JOHN R. MURPHY.

The new proprietor of the Clementine Bath-House, one of the largest, handsomest and most complete at Mt. Clemens, is from Allegheny (Pittsburg), Pa.; but since making a purchase of this valuable property he has spent considerable time here and at his summer cottage, Allegheny Villa, at the mouth of the Clinton River, on Lake St. Clair, seven miles from this city. We make the following extracts from a handsome volume entitled, "Allegheny Police Department," which was published while Mr. Murphy was Chief of Police of that city.

"Director of Public Safety, John R. Murphy, has risen to the exalted position he now holds, that of having in charge the safety, lives, property and health of the residents of his native city, from that of a poor boy, and that he has for the past ten years held the office proves that he has performed his duties in a manner entirely satisfactory to the law-abiding citizens of Allegheny, all of whom give him credit for doing his duty in a faithful and satisfactory manner.

"Director Murphy was born in the third ward, Allegheny, Aug. 22, 1850. He attended school until he was twelve years old. His first employment was in a tobacco factory, and during the exciting times of the Civil War he sold newspapers. At the close of the war Mr. Murphy, then a stripling of a boy, went to work for a Mr. Davis, a well-known gardener, and while working in this capacity he became a familiar figure about the market house, to which he doubtless owed his appointment, in 1856, to the position of Market Constable. Here for eight years he so ably performed his duties as a police officer, and so efficient had he become in his knowledge of police matters, that when James G. Wyman was elected to the office of Mayor of Allegheny, in 1864, in casting about for a suitable man for the office of Chief of Police, he decided upon John R. Murphy as the right man for the place. Mr. Murphy not only assumed the duties of Chief, but during the three years of Wyman's administration he so ably performed the duties that the foundation was laid for the excellent department of today. He improved upon the police telegraph, and established and put in operation the patrol wagons in use today.

"Upon the retirement of Mayor Wyman, Mr. Murphy was placed on the detective force by Mayor Pearson, where he distinguished himself by running to earth many noted criminals. When Wyman was re-elected in 1890 he was restored to his former office of Chief of Police. At this time the mode of city government was changed, and, as the new charter provided, heads of departments were placed in charge of municipal affairs, and in 1891 Mr. Murphy was elected by Council the first Director of the Department of Public Safety, which includes the bureaus of police, fire, health, charity, electricity and building inspection. Under his supervision and direction the bureaus of his department have been brought to a state of efficiency which is not excelled by any other city in the country.

In the recent election of Nov. 8, 1904, he was elected upon the Republican ticket a Representative to the State Legislature.

MT. CLEMENS AND ITS MINERAL WATERS

The mineral waters of Mt. Clemens have established their reputation upon a firm and lasting foundation. Their medicinal virtues, and the numerous and wonderful cures effected by their judicious use, are marvelous and almost beyond comparison.

They are the strongest mineral waters in use, and we call attention to and advise a careful study of the analyses published in connection with the notices of the different bath houses.

These mineral waters are secured from deep wells, though they are frequently referred to as springs. They range in depth from 800 to 1,300 feet, and the deeper the well, the stronger is the mineral water obtained; but the increased strength is principally in sodium (common salt).

The first well was drilled in 1865 by a company organized for the purpose of prospecting for oil. It is said that oil and gas experts consider that the local indications are excellent for both of these illuminating properties and predict that each will be found when sufficient depth has been reached. Gas in considerable quantities is found in all of the deep wells.

The Original Company drilled nearly 1,300 feet and then abandoned the hope of securing oil (probably because of an insufficient capital to continue longer); however, they ascertained that the water in their deep well was rich in salt, and after considerable delay a new company was organized and commenced the manufacture of salt in large quantities.

But they were never able to make it a commercial success, because of the large quantities of other minerals it contained, its dark color and the poor quality of the salt manufactured.

Very fortunately, the medicinal virtues of this valuable mineral water were discovered while the manufacture of salt was in progress.

Several well-known citizens took thermal salt baths in the salt vats and improvised bath tubs, and very remarkable cures were effected in cases of eczema, neuralgia and rheumatism.

These cures were so perfect and the citizens cured so well known, that all the people who were familiar with the facts became firm believers in the curative qualities of these mineral waters and the thermal sulpho-saline baths.

Little progress was made until a regular bath house was erected and hotel accommodations provided. These were completed in 1873, the Original Bath House and the Avery Hotel being the first to supply the demand for baths, board and lodging for invalid visitors; and this date is really the starting-point of Mt. Clemens as a health resort. These were built by Dr. Henry Taylor, who was assisted by local capitalists, who desired to give these waters a fair trial. Its reputation, growth and popularity have increased annually.
The patronage of the first bath house erected was small for the first year, but the speedy cures of rheumatism were so remarkable that all visitors who were cured, or witnessed the cures in others, upon returning to their homes sang the praises of Mt. Clemens and its mineral baths so long and so loud that their echoes reached all parts of our country, and then commenced a pilgrimage of invalids from nearly every State, and in such numbers that the hotels and boarding houses of that early day were insufficient for their comfortable accommodation.

