THE CREED OF GOOD FELLOWS

Do not keep the alabaster boxes of your love and tenderness sealed up until your friends are dead. Fill their lives with sweetness. Speak approving, cheering words while their hearts can be thrilled and be made happier by them. The kind you mean to send for their coffins send to brighten and sweeten their homes before they leave them. If my friends have alabaster boxes laid away, full of fragrant perfumes of sympathy and of affection which they intend to break over my dead body, I would rather they would bring out in my weary and troubled hours and open them that I may be refreshed and cheered by them while I need them. I would rather have a plain coffin without a flower, a funeral without an eulogy, than a life without the sweetness of love and sympathy. Let us learn to know our friends beforehand for their burial. Post mortem kindness does not cheer the burdened spirit.

Flowers on the coffin cast no fragrance backward over the weary way. The faults of our brothers we will write upon the sand; their virtues upon the tablets of love and memory.—Anonymous.

Christmas is drawing near and Prescott merchants should not miss an opportunity to place their ads in The Picayune. You know what you have but the buying public does not. "Tell it."

CHRISTIANS MASSACRED IN SYRIA

Constantinople, Dec. 9.—A telegram from Jerusalem today states that Bedouins have massacred the Turkish garrison at Kerak, a town in the Turkish vilayet of Syria, and killed more than 100 Christian inhabitants of the place in revenge for the execution of a Bedouin chief.

The Bedouins, the dispatch adds, now hold the fortress in the vicinity of which there has been desultory fighting between the tribesman and the government troops for the past year and a half.

Kerak, formerly the capital of Moab, has a population of 3,000, of which 6,000 are Meslems. The town is the last on the road from Damascus to Mecca, where Christians may reside. It stands on the mountain of Moab and may be seen from Jerusalem, 50 miles away.

No American missionaries are stationed there, the only one a British Missionary Society for Africa and the East. This is a branch of the organization at Eszalt and is composed of one missionary, his wife and one native worker.

TAP LINE CASES HEARD

New Orleans, La., Dec. 9.—Judging from the progress made today, the hearing of the railroad tap line cases here before Interstate Commerce Commissioner Harlan will extend over a period of not less than 10 days. Three cases were heard today, making a total of six which have been presented. In all there are 30.

The Butler county railroad of Missouri, the Crossett railroad of Arkansas and the Central railway of Arkansas were short lines which presented their contentions for recognition for common carriers before the commissioner today. The testimony on the whole presented statistical facts as to ownership and the amount of freight carried by the tap lines for lumber companies entering therein and other shippers.

OKLAHOMA GOVERNOR BECOMES DEFIANT

Oklahoma City, Dec. 9.—As a result of an ultimatum issued by the Senate Capitol Commission last night, Governor Haskell today issued a statement in which he declared that if the legislature adjourned without settling the capital matter he would call another special session until the matter was finally settled.

A statement also was signed by Speaker Anthony of the house and by many Democratic members declaring that the Senate committee and citizens of Oklahoma City are obstructing the legislature in its efforts to pass a capital bill.

J. E. Horne and Bud Meyers are in the City this morning. They have just returned from Texas where they bought a car load of mules. They have the mules in Texarkana.

GLOBE SIGHTS OF ATCHISON KANSAS

Everybody has acquaintance, but few have friends.

Some men want to show how smart they are every minute.

A tittle-tattle among children becomes a gossip when grown.

An engaged girl is kissed a deal more than a married woman.

A man or woman who reads poetry will finally attempt to write it.

When a man asks a hundred dollars for a horse, he expects to get about $60.

Most people condone a lie told about ages in procuring a marriage license.

Nothing looks prettier on a woman than a white apron with a big bow at the back.

But the dog isn't the only loafer who is loved a good deal more than he deserves.

Probably a widower enjoys a second wife as much as a widow enjoys her husband's life insurance.

A small man always has one weapon he can use against a great big man: he can "talk" about him.

The telephone is about the only thing we know of that is a blessing and a curse at the same time.

We are glad we are not a pretty man; a pretty man is unhappy except when a woman is admiring him.

The trouble with the Friendship bank is that most people want to draw out more than they put in.

After a man discovers how little he knows, he begins to suspicion that possible others do not know as much as they claim.

You had better hurry up quick, if you want to get some of that cheap hay, as I have concluded to sell at all hazards. I am going to sell it from $4 up to $8 per ton. I sold 3 tons in one day so you had better come at once.

Yours truly,
Col. O. L. Moncrief.
