court.—Vicksburg Southron.

To the Public.

ON our first Catalogues we have received recommendations which we had as used to other varieties in the fruit tree business. We have, by labor, and with much exertion, secured a reputation for our Fruit Trees. All Catalogues with the name of "Jacob Hikes & Son" upon them, with the recommendations of Job, Haines, H. Shurtz, Babbitt and Herman, Chas. G. Swain and W. McKinney attached, are spurious.

We forewarn all persons from buying Fruit Trees from sellers having such catalogues, supposing the trees to be from our nursery, as they are imposing on our reputation, and using our names, as as others, without our knowledge or consent.