It is no wonder that these sulpho-saline waters gained such a worldwide reputation; when we consider that invalids who had suffered for months, in some cases for years, and had come here on cots or crutches, were walking without assistance in a few days, what else could be expected?

Those suffering with rheumatic pains, so severe that a good sleep was impossible, are enabled to sleep all night after one or two baths, and thus obtain the rest they had been denied for weeks. This result the writer has personally known to have been obtained from a single bath. It seems almost miraculous and requires ocular evidence to be credited, but its truthfulness can be verified by any one who will spend a few days at this resort and will be observing. It is not claimed that all cases are thus speedily relieved, but an improvement can reasonably be expected after a few baths, and a cure effected in time.

Mt. Clemens is one of the most beautiful cities in Michigan, a State noted for having a large number that properly come under this class. Its lovely shaded streets, lined with elegant residences of prosperous citizens and the cozy cottage houses of the working people, all combine to make the city a desirable place of residence and an exceedingly pleasant place for the general traveler to visit.

The business of the city as a mercantile center is somewhat retarded by its close proximity to the city of Detroit, a very beautiful place, and one of the most prosperous and enterprising of its size in the United States.
However, all kinds of trade are represented in the retail line, and well-assorted stocks of goods are to be found in the handsome and commodious storerooms of Mt. Clemens, where they are sold at reasonable prices, which competition with the merchants of its neighboring city necessitates.

The city is growing and is very prosperous, and while its manufacturing interests are increasing, its main reliance will always be upon the bathing and hotel business, because Mt. Clemens is the greatest health resort in the Northern States, and may become the most important in the Union. Its future growth and prosperity very largely depend upon the enterprise of its own citizens.

The city has waterworks, gas and electric lights, electric street cars on the principal streets, which connect with all trains, and pass all the principal hotels, boarding houses and bath houses. The electric car line to the Lake Side via Crocker Boulevard has been built and is doing an excellent business. Lake Side Inn and other attractions draw great crowds daily. The Rapid Railway has also completed its lines to Toledo, Ohio, and is now one of the longest and best electric lines in the United States, connecting Mt. Clemens and Detroit, and Detroit and Lake Shore and Mt. Clemens, and Detroit and Port Huron via Mt. Clemens. Half-hour service.

All-the-Year-Round Resort

Mt. Clemens has long been looked upon as a summer resort only, but of late years the improvements made in the best hotels and bathing houses by steam heating, etc., have made the houses so comfortable that baths are given in the coldest weather, and with proper and prudent precaution on the part of bathers, without the least danger of taking cold. The degree of heat is equalized all over these houses, and even in the passageways connecting the hotels with the bath houses. Thus the baths are given in the most severe and disagreeable weather as well as in the most pleasant season of the year.

It is claimed by many that cures are more readily obtained in winter than at any other season, because the invalids make a business of getting well, remain indoors, take better care of themselves and bathe regularly. In summer they fish, sail on the river and lake, and otherwise expose themselves, and frequently take cold, and thus retard improvement. Therefore, many cases of rheumatism are cured in winter in a short time that possibly would not be cured at all if the invalid did not do his part toward recovery.

BATHING

The baths at Mt. Clemens are administered with more care and attention than at any bathing place we know of. Engagements are made at the office of the bath house for the exact time the invalid desires to bathe, or can make an appointment. First to come makes choice of time and attendants, and only one person is admitted into the bathing department for any attendant at the same time. The time allowed for each bath is one-half hour. Of course, occasionally a longer bath is given, but usually they average about that length of time; frequently a few minutes less. Most of the time the invalid is in the bath tub. he is being worked upon by the attendant, especially those afflicted with rheumatism, paralysis and kindred troubles. Fifteen minutes is the average time occupied in the bath tub, and after the bath, a thorough drying and rubbing is administered, after which sufficient time is spent in the cooling room to reduce the heat of the body to its normal condition, as nearly as possible, before the invalid is allowed to venture out of doors. All danger of taking cold is guarded against by this important precaution. No invalid should take a hot bath in these mineral waters without first consulting a resident physician. Medical and physical examination of the invalid before bathing, unless their condition is well known, is imperative. No two cases are exactly alike, and therefore the baths and medical treatment should vary accordingly, under competent medical supervision. These mineral waters are very potent for good if properly and intelligently applied, but dangerous when used recklessly.

MONTHLY EXPENSES:

- Board, per month: $20.00 to $100.00
- Baths (15 to 30): 7.50 to 15.00
- Attendant (according to liberality of bather, regular fee 25c per bath): 3.75 to 15.00

HOW TO REACH MT. CLEMENS

As Mt. Clemens is twenty-two miles from Detroit, Mich., and is reached by steam only by the Grand Trunk Railway, the reader can easily see, by consulting a railroad map, how he can best reach it, via Detroit, from his own home. We can almost say that any railroad or steamboat line that will lead you to Detroit will take you to Mt. Clemens, though transfer at Detroit is necessary on all lines excepting the Grand Trunk. But when you reach Detroit you are nearly there, and any of the five daily passenger trains will land you at Mt. Clemens in 40 or 50 minutes.

