The Miner.

CHAOS.

BY WALT. M. FISHER.

Ages to come, I see the world,
And lo! it is full of evil—
Full of women and men;
The only prayer of the good is for death,
And the only feat of the brave, to die.
There is no God any more among all the people;
Science has murdered God,
And now, in her turn is dying
With that she fed on—man and the world.
The world is full of man, full to rotting,
Full as a channeled carcass crawling with creeping things,
And Science sits i' the heap, and grins like a ghastly fiend,
Gibbering empty words when one enquireth the end.
The cattle are slain and slain
Clean away from the earth,
For the need of a hungry world,
And all that creepeth and moveth
Is gathered in by lean blue hands
That clutch as the drowning at all things.
The rivers are thick and foul,
For the thirst is more than the water.
The soil is a noisome sight,
Barren with overtask,
Scraped and raked and mucked
To the smallest sand;
And thieves uncarth the seed
For an hour's life.
The air is rank, and the high heaven
Clammy with exhalation;
The heaped world choking and no green leaf
Any more to transmute the stench.

O, a people exceeding wise is this!
With curious books and tools—
Impotent sages gnashing their wisdom-teeth,
Cursing all that is or may be,
Fighting for food like wolves,
Like wolves devouring each other,
Love is dead, and lust;
Hunger sits in the sunken eyes
That glare on the cowering woman.
And woman, with whom love dies the latest,
Poisons the babe in her womb—
The world is full;
Strangles the babe at her breast—
The world is starving.

——A crash, and the world is done.
The void is filled with a fiery hail
And a shudder that creeps to the farthest star.
—Overland Monthly for April.

THE YOUNG MAN WHO WAS "SHOOK."

"What I want to know," said a white-headed young man of 20 years, as he stood before the sergeant in charge of the Central Station yesterday, "what I came here for was to get some advice."

"Proceed," said the sergeant.

"You know Nancy Thompson, don't you?"

"Never heard of her."

"Well, she's a widder over 40 years old, and I've been boardin' there."

"Yes?"

"And we were engaged to be married."

"Whew," whistled the officer.

"I dont blame you," continued the young man in a broken voice. "I'm only 20 and she is 40, but a man can't always tell when he's going to make a fool of himself."

"And you fell in love?"

"I did that, and as soon as we get through talking I'm going over to hire some one to kick me over to Canada and back! Yes, sir, fell dead in love—loved a woman over 40."

"And what followed?"

"What followed? Why, what allers follows? I'm human, same as any body else, and when I love I love like a locomotive on a down grade. What do you think I did in just six weeks by the watch? went to the the theater sixteen times, out sleigh-riding twelve times, had three parties, went to three lectures and took her out to eat oysters ten or eleven times. Fact, sir—cost me darn near $200."

"But it was all for love," replied the sergeant. "Bought her a $40 watch, a $10 bracelet, a $5 ring, a $7 set of jewelry, a new dress and give her a $5 gold piece with a hole in it! Yes sir, I drew $500 from the bank—every red I had—and I used it all up on her!"

"And then?"

"She pretended to love back, and when I squoze her hand she smiled and smiled and looked heaps of love at me. She'd lean on my arm, talk about Cupid, and git off poetry by the rod, and it was plainly understood that we were to be married in June. Oh, she knew her biz, and she slid around me as a Bengal tiger does around a lamb!"

"Did she break the engagement?"

"Last night," said the young man, swallowing the lump in his throat, "she told me she had been trifling with me all along. She said she was engaged to another man, and she could never be more than a sister to me! I tell you sergeant, you could have knocked me down with a straw! I braced up after a while and called her a hypocrite, when she called me a white-haired idiot, and the boarders threw me out of doors. Five hundred dollars gone, and I'm a wrecked man."

He blew his nose and wiped his eyes, and continued:

"I don't want to drown myself; the water's awful cold, and perhaps I can get over this. I want the presents back, and I'll go to Muskegon and try and forget her. It's wrenched me all to pieces, and I can never love again. Were you ever shook, Sergeant?"

"No, never."

"Then you don't know the anguish—the griping around the heart. It cuts like a knife, and all I can think of is being laid out in a coffin, my right hand holding a bunch of roses and my left resting on my heart."

"You are young; you may grow out of it."

"I may—I may, but it's so awful sudden and hits so hard, that I feel as if I'd fallen from a house. Go to the house, Sergeant, and see if you can't get them things back. If I'm alive I'll be around to-morrow, and if I don't come you may keep the things for your kindness. I'm white-headed, but I'm tender-hearted, and I want to retire behind some barn and sit down and think."

And he retired.—[Detroit Free Press.

SPELLING.—The Napa Register offers these remarks on spelling: Teachers in general spell no better than other men. Five editors out of six are bad spellers, but the sixth may take rank next to the compositor. Preachers, lawyers and physicians generally spell with some approach to correctness, but there are some notable exceptions. Preachers and physicians are generally worse spellers than lawyers; but it should be considered that legal gentlemen often write so badly that it cannot be determined whether they are habitually good spellers or not. Literary people are not of necessity good spellers. Many of them are very bad ones. Some of the ablest contributions we have ever published were so badly spelled as to require copying before handing them over to the compositor. Mrs. Sigourney, the poetess, was one of the worst spellers that ever handled a pen. The truth is, that correct spelling is learned by a parrot-like process, best suited to our earliest years. If not then learned, no after exertions wil supply the lack of early training.

