PART 91—MISCELLANEOUS INSTRUCTIONS

§ 91.461 Telegraph and telephone service. (a) Discretion should be exercised in the use of telegraph or cable service or the telephone at Government expense, and ordinarily such use should be restricted to cases of urgency where delay would result in injury or be prejudicial to the public or legitimate private interests, or where the purpose can not be accomplished by the use of ordinary or air mail services.

(b) When an application for leave of absence is made by a diplomatic or consular officer or any employee by telegraph or telephone, the cost thereof shall be borne by him personally, and if a reply to such an application is forwarded by telegraph or telephone the cost thereof shall also be charged to him, Provided, however, That the Secretary of State may in either case determine that the messages relate to official business.

(c) Whenever possible official telegrams should be sent in code for the purpose of economy even if the nonconfidential character of the message does not otherwise require it, except in rare instances when plain messages may be transmitted at less cost than code messages, bearing in mind the nature of the subject matter. The regulations governing the use of Departmental codes set forth in the introduction to each code shall be strictly observed and followed by all officers and employees.

(d) Whenever the Secretary of State, in his discretion, procures information on behalf of corporations, firms, and individuals, the expense of cablegrams and telephone service involved may be charged against the respective appropriations for the service utilized, and reimbursement therefor shall be required from those for whom the information was procured, and, when made, be credited to the appropriation under which the expenditure was charged. (49 Stat. 1321; 5 U.S.C. and Sup., 169) Such expenses should be incurred only upon prepayment of all charges or satisfactory assurance of payment.

(e) Officers in charge must forward to the Department in accordance with section V-26, of Executive Order 7968, original contracts or agreements for telephone service at their offices, if such contracts have been made or are obtainable. If it is not possible to obtain a written contract or agreement, the facts should be fully explained. A list of toll rates should be forwarded with the contract and a revised list should be forwarded for filing with that contract whenever changes in rates are made. (R.S. 1752, 22 U.S.C. 132) [V-27, E.O. 7968, Sept. 3, 1938; 3 F.R. 2190]