The Rapid Railway and the Lake Shore from Detroit are two of the best electric roads in the United States, and make regular trips every half hour. Fare, 25 cents. Time, 1:00 to 1:30.

The Clementine Bath House
THE CLEMENTINE BATH HOUSE

This is one of the most elegant bath houses in the United States, and is deservedly popular and successful. Its appointments are first-class and modern. It is kept scrupulously neat and clean and always up-to-date, and its business has increased annually, and during the last busy season its capacity was taxed to almost its full limit.

This splendid property has been purchased by Mr. John R. Murphy, of Allegheny, Pa., who for over eight years was chief of police and director of public safety of that, his native city. He has organized a stock company, Clementine Bath Co., of which he is president.

The Clementine deserves its reputation, and its patrons are of the very best class of visitors and citizens.

Every kind of bath given in this city is given at the Clementine, including tub, douche, spray and vapor.

Connected with each bath room is a dressing and cooling room, provided with a lounge or couch, upon which a nap or rest may be had after the bath. The mineral water supply is obtained from a well drilled especially for this bath house, and is situated on an adjacent lot, entirely separate, where are located the engines, boilers, pumps and water-tanks, and the only connection is by pipes, which convey the mineral water and the steam heat used.

The building is not only handsome in its construction, but is commodious and conveniently arranged.

The front part of the building is two stories high, with lofty ceilings. On the ground floor is a large office, with its handsome tile floor and beautiful finish of natural oak. On the left of the office are the ladies' parlor and cooling rooms. The former is carpeted and furnished equal to the average private parlors. On the right are gentlemen's parlors, reading and cooling rooms; neatly finished, in keeping with the office and rooms, entirely of oak.

The second floor is divided into sleeping rooms and a handsome reading and writing room for the pleasure and convenience of the patrons of the Clementine. The sleeping rooms are rented to those whose illness requires them to be handy to their bath, and others who prefer them separate from a hotel. The building is surrounded on two fronts with a beautiful broad veranda, well shaded by natural forest trees of mature growth.

In addition, the Clementine enjoys a close proximity to the Fenton, Sherman House and the Eastman, being separated only by a doorway from the former, and a narrow street from the two latter.

The Clementine is also convenient to several smaller hotels and boarding houses and is extensively patronized by their boarders. They are the Arlington, the King House, the Woodbine, the Clementine, the Capron, the Chase Cottage, the Tennessee, the Walnut and others.

The attendants, both male and female, are those who have had long experience, and they are always kind and obliging to their invalid patrons. They prepare the bath, attend to the wants of the bathers, massage and manipulate the patient while in the bath, and rub and dry them after the bath; for these services the attendant's fee is 25 cents. The tickets for mineral baths are 50 cents; vapor, 75 cents; foot-bath, 25 cents; fresh-water bath, 25 cents. These tickets are secured at the office, before taking the bath, of a young lady, Miss Nellie D. Metler, who has been in charge of the office of this bath house since it first opened its doors to the public.

Mr. Coursin, the builder and former owner, was fortunate in the selection of the location for the Clementine, and strangers in Mt. Clemens cannot but appreciate the beautiful scene that greets the eye from the bath house. Cass avenue, upon which the Clementine fronts, is a restful picture in summer time. Hundreds of tall shade trees
The Office of the Clementine Bath House
Grains line the avenue and entwine their branches in magnificent arches of nature’s green above the driveway. The Clementine is on the line of the electric railway leading from the Grand Trunk Railway, is within one block of the city hall and the business center of Mt. Clemens and the Rapid and Lake Side Electric lines to Detroit and Port Huron.

TESTIMONIALS

Aug. 15, 1905.

Dear Sir: After taking a course of baths at the Clementine Bath House for catarrh of the stomach and throat, I have been entirely cured of both. For six months before I went to Mt. Clemens I could get no relief from my doctors, and lived on bread and milk. I can now eat three meals a day.

A. E. McDonald, Wellsville, Ohio.

Having suffered greatly with inflammatory rheumatism from June 20 to August 8, 1903, I came to Mt. Clemens so crippled I was obliged to resort to wheel chairs to convey me to and from the bath house. I began taking baths at the Clementine, where I found everything new, neat and the attendants the best. After the first week I was entirely relieved of all rheumatic trouble. From my own experience, I have only the highest words of praise for the Clementine Bath House and the work it is doing.

J. A. Wann, Attorney, Canton, Ohio.

June 2, 1905.

Manager Clementine Bath Co.

Dear Sir: Please permit me to tell you in a few words what the baths have done for me, and what I have seen them do for others. When I came to Mt. Clemens about ten weeks ago, every joint from my toes to my head was sore and stiff, and I could hardly expect to be cured in so short a time, as my case had been standing for over ten years. My toes on both feet had been stiff for five years, and during the ten years that I suffered I wasn’t one minute, night or day, without pain, and I had taken so much medicine that my stomach was ruined; couldn’t eat or sleep. I felt relief after the first bath, and continued to improve, every day gaining a little, till now I feel that I am cured; haven’t got a pain nor ache; I eat well and sleep well and have gained seventy-one pounds.

