PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES

Last Wednesday afternoon the chairman of the girls' society called a special meeting in order to elect officers and to hear the report of the committee on by-laws. A name, appropriate for this society could not be decided upon, so, with the exception of the first article, the constitution was accepted. Ella Grandler was elected president; Mae McCormick, vice president; Agnes Mueseth, secretary; Cassie King, treasurer. The president then appointed Rose Penglase and Enid Richards to act on the program committee. Their first program will take place Friday, and everyone is welcome.

The Peary society, which is composed of boys only, held a meeting last Wednesday after school, and attended to all their necessary business, such as adopting the constitution and deciding on a date for their first program, which will also be given on the coming Friday and all outsiders are asked to attend.

The German class is now reading L'Arrabbiata and like it quite well.

The botany class took their first walk last week and returned with quite a collection of specimens.

The physics class now enjoys two hours of laboratory on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, experimenting and keeping note books.

The total enrollment for the first month is 120, and the per cent of attendance, 97.

Last week the teachers spent a very pleasant evening, examining the works underground in the Treadwell mine. They report a good time and having seen many interesting sights.

Court has adjourned. The judge has gone duck hunting, and the criminal libel crowd is still at large.

Richland on the Columbia

THERE MAY BE another district that possesses as many ideal qualities for successful irrigation as does but we do not know of one. Having one of the best gravity systems in the Pacific Northwest, with a water right nearly twenty years old, a plentiful supply of water is assured for all time. Ask any of Richland's growers if they experienced any shortage this season, and they will tell you that they had water to waste.

Finest Fruit Lands $150.00 per acre, including perpetual water right; terms one-fourth cash; balance in five equal annual payments; 7 per cent interest. For full information write

Notice of Forfeiture

To R. A. Osborne:
 You are hereby notified that the undersigned has expended the sum of four hundred dollars ($400.00) in labor and improvements on that certain lode mining claim situated at Nevada creek, on Douglas Island, in the Harris Mining district, in the District of Alaska, and known as the Sleepy Kitten lode mining claim, the notice of the location of which claim being filed for record and recorded in Book 10 of Lodes on page 230, of said book, in the office of the recorder at Juneau, Alaska, said sum being expended in order that the owners thereof might hold the said premises and mining claim under the provisions of the laws of the United States, such amount being the sum required by such laws to enclose said owners to hold such claim for the years 1905, 1906, 1907 and 1908.

And if, within sixty (60) days after the publication of this notice, you fail and refuse to contribute your proportion of such expenditure as a co-claimant or co-owner in the said claim, your interest in said described property will become forfeited and thereby become the property of the subscriber to this Notice of Forfeiture, pursuant to the laws of the United States.
