

Chaplain's CORNER

Character is a target for both friend and foe. It is an easy mark for traitorous and sadistic slander.

Character is in the keeping, and therefore at the mercy of acquaintances. Everyone should supremely value each other's good name and not belittle it; a rumor-monger will be soon found out because he bases his talk on fiction rather than fact and on impressions rather than truth. A worthy reputation will speak for itself, being heard even above the rumors and clamors.

BUT----character may be ruthlessly,--shattered by sinister whisperings, because listeners are ready to entertain and repeat slander and what is termed "juicy gossip". Though reputation is manifested by a person's actions and words, it can be severely damaged by an ignorant tongue; a few minutes of idle talk can defame a lifetime of good - deeds - and honor.

Traducers of character should be loathed and dreaded as one would a destroying pestilence. Listeners ought not encourage their vile trade, but to put them to shame with ruthless severity.

All of us are able to strengthen our character by showing sincere interest rather than mere curiosity, understanding that we only spread sin by condemning it maliciously and esoterically in others.

"He that hideth hatred with lying lips, and he that uttereth a slander, is a fool." Proverbs 10:18

Evolution, it is said; Is what makes the monkey in the zoo ask, "Am I my keeper's brother?"

WHAT IS MOTHER?

The mother is the fire, the children the light. By the brightness of the light, we know how great is the fire.

The mother is the vine, the children the branches. By the branches we judge the value of the vine.

The mother is the tree of life, the children the fruit, The Savior said: "By their fruits you shall know them."

The mother is the clock, the children the hands. They point out the time.

The mother is the pen, the children the script. By the writing you recognize the writer.

The mother is the rudder, the children the boat. The boat goes wherever the rudder directs.

The mother is the queen, the children the subjects. Under the scepter of a wise mother, the children are satisfied and happy.

The mother is the great enigma and mystery. The happiness of mankind, the sufferings of mankind vibrate and tremble in that one word, MOTHER.