I have seen men come here on cots, and to my great surprise saw them walking without the aid of a cane in less than two weeks. I have seen in the closets of the different hotels hundreds of crutches and canes that have been left behind by those who were cured. I can’t express my feelings sufficiently to thank you and your attendants for the many kindnesses I received at your hands, but wish you Godspeed, and any one I see suffering from that dreadful pain, I will try to induce to come to Mt. Clemens at once.

After being perfectly helpless for eight weeks with rheumatism, I was brought to Mt. Clemens and cured in twenty baths.

I have been suffering from rheumatism for the past ten years, and find myself completely cured after having taken twenty-two baths at the Clementine.

I wish to express my thanks for the relief I have received at your place for an injury to my back, the result of a runaway; the swelling and tenderness being relieved by four baths.

WM. A. SMITH, M. D., Newfield, N. Y.

Geo. Bowen, Rome, Oneida Co., N. Y., testifies that he was troubled with eczema for fifteen years, and after taking seventeen baths at the Clementine he was greatly benefited and believes cured of the affliction.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 21, 1905.

Clementine Bath Co.

Well, Squire Daugherty and I arrived in Pittsburg June 5, O. K. I am feeling better every day. Every one remarks how well I look. No wonder, after being under the doctor’s care for eight weeks with rheumatism, broken down in spirit, health and constitution, I came to your place May 16, 1905, could hardly walk, and only weighed 128 pounds. After taking a course of twenty-one baths I made a gain of twenty pounds—about a pound a day. I can safely say that for rheumatism or a run-down constitution, anyone who takes a course of baths and takes care of himself, is sure to be benefited. A word to the wise is sufficient: go to Mt. Clemens.

Mt. Clemens, April 17, 1905.

After taking eleven baths for rheumatism and stomach trouble, I am leaving feeling as good as I ever felt in my life. And for the benefits I received from my short stay, I am ever thankful.

I have taken sixteen baths at the Clementine Bath House, and it has cured the worst case of intermittent neuralgia on record, and I cheerfully recommend any one troubled with it to come here and get cured.

I came to your city May 5, perfectly helpless, suffering from rheumatism, being wheeled to the Clementine in an invalid chair. I received relief from my first bath, and now, after taking eleven, I am able to return to my home.

This is to certify that I have had the rheumatism in my back, shoulders, neck and collar bone for some time. I came to Mt. Clemens and took baths at the Clementine for three weeks, and now find myself perfectly cured.

The Fountain Bath House
THE FOUNTAIN BATH HOUSE

This large establishment has recently made very important improvements, including solid porcelain tubs, tile and mosaic floors, marble wainscoting and partitions, making the interior look like an entirely new house. It is the second largest in the city, and one of the largest in the United States, having fifty bath rooms, four cooling rooms, ladies' and gentlemen's parlors, physicians' office, and a rotunda or general reception room over twenty feet wide, fifty-six feet long, and with a ceiling twenty-four feet high. In the construction of the Fountain, especial attention was given to ventilation, a very important item in a bath house. The Fountain Bath House also contains seventy private cooling rooms, which assures perfect privacy to bathers. Extra large rooms and bath tubs are provided for those so badly crippled and deformed that it would be difficult or impossible to bathe in an ordinary tub or be conveniently handled in a small bath room. All the various kinds of baths administered at this resort can be had at the Fountain. A gymnasium is provided for all patrons. An extensive steam laundry is also provided for the thorough washing of bath robes, etc. The mineral water supplying this bath house is obtained from one of the deepest wells in the city, and is situated just back of the bath house and under the tall tower to be seen in the engraving on the opposite page, but this building is entirely separate.

The price of baths is the same as at all the houses, being 50 cents for mineral water, 25 cents for mineral footbath, and 75 cents for mineral vapor. Fresh water bath, 25 cents. Attendant's fee, 25 cents extra. The Fountain Bath House is connected with the Clifton House, on same block, by an enclosed passageway, and also with the Fountain Hotel and the Crystal. The passageways are heated by steam, well lighted, and the return to the hotel after the bath can be made without exposure or danger of taking cold.

The Colonial Hotel—Dining Room
The Colonial Hotel—Ladies' Parlor
THE COLONIAL HOTEL

The Colonial is constructed and equipped on a scale of magnificence and completeness of detail especially pleasing to patronage of the better class. It is situated on the highest elevation in the city—thus affording a comprehensive view of the beautiful country round about.

The hotel is constructed of brick, stone, tile, cement, etc. It is, therefore, fireproof. Further, it is adapted for business at all seasons of the year.

The spacious grounds in front and rear of the hotel and the pretty country just across the Clinton River, are surroundings which invite the careworn guest to a pleasant recreation.

Among the pastimes most favored are boating, fishing, walks in the woods, wheeling, automobiling, tennis, court-golf, croquet, etc.

The Clinton River, Near the Colonial

There are many good boarding houses close by the bath house for those who prefer less pretentious accommodations than the Colonial offers.

