

Weather Today

(U. S. Weather Bureau)

Unsettled weather with snow storms were general conditions over the Nome-Fairbanks Airway at 7 a.m. Fair weather obtains along the Gulf and southeastern Alaska. Rain was falling along the Oregon-Washington Coast. Temperatures above the seasonal average continue over the interior sections of Alaska while moderation has occurred during the past 24 hours over the Pacific Northwest. High barometric pressure is charted over the North Pacific ocean while low pressure overlies the Pacific Northwest, the Bering Sea and the Arctic Ocean district. This general pressure condition will likely cause continued unsettled weather with snow squalls for Nome and vicinity during the next 24 hours. Mild temperature with moderate north-east winds are indicated.

Ruby reported 50 inches of snow on the ground at 7 a.m.

The lowest Nome temperature last night was zero while the highest yesterday was 12 above.

Water Ordinance Passed at Council Meeting Monday

With Councilmen Polet and O'Connor absent, the city council met Monday night in regular session and took up various business matters coming before it.

Councilman O'Connor has been suffering for the past month from a severe cold, and has been confined to his bed for some time past.

Several wires were received by the city from the Board of Liquor Control pertaining to relicensing of businesses dealing in liquor in Nome. They were read by the clerk. One wire requested city action on an application of Harry Saito for a license. The council disapproved. Another telegram requested action on an application of Tom Cloninger for a beverage dispensary license. The council approved same.

The water ordinance was read for the third time and upon motion was endorsed and passed into effect immediately. The text of the ordinance appears elsewhere in the Nugget today.

A letter written by Supt. Calvin Pool of the Nome Public Schools to the Nome school board was handed to the City Clerk to read by Chairman of the Board Almer Rydeen. The letter requested the Board to attempt to secure funds for the construction of an addition to the new school building to be used for vocational courses, a class room or two and storage space for much equipment which at present takes up valuable room in the school building proper.

The clerk read the letter and after discussion concerning the attitude of the city council toward supporting a suggestion to appeal to the Territorial Legislature for the funds, it was decided that a meeting be held by the council with the school board Thursday at 2 P. M., to go over the plans. No amount was mentioned in the letter, as what sum would be needed.

City Clerk Walsh reported that in accordance with instructions from the council he had bought in at public auction, the lot which belonged to the late Bernard Kelly, situated on the corner of Front Street and B street for the sum of $605, and asked the council to authorize a warrant being issued to pay the bid. It was explained that the city in purchasing this lot had in mind to insure the corner there not being used to create a "blind corner" for traffic, or in other words, at some later date constructing a better corner.

With a few other minor matters disposed of the council adjourned.
