

Joe Wheeler has again donned the war paint and is off for the Philippines. Now the Tagals bet ter hunt tall timber.

Outs had just as well give up the that ancient idea of trying to bluff the Philipinos with skeleton regiments. They don't know anything about boog-a-boos and scare-crows.

The Ladies' Auxilliary Board is doing noble work in the interest of the public school, having already secured subscriptions for a sum exceeding $3000. This subscription shows the sentiment of the patrons of the school in this district more plainly than anything else could possibly do, and many others are willing to express their anxiety to have a free school taught in this city by coming forward with a substantial subscription.

There is much confusion in the political household at Washington over the efforts to eject Potato-Pingree Alger from the Cabinet. "Alger's name is never spoken," but the loving family find it hard to "turn his picture toward the wall."

That "feller" who has broken into the agricultural department at Little Rock, by the name of Frank Hill, is getting himself "writ" about considerably by the papers of Arkansas, and if the press has any voice in the administration of the affairs of state, Frankie's days as a public beneficiary are numbered.

There are a number of college professors and newspaper editors clamoring for a new name for the United States. This new-fangled idea doesn't strike us very forcibly. Uncle Sam is the "bully boy with a glass eye" around these diggings, and to deprive him of the initials of his name would be worse than trying to dress him up in a mother Hubbard. There is no nation on the globe which does not know what a man is talking about when he says he is a citizen of the United States, and if a nation is a little dull of comprehension we might use the full term: The United States of North America, and then if they don't know where we live we'll celebrate with 'em some Fourth of July morning in manner that will keep our location on the map green in their minds for all time to come.

CITY COUNCIL.

The council met in regular session last Tuesday night. Mayor Tipton presiding, and the following members present: Aldermen Gatling, Stone, Baugh, and Recorder Merwin.

After roll call the Council proceeded to business by appointing Aldermen Stone, Gatling and Baugh a committee to audit and cancel redeemed scrip amounting to $2,419.96, which was done and the scrip consigned to the flames in the presence of the council.

The Marshal reported 25 arrests for the month ending June 30th, with fines amounting to $108.

The Mayor's report tallied with that of the marshal.

The Marshal reported $138 collected as water tax for the month of July.

RECORDEE'S REPORT.

Forrest City, Ark., July 4, 1899. To the Hon. the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the Town of Forrest City, Ark.: The undersigned, as Recorder of said town, submits the following report for the month ending June 30th, 1899:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Includes Balance outstanding warrants, Officers Salaries, Allowances, Balances in hands of officers, Total outstanding.

The following claims were audited and ordered paid:

Table with 2 columns: Name, Amount. Includes J. B. Beck, J. H. Tipton, Parker, Ark. Dem. Co., M. R. Stone, Delano & Batts, G. P. Wolff, Jno M. Nichols.

A motion was made by Alderman Gatling, seconded by Baugh, that the resolution removing the park fences be rescinded and that the fences be repaired. Carried.

A resolution was passed that the Iron Mountain railroad be required to repair the Davis street crossing on their road and to open Cross street on their line. Also that the Choctaw & Memphis road open roadway under their track on the west line of the corporation.

Judge Taylor presented the account for taking care of the smallpox case some months ago, and asked that the city share the expense. The bill amounted to $338.68. It was considered excessive and referred back to be itemized and reduced in figures.

No further business the council adjourned.

The city is in a healthy financial condition. At last report of Recorder the outstanding warrants was $3,412.70, from which deduct the scrip cancelled and destroyed, $2,419.96, to which add current expenses for past month, leaves an indebtedness of a little over $1200.

Smallpox luxury comes dear. The case of the negro sent down to us by our neighbors cost $338.68. It is perhaps a little excessive, but the city will pay its share, let the cost be what it may.

The resolution rescinding the order to abandon the parks was the occasion of much joy among those who believe in something more than hog and hominy. The dream of THE TIMES is about to be realized—the prettiest park in Eastern Arkansas.

SHOT HIM IN THE RIGHT EYE.

Sam Fallis Gets his Man—Robert Cape the Victim—Coroner's Jury Returns a Verdict of Justifiable Homicide, and Fallis Turned Loose.

Sam Fallis and Robert Cape, of Telloch township, became involved in a difficulty Tuesday morning in which Cape was killed, Fallis shooting him in the right eye with a 38 calibre Winchester rifle, which resulted in his death in a few hours afterwards.

Both men were farmers. Cape was a single man and was making a share-crop on Ham Wood's place, while Fallis is working rented land in the same neighborhood, but was hauling staves at the time of the shooting. Fallis is a married man.

The trouble in which Cape lost his life originated over some questionable stories which bore a tinge of scandal that had been circulated about the neighborhood in connection with Ham Wood's daughter and Robert Cape, which placed the young lady in a rather unenviable attitude before the moral element of the community. Cape accused Fallis of being the author of these tales and precipitated a row with him, having sent Fallis word by Ham Wood, the girl's father, to meet him (Cape) on half-way ground Monday morning, that he wished to square matters up with him.

The two met on the road Monday morning, but trouble was prevented between them by a mutual friend, by the name of George Harper. Cape was in the act of cutting Fallis with a knife when Harper grappled with him, and prevailed upon him to leave the place. As Cape was being led away by Harper he shook his finger at Fallis and remarked, "That's all right for you, Sam Fallis, I'll see you again."

The next morning (Tuesday) Fallis had to pass the Wood place where Cape was employed. Fallis was hauling a load of staves to the station; as his wagon neared the house of Wood, he saw a shotgun standing by the fence and Cape was out in the lot, gearing a mule. Cape called to Fallis in a menacing voice to halt, and they would settle matters. Fallis continued to drive, but Cape came on through the gate, walking briskly towards the wagon.

Fallis stopped his team, and jumped off on the opposite side of the wagon from Cape and begged him to go back to the house, that he did not wish to have any trouble with him. Cape paid no attention and walked on up to the wagon, pulled his pistol and pointing it straight at the head of Fallis snapped it twice, but the weapon missed fire. Therefore Fallis, who had his Winchester, drew a bead on Cape's right eye and fired. The Winchester bullet was true to its aim, and Cape fell mortally wounded.

Fallis' team became frightened by shooting and started to run, but the man grabbed a standard and swung himself on the wagon and succeeded in stopping them. Fallis then unhitched his horses from the wagon, bestrode one of them, rode back by the place where the trouble had occurred, where he saw Cape lying by the roadside, bleeding profusely.

Fallis went on home, told his wife what had happened and came on to town to turn himself over to the sheriff who immediately locked him up.

The coroner was summoned and hurried to the scene of the tragedy, empanelled a jury, who after deliberating upon the evidence returned a verdict of justifiable homicide, establishing the fact that Fallis had acted in self-defence and killed Cape for the preservation of his own life.

Fallis was released from jail Wednesday morning and is now a free man.

The Best Prescription for Chills and fever is a bottle of Groves Tasteless Chill Tonic. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. It is the first tasteless tonic ever manufactured. All other so-called tasteless tonics are imitations. Ask any druggist about this who is not PUSHING an imitation.