Bath House

The entrance to the bath house is from the hotel lobby and but ten feet from the elevator.

The Colonial Bath is fitted in the most modern and substantial manner. The walls are of marble, the tubs of solid porcelain and the floors are of tile, which construction insures an absolutely sanitary condition.

All forms of baths are administered, and all sorts of electric batteries for the treatment of many diseases are much in evidence.

Dr. A. N. Shotwell's Cottage, Lake St. Clair
The Medea Hotel and Bath House
THE MEDEA HOTEL

The new Medea Hotel is the realization of a long-cherished hope of the Mt. Clemens Bath Co. It is designed to meet the demands of a large and exclusive class of visitors who desire a thoroughly modern and roomy house with an attractive central location. The constructive finishings of the interior of the structure accord throughout with its massive and picturesque exterior. The building faces Gratiot, as beautiful an avenue as any city in the land can boast. There are two entrances besides the one to the bath house off this street, one leading directly to the magnificent lobby, the other to the ladies' reception room. The lobby forms a veritable palace, with its pure white Italian wainscoting and floor of vitreous tiling of harmonious colors and pleasing designs. Opening off the lobby are the bathing departments, ladies' parlor, dining room, ordinary, reading and writing rooms, buffet, barber shop, a public and private office, elevator and stairways. Hence it will be seen that it is so planned that every convenience and utility admits of the fullest enjoyment on the part of guests.

The dining room and kitchen are without pillar or post, lacking nothing in the way of modern appointments. Fully 250 people can be served at one time in the dining room and ordinary without the least inconvenience.

The three upper stories of the hotel are reached from the office by a marble stairway of easy gradient and a hydraulic elevator.

On each floor are two extra wide halls, extending at right angles nearly 200 feet from a spacious foyer. Every one of the 150 guest rooms opening off these halls commands a pleasant outside view, besides possessing every utility that careful foresight could provide. The rooms are extremely large and commodious, every one in the house having steam heat, hot and cold running water, a white enamel stationery washstand, clothes closet, electric lights, and a long-distance telephone giving free service to guests throughout the hotel and bath house. Many of the rooms are en suite, with private bath and toilet, some with private toilet, while on each floor are two general lavatories, all equipped with a view of securing the very highest degree of beauty, comfort and sanitation. Guests may rest assured that the Medea will afford all the comforts and luxuries that a modern love of ease can suggest and the markets can afford.

The Medea Bath House

The justly celebrated Medea is one of the pioneers of Michigan mineral waters. It is strongly impregnated with salt and sulphur, standing first among the noted saline-sulphur springs of the world. In calcic and magnesic chlorides it is remarkably rich, rendering the Medea baths exceptionally valuable in the treatment of rheumatism and skin diseases.

The bath departments are fitted throughout with solid porcelain tubs of large size. The bath rooms are partitioned with white Italian marble and floored with vitreous tiling, thus affording the very highest degree of beauty and sanitation obtainable.

The bathing departments are separated from the general waiting rooms, parlors and cooling rooms by a transverse hall, and contain 150 bath rooms with a daily capacity of over 1,500 baths.

For each bath room there is a dressing and cooling room, where patients are afforded privacy and where an undisturbed and refreshing rest after bathing may be enjoyed.

The Medea baths are well patronized by the guests of smaller hotels and boarding houses adjacent, as well as by the guests of the Medea Hotel, but the capacity of this bathing establishment is sufficient to accommodate a number greater than has been required at any one time. In building the bath halls and bath rooms, which was several years previous to the erection of the hotel, the company looked forward to the great increase in the business of this great health resort.

Connected with the Medea Hotel, as well as with the bath house, is a flowing spring which supplies both with pure soft drinking water, an advantage of incalculable value to persons suffering from stomach, kidney or bladder troubles. When freely used in conjunction with the baths in the treatment of these diseases, prompt relief follows. The ill effects so frequently experienced through a change of drinking water can be avoided by the use of this slightly diuretic spring water.

Mr. Wm. J. Daley, the president of the company, will continue to have special charge of the bath house, and will give his personal attention to this branch of the business. His many years of experience in this particular line and his particular knowledge of the administration of Mt. Clemens mineral water will render his services of great assistance to patrons of the Medea baths.
Medea was a favorite goddess in mythical lore symbolizing the Dawn. Her virtues have been lauded by modern poets because of her mysterious power in restoring to rheumatic old Eson the bloom and activity of youth. She gave her name to the Medes, who in connection with the Persians have been handed down in history. She also gave her name with added luster to Mt. Clemens' famous bath house, where thousands of Esons are annually restored to health and youthful vigor.

