We battle for the little children,
 Who enslaved by selfish greed,
 Spend all their youth and strength in toiling,
 We would set them free from need.
 We battle for our sister women,
 Underpaid industrial slaves,
 And for the many sons and brothers
 Who go down to drunkard's graves.

CHORUS.

We're going to win the fight!
 None can withstand the might!
 Of millions of our nation's women
 When their cause is just and right.

4.

We're fighting for the rights of women,
 Who are ruled without consent,
 And taxed by laws they have no voice in,
 Nor how taxes shall be spent.
 The country needs both men and women,
 To preserve our liberty,
 A man ruled land is only half ruled,
 And its people are not free.

CHORUS

5.

We battle for our sons and daughters
 And the millions yet to be,
 'Tis ours for them to do our duty,
 And 'tis ours to make them free.
 We've given our sons to die in glory
 On a thousand bloody fields,
 We claim the power that belongs to mothers,
 With a claim that never yields.

CHORUS
