

Diane Cho Bio from Cho Benn Holback, a Quinn Evans Company Website

An architect and long-time advocate for the arts and education, Diane is skilled in overseeing multidisciplinary teams to deliver projects that reflect each client's mission and unique program requirements. She combines a strong management discipline with an approach that inspires creativity and resourcefulness in the design process.

Diane's acclaimed portfolio includes many theater, museum, and education projects, including complex adaptive use and renovation initiatives. Her projects have been credited with helping to transform neighborhoods, enliven urban districts, and enhance campus environments.

Diane enjoys the intensity and collaborative nature of the architectural process, much like the interaction and lively group dynamics that take place in the artistic and educational settings she designs.