Analysis of the Water

The waters of the Medea hold in solution a greater number of medicinal ingredients than any other water known to the science of hydropathy, as the following analysis will show:

THE PARK HOTEL AND BATH HOUSE

The New Park Hotel and Bath House are open all the year and represent the finest additions to the great bathing interests of Mt. Clemens. The hotel is the largest in the city, as it is the finest in the State, and has a national reputation. Located upon an attractive and slightly elevated site in the prettiest portion of the town, the view from its broad and continuous piazzas is decidedly picturesque, being surrounded by nicely kept lawns and beds of summer flowers. Its popularity is due to its present management, which assumed charge fifteen years ago, enlarging and newly furnishing the hotel with all the modern conveniences found in the best first-class houses in large cities. Its proprietors, Messrs. Kieff er and McArthur, are thoroughgoing, and their popularity has increased with their residence here. The magnificent addition recently completed gives the hotel with all the modern conveniences found in the parallel outside of the great cities, and not many there. It is furnished most sumptuously. Its splendid lobby and corridors and wide verandas afford delightful promenades, and many of the rooms being en suite, with private bath rooms, guests can have every comfort, convenience and luxury. The Park cuisine is famous.

The Park Bath House

Owned and operated by Messrs. Wm. Burgard and George Kieffer, under the firm name of Burgard & Kieffer, is under the same roof as the hotel, doing away alike with exposure to outside air and long and tedious passageways.

It is the finest bathing institution in the country. It has marble floors, partitions, wainscoting, and private cooling rooms, and every latest improvement.

The Park Mineral Water

We claim for the Park mineral water superior efficacy, and we do this without seeking to detract from the acknowledged merits of other waters. We submit comparative analyses of three of the most famous wells known, that of the Park being made by Prof. Samuel Duffield, of Detroit, celebrated analytical chemist.

Avery Hotel. Mineral Baths from Original Well
THE AVERY HOTEL

The mineral baths of the Avery Hotel are supplied from the Original Springs (the well that made Mt. Clemens famous).

These mineral baths, known as the Original, are the same today as when first discovered some forty years ago, showing the same astounding curative merits.

Three years ago the Original Bath House was destroyed by fire and the new one (under the same roof as the Avery) is modern and well equipped with largest size porcelain tubs.

When the hotel was last completed and enlarged, about twelve years ago, it was known as "The Egnew," and catered to an exclusive patronage. In April of this year the management expended several thousand dollars in new equipment and furnishings and are now operating the most home-like hotel in the city.

It is several years since the writer was entertained as a guest at this hotel until this season (1909), and we are pleased to say we were more than satisfied with our stay, and freely state without any hesitation that we consider it the best hotel we have ever patronized for the exceedingly low rates charged. We were also surprised as well as pleased to meet among its guests a class of patrons equal to those met with anywhere. The Original Baths have been the drawing card, and the excellent table at the Avery retains all who come. Some of the guest rooms are quite large and well furnished, and everything is kept clean and tidy.

Rates, including room, meals, bath and attendant, $3.00 and upward per day.

AVERY HOTEL Co., Proprietors.

W. N. Hilles, Manager.
Part of the Office of the Eastman Hotel, Looking Toward the (Dining Room) Café
THE EASTMAN

This excellent hotel was completed and opened to the patronage of the public early in the season of 1900.

It is the highest building of any kind in the city, being five stories high, and is one of the very best built houses in Mt. Clemens, substantial in structure and handsome in the detail of its construction, especially its interior.

The illustration of the Eastman upon the opposite page plainly shows that it is built of brick and stone; and as it is heated by steam and illuminated by electricity, it is practically or very nearly a fire-proof building.

The situation of this hotel, on Cass avenue, third door from the corner of South Gratiot avenue and the Court House Square, is both pleasant and convenient.

The two avenues named are both occupied by the Rapid Railway tracks (electric), the former leading to the depot of the Grand Trunk Railway, and the latter with their through line from Detroit to Port Huron.

It is also nearly opposite the beautiful Clementine Bath House.

The office of the hotel is beautifully tiled, has marble wainscoting, and a spacious marble stairway leading to the upper stories; an elevator is also provided, which makes the upper rooms equally as desirable as the lower ones, and to some people more so, on account of better and purer air to be had at higher elevations.

Hotel Eastman is furnished with the best of everything in all its departments, and in even its top rooms, which are equal to any in this respect. The grill room is exceedingly handsome, and its furnishings are rich and tasty. All the latest appliances necessary to make the Eastman first-class, and give it the most modern conveniences, were provided in its construction.

The Eastman is conducted upon the European plan.

Back of the office is a very handsome café, open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m., at popular prices. The hotel is under the personal management of Mr. Wm. Reep, formerly of the Sherman, assisted by Mr. Eugene E. Hall, formerly proprietor of the Hall House. Any letters of inquiry will be cheerfully answered.

Rates, from $1.00 per day up.

THE ARLINGTON

This new family hotel is located opposite the Olympia and Clementine baths and one block from the Medea bath. It contains all first-class and modern conveniences, including hot and cold running water in every guest room. Suites of rooms on all floors which are large and airy.

The Arlington is open throughout the year and is handsomely furnished; nice porch and lawn in front; convenient to all trolley lines and railroad depot.

