Scope and Content Note

Design Materials in the Oliver Smith Papers consist mostly of painted elevations, renderings, sketches, and set plans for theatrical productions designed and/or produced by Smith between the early 1940s and late 1980s. Materials vary widely from production to production and may include any of the following: drop elevations, set renderings, scenic and prop details, ink and pencil sketches, sketchbooks, blueprints and technical drawings, fabric swatches, research materials, production schedules, and other miscellaneous items.

Selected renderings from these productions are available in digital form. Scattered among these images are numerous works by Smith held by other institutions or private collectors. Also included are three candid Photographs of Smith.

Additional design materials and other collection items will be added to the finding aid upon completion of processing.

Organization of the Oliver Smith Papers

The collection is organized in two series:

- Design Materials, 1938-1995

- Photographs, undated

Description of Series

BOX 1-305 DF

Series

Design Materials, 1938-1995

This series chiefly contains visual and textual materials for theater productions designed or produced by Smith: drop elevations, set renderings, scenic and prop details, ink and pencil sketches, sketchbooks, blueprints and technical drawings, fabric swatches, research materials, production schedules, and other miscellaneous items. Additionally, there are materials for buildings (mostly theaters) where Smith was the architect or design consultant, as well as a handful of other assorted renderings.

The container list largely does not specify individual designs, as most renderings and scenic details have working titles that are very general and provide little context unless they are viewed first hand. Descriptions of individual items are, however, found in a supplemental print index that is available in person upon request. Contents of boxes are identified only for especially notable productions or those with significant quantities of design materials.

Digital images of select renderings are indicated by their digital ID numbers.

Principal file formats: .tif, .psd.

Arranged alphabetically by production title, then chronologically therein.