THE big grapevine at Santa Barbara, California, is dying, and there is some talk of digging up the trunk and exhibiting it at the Philadelphia Centennial Exposition.

EASTERN.

Washington, May 19.—Secretary Bristow has received information indicating that the ramifications of the whisky ring extend throughout the eastern cities.

St. Louis, May 17.—The Governor, this morning, designated Thursday, June 13th, as a day of humiliation and fasting, on acccount of the threatened grasshopper pest.

Lexington, Ky., May 16.—John C. Breckenridge died this evening.

Chicago, May 18.—Reports from portions of Missouri, Minnesota, Kansas and Nebraska state that the grasshoppers are already devastating the country of every green thing, and that the farmers are greatly discouraged. The pests seem to be young, at least they are very small, ranging from the size of a flea to that of a common house-fly. Their destructive powers appear quite as great as those of the full grown insect. Gentlemen who have recently been on a tour of Southwest Missouri say the grasshoppers are devouring everything green in that section. People are panic stricken. Cattle and horses are dying by the hundreds of starvation, not being able to find anything to eat in the woods, as the grasshoppers have eaten the buds and leaves from the trees. In Minnesota an investigation by a reporter of the St. Paul Press, sent out especially for the purpose, shows that, so far, only a portion of four counties are troubled with the pests, but deposits of eggs are found in other sections, and serious damage to the crops are feared.

Washington, May 18.—The special order from the War Department, of April 8th, relieving Major Charles Sprague, Chief Paymaster of the Department of California, has been revoked, and the portion of that order relating to officers of the Pay Department serving in the military division of the Pacific has been modified as follows: The commanding General of the military division of the Pacific is authorized to cause from time to time an interchange of stations between the Paymasters of Arizona and those of other parts of said division, the senior Paymaster in the Department of Arizona to perform the duties of Chief Paymaster of that Department.

The Lieut.-Colonel of the 6th Cavalry, now en route to Arizona, has been ordered to West Point to relieve General Upton of his duties at the Academy. The Colonel of that regiment is on sick leave, so the regiment will be commanded by one of the Majors.

Washington, May 19.—Telegrams received here report that ex-Senator Jesse D. Bright is dying.

St. Joseph, Mo., May 19.—The grasshoppers are totally destroying the winter wheat in this vicinity. Dispatches from all parts of Missouri and Kansas say that the crops are being injured by the grasshoppers.

PACIFIC SLOPE.

San Francisco, May 18.—Steamer Orizaba left at 9 o'clock this morning. The following military persons are among her passengers for San Diego: Gen. Alexander, Col. Stewart, Lieut. Wheeler, and all of the engineer corps U. S. A.

To-day the pilot-boat J. C. Curtis was wrecked just south of the Cliff House. She is a total wreck. There were seven persons on board, all of whom were saved with much difficulty.

Gold in New York, 116. Greenbacks in San Francisco, 86¾ and 87¼.

San Francisco, May 19.—The mining stock market is utterly demoralized. To-day the following are the quotations for leading stocks: Ophir, 37; Mexican, 15; Sierra Nevada, 9; Best & Belcher, 42; Crown Point, 29; Belcher, 26; Con. Virginia, 400.

The new Pacific Stock Exchange has now 77 subscribers who have each paid up $5,000 —making $385,000.

TERRITORIAL.

Florence, May 28.—The flouring mills of Florence are in full blast day and night. The abundant supply of water keeps the machinery in clock-working order.

A Mexican circus exhibited here during the past two days to crowded houses.

Prospects on the Gila adjoining Florence are flattering. The present crop will surpass that of any former year. Harvesting has commenced.

New and rich discoveries of silver ledges in the Pinal Mountains continue with unabating success.

Prof. Hughes, of Tucson, arrived this morning.

It is understood that several prominent parties are selecting a ground site upon which to erect smelting works.

A RELIGIOUS gathering is to be held in Brighton, England, at the beginning of June which will last ten days. It will be on the plan of the Evangelical Conference held at Oxford last year, "for the promotion of scriptural holiness," but on a much larger scale, and will be also under the auspices of Mr. and Mrs. Pearsall Smith. Some 8,000 persons are expected to attend, and $10,000 will be spent in defraying the expenses of English-speaking clergy from the continent.

THE Ventura (California) Signal ventures the prophesy that a new State, with its Capital at Los Angeles, will be carved out of the lower tier of California counties within five years.

"Drunkenness, unlike some other evils which afflict us," says the Milwaukee Sentinel, "seems inherent in our nature." That's what we've suspected all along.—[Louisville Courier-Journal.

MEDICAL.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potassium and iron makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders, eruptions of the skin and the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as ulcerations of the liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhea, arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.