Rates, $2 to $3 per day; $14 to $17.50 per week.
THE SHERMAN HOUSE

This is the most centrally located hotel in the city, being situated on the corner of Court House Square and Cass avenue. It is one of the oldest in Mt. Clemens and for a long time enjoyed the reputation of being the leading hostelry of this resort. It is especially convenient for commercial men, being at the center of business, handy to the large mercantile houses, banks, etc. The street cars pass this corner going to and returning from the depot and other parts of the city, and usually make a stop for a few minutes before going to the depot to make connection with the various trains of the Grand Trunk Railway.

The Rapid Railway (electric) to Port Huron and to the Grand Trunk depot, passes this house, and all cars make it one of their important stopping points, and of departure for Detroit and all places upon the lines.

The Sherman has a large office, facing both streets, and it is a favorite resort of the male guests of the different hotels, who find it the most popular of the public places for socially meeting their gentlemen acquaintances and in witnessing the passing of the daily parade of promenaders.

The house is well furnished, well kept, and liberally patronized. The rates are reasonable, and commercial rates are given to commercial men. The cuisine is of the best. Two of the leading bath houses, the Medea, on South Gratiot avenue, and the Clementine, on Cass avenue, are within one block of this hotel.

It is chiefly because it is situated in the very heart of the business center that it receives such a large share of commercial tourists' patronage; but it must not be understood from this that it does not cater to and receive a liberal share of business from visitors to Mt. Clemens for health and pleasure, who also prefer the Sherman for this same reason.

The new proprietors, Eyth & Herrman, have taken a long lease of the Sherman, which has been thoroughly altered and improved; a new dining room and kitchen have been built adjoining. Mr. Eyth has been connected with the hotel for several years as chief clerk and manager.
THE WAPPNER

This family hotel was erected and opened to the public in 1908, and is therefore one of our newest hotels.

It was well built and contains all the latest improvements, including hot and cold running water in each room, and bath rooms for both ladies and gentlemen on all floors. The sleeping rooms are of good size and very nicely furnished; the front and corner rooms are especially fine. The illustrations on next page give a good idea of the style of the interior arrangement of the house. The center cut of group shows the office and hall leading to the dining room, and the stairway leading to the upper floors. The reading and writing room is to the left of office and the ladies' parlor on the right.

Mr. and Mrs. Wappner for over eight years were located at The Lexington, and were successful. By strict attention and by pleasing their guests they were enabled to purchase a splendid location and build a larger and better house.

The hotel has ample room for forty to fifty guests and during the busy seasons these accommodations have been taxed to their full capacity. The cuisine is all that may be expected—family cooking and everything of the very best.

The rates range from $10 to $20 per week, according to location of rooms.
The Wappner—Interior Views
THE GLENWOOD

This fine new building is by far the largest and best equipped private boarding house in the city. The new engraving of the exterior, we think, more correctly represents this homelike hotel than any we have previously used. We have also used the word hotel instead of cottage, considering it more appropriate. It is a three-story brick building, lighted by electricity and heated by steam, with broad open veranda, fine reception hall, large, light and airy dining room, all finished in oak. In this dining room will be served the best that is obtainable. There are forty guest rooms, single or en suite, as preferred, with stationary lavatories and hot and cold water. They are all outside rooms and well ventilated. The floors are deadened and made entirely of hard wood, and covered with large, handsome, movable rugs.

This hotel is situated next to the Olympia Bath House and but a few doors from the Clementine Bath House and two blocks from the Medea, on Cass avenue, one of the finest residence avenues in the city. Visitors desiring quietude as well as conveniences, and nice association, as well as good company, find them here. The street cars pass the doors, making connection with all the incoming and outgoing trains. Rates are $10.50 to $17.50 per week, according to location of rooms and whether occupied by one or more.

Write for information and a copy of "Cutter's Guide."

HARRY ROY, Proprietor.
The Benford
THE BENFORD

This new hotel was completed last fall and in its construction the modern conveniences were embraced, including hot and cold running water in stationary washstands in every room, toilets and bath rooms on all floors, electric lights, etc. The rooms are of comfortable size and neatly furnished and the hotel is more like a large family boarding house, where all the guests are made to feel at home, than a large hotel where the formalities are not always appreciated by patrons of smaller houses.

Mr. and Mrs. Benford were proprietors of the Chase House, adjoining, for several years, where by catering to the wants and comforts of their patrons they established a reputation which enabled them to secure this fine house and increase their business.

Mrs. Benford is a good cook and employs only those in her kitchen who know how to fill this position. From one who was a patron for years we learned that the table was always supplied with an abundance of home cooked food and of the best in our markets.

The Benford is located on South Walnut, less than half a block from Cass avenue and near three of the best bath houses in the city, the Clementine at the corner and the other two not much farther.

Rates, $8 to $12 per week, $1.50 to $1.75 per day, according to location of rooms.

F. A. BENFORD, Proprietor.
REH'S HOTEL

This hotel is situated immediately opposite the Medea Bath House and next door to the waiting room and ticket office of the Rapid (electric) Railway. The Reh's (Hungarian) Hotel is a strictly Jewish hotel and the largest and best patronized west of New York City, in which city Mr. Reh conducted a Jewish hotel and restaurant for about twenty years. All foods are prepared in accordance with the Jewish ancient custom and religion (strictly kosher).

