HIGH COURT'S RULING FAVORS GOV. SULZER

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 1—The chief justice of the New York state supreme court handed down a decision in the Sulzer case, in re the status of the impeachment proceedings now on in the state senate.

The decision holds that the prosecution, in the pending impeachment trial cannot introduce evidence tending to prove that Governor Sulzer traded sectional legislation for votes in favor of legislation which he was advocating, such as the state primary law.

The decision in other points is also favorable to Sulzer, and it is believed that the impeachment proceedings will hinge solely on the charge that the governor misused campaign funds.

Sulzer's friends and supporters are jubilant over the decision. They say it will be impossible to impeach him under the court's ruling.