The success of The Reh has been remarkable and its patronage so liberal that the house was crowded, and Mr. Reh often wished his hotel was larger. This year we notice a large number, and of a better class, and it is the object of the proprietor to cater to the best of his people. Mr. Reh makes an agreeable and gentlemanly host, accommodating and obliging.

The home-like comforts and elegant food of Reh's Kosher Hotel will help you greatly to get well, at any time of the year. All rooms and halls heated during winter.

Rates reasonable. Correspondence solicited and prompt attention is promised.

THE MELROSE

This new house seems to fill the position of what may be termed a "happy medium" between a small hotel and a large boarding house, and yet it is both, and at the same time neither. It is home, not only to Mrs. Catherine L. Blayney, who owns the property, and her small family, but to all of their guests as long as they remain beneath the roof of the Melrose. Everything about the house is home-like. It is situated at 25 South Avenue, a short distance from Cass Avenue, on which are the Clementine and Olympia Bath Houses, one block distant. Rates, $8 to $12 per week, according to room selected.
THE CLEMENTINE HOTEL

This new brick hotel was completed and opened for business early this spring (1908). It is immediately adjoining the well-known bath house of the same name, and connected by door with the bathing department, a convenience enjoyed by very few of the smaller hotels. All of the modern conveniences are included in its construction. It is nicely furnished and visitors requiring the baths will be pleased with the Clementine Hotel. The rates are $9 to $15 per week, and the house is to be open all the year.

E. M. FURTON, Proprietor
KING HOUSE

This well-known hotel is very pleasantly situated on Cass Avenue, about midway between the Grand Trunk depot and the City Hall, and is passed by the electric car line connecting with all trains. The house also runs a free carriage to depot and bath houses for the accommodation of all guests. This is strictly a family hotel, having no bar in connection.

The engraving shown gives a very good idea of the class of guests who patronize this house, and our readers who desire reasonable priced accommodation can feel assured of meeting nice people and receiving kind treatment at the hands of its proprietors.

Rates, $6 to $8 per week.

G. A. Wildt, Proprietor.
THE CAPRON

This house is well arranged, comfortable and tidy. It has recently been connected with the Clementine Bath House, having an enclosed passageway to the bathing department. It is convenient to the business center of the city, at No. 19 Walnut Street; has twenty guest rooms, heated by steam, and has electric lights. Mrs. Capron makes a special effort to furnish an excellent table service.

Rates, per week, $7 and upward; table board, $5. Rooms reserved in advance by communicating with Mrs. E. Capron, proprietress.

THE WOODBINE

This is one of the best and newest of the small hotels built within the last year or two. It is of brick, and pleasantly situated at 40 South Walnut, only about one-half block from the Clementine Bath House. Every room in the house is heated by steam, and everything is new and neat. Rates, $7 to $10 per week.

GEORGE WEIS, Proprietor.
THE LIBRARY PARK

This new brick house is beautifully situated, opposite the Public Library, 134 Macomb Street. Mr. Konsdorf is an experienced chef and does the cooking for his own house. He was chef for the Colonial Hotel of this city. Everything new, neat and clean. Steam heat and electric lights. Rates, $7 per week.

I congratulate you upon the large amount of Bromine, and especially Iodine contained in the Bitter Water, as shown in the above analysis, the quantity of the two constituents, which add so greatly to the curative value of Mineral Waters, being much greater than in any water I have ever before analyzed. Very respectfully yours,

C. Gilbert Wheeler,
Analytical Chemist.

One Bath from This Salt at Home Will Make You Want Twenty-one at Mt. Clemens

The genuine Mt. Clemens Mineral Water from which this Bath Salt is extracted, comes from the depths of the earth. The wells are over a thousand feet deep. Of course, it is better to go to Mt. Clemens and use the natural water. The facilities there are complete for administering the baths. The rest, climatic change, diet, all tend to more favorable results.

For those who do not go to Mt. Clemens, the use of the Bath Salt at home is the next best thing. It makes the nearest bath obtainable to that of the natural Mt. Clemens water.

We have, by our special vacuum process, been able to crystallize the Mineral Salts from the famous Mt. Clemens Mineral Water. In this process none of the remedial virtues of the Salts are lost, but we have taken away that particular gas which discolors the bath tub, curtains and furniture. These Salts we have trademarked under the name of the "Mt. Clemens Homebath Mineral Salts, Concentrated." We put them up, enough for one bath, in a round carton (or box) with full directions for using on each box. These boxes are put up 21 baths in a case.

Directions—Take one glass hot water before meals; from six glasses to one gallon per day, as recommended by your physician.

"Panacea" Spring

The King of Table Water

All visitors drink freely of this water either at their hotels, where it is extensively, and sometimes exclusively, used, or at the Springs—frequently both.

The number who visit the Panacea Springs for the purpose of drinking this very remarkable water is very surprising and on pleasant afternoons they number several hundred ladies and gentlemen who enjoy themselves socially and drink Panacea water for hours.

The Benefits are Undeniable

The large business built up is a positive proof that its patrons are benefited by its use.
