Ex-Phoenicians Arrive
For Christmas

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton H. Royal and their four children of Philadelphia arrived in the city to spend Christmas with their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Davis of 1340 E. Madison St. The Royals were accompanied by a friend, Mr. John Alexander.

Memory Lane

EDITOR'S NOTE: Pinch hitting for Memory Lane is the "Town Tattler" column of three years ago, just to make Christmas time a little more gay, but Memory Lane will be back in the next edition.

THE TOWN TATTLER

It seems as if my little column of last week really struck home in quite a few instances. You could just see the fumes going up. Every one seemed to have recognized themselves so there must have been a little guilt on everyone's part. Dear people, have I really hurt your feelings or did I increase your vanity just a little, because you know it's true that only important people make the paper! Maybe I am just a wee bit envious of your popularity in the community, let's just leave it at that, shall we (ha, ha)?

Now next time don't make it so obvious to everyone what you are doing and I won't have a chance to write about it.

I see though that some of the people I wrote about took my advice and started doing something about their different situations. If I have helped someone by being frank, I am very glad. On the other hand I must admit though, that everyone has been really nice this week, and didn't give me anything to write about. Shame on you, you know how I love to gossip.

Now I am going to give all my "friends" a Christmas gift, and that is not to write any gossip about them. I wish one and all a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

However, I will be on the job next week and I can promise I will write it as I see it and hear it.

Your good friend.

A fascinating creature in a mink coat went to a dice table in Las Vegas and placed a $1,000 wager. She took off the mink coat, revealing that she was indeed a fascinating creature. She rolled the dice once, rolled them again and exclaimed, "Made it!" collected her winnings, put on her coat again and left.

"By the way," one of the house men asked the other, "what was her point?"

His partner shrugged his shoulders: "I didn't notice either."

P.T.A. News

By MRS. GENEVIEVE HARPER
DUNBAR

A regular P.T.A. meeting was held Thursday night at Dunbar School. The fourth and fifth grade youngsters rendered a Christmas program. Mrs. Charles Brown presided, and Mrs. Ernestine Moore acted as Secretary.

Friday afternoon the Dunbar P.T.A. gave a Christmas party for the children at the school, and the home room mothers were in charge.

PHOENIX UNION

A special tribute goes to Mrs. E. D. Tussey, president of the Phoenix Union High School P.T.A. for appointing Mrs. Hattie Scott to the Health Committee of the executive board, and Mrs. Robert H. Harper as a member at large.

Charity Ball

The Desert Mashie Golf Club sponsored a Charity Ball at the Elks last Tuesday night. A sizable quantity of food, merchandise, and cash was collected at the door as admission to the ball. The items collected will be donated to needy families on Christmas Eve.

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of Mrs. Kathryn Davis, Miss Charity Ball. The music was donated by David McClanny and his orchestra. A good time was had by all.

Mrs. M. E. Dillard of 1522 E. Monroe St., left for Los Angeles, Calif., last Wednesday to spend Christmas with her daughter Sadie.

HERE TO VISIT SON

Mrs. Amanda Vanarsdale of Kansas City arrived in the city this week to visit her son, R. B. Vanarsdale of 1234 East Monroe. Her stay is indefinite.

CHARM

By LOU LaTOUR

NEW YORK, (Global)—Watch your telephone voice. Make it as cheerful, beautiful and enthusiastic as possible. One voice teacher has said, "Keep your voice low and round." And a charm teacher has advised on how to avoid a monotone. She says, "Use a range of five tones up and down." If these instructions prove a little difficult, try smiling while you are talking over the telephone. That usually does the trick.

Q. What can I use to remove old makeup from my face, if I wish to avoid using soap and water on my skin?

A. Mineral oil is splendid for this purpose.

The Family Roundtable

By ELGIVA BALL

NEW YORK, (Global)—

Dear Miss Ball:

I am 13 and in the 8th grade. I have a sister who is six and I am very, very lonesome. I like school very much, but do not have many friends. The children in my class laugh at me because I often feel bad or sick and cannot do my work. Last week they laughed because I was crying at school. I was very upset about my mother and her operation. Also, I felt sick and was afraid I would die. I fear dying and don't know what to do. Do you think the girls should laugh at me?

—Julie, Florida

Dear Julie:

You are very young to have such big problems. This is the time when you should be having a lot of fun and be enjoying life. I know you love your mother very much and naturally are worried because she is ill, but you must have faith in God and believe that He will do only what is right for you. You must also believe that the doctors at the hospital are very good and are doing everything to help your mother get well. You can help by being very good so she will not have added worries.

If you feel bad often, get your father to take you to see a doctor. Talk to him frankly and after his thorough examination, you will know what to do, to improve your health.

One thing, Julie: You will find that children can be very cruel. They tease often when they see that it bothers you. Try to show them that their teasing and laughing does not bother you and they will stop. To have more friends, why not join the YWCA. Keep yourself busy, start a hobby, and even try entertaining your sister sometimes, even though she is much younger.

Remember, also, that we fear the things we do not know or understand. Try to learn all you can about the things you fear, and it will help you to overcome those fears. The best of everything to you.

a couple of the week. This week we are naming Fred Warren and Cora Chambers.

How long have you been going steady?—3 years.

What is your favorite record?—Sincerely.

What is your favorite meal?—Roast, Peas, and Rolls.

What is your pet peeve? — Too much laughing.

Say kids, have you picked up on Frank Pollack's T.V. show on Channel 10, Saturdays, at 4:00 p.m.? Frank Pollack also has a real cool radio show from 3:35 to 5:30 every evening. So pick up.

We will miss Shirley Hutchinson for two weeks. She and her family are visiting relatives in Oklahoma.

This is about all, but until next time, Merry Christmas Everyone!

Joke of the week:

"Marriage is like a cafeteria. You pick out something that looks real good and pay for it later."

Q. What treatment is in order for a dry skin?

A. Wrinkles occur most frequently in dry skin, and it is not wise to use soap and water oftener than once a day. After washing the face at night, apply a generous layer of tissue cream, nourishing cream, or skin food, leaving on for a few minutes. Remove the excess, but leave a thin film on overnight. Protect the skin with cream from the sun or wind.

Share Your Wisdom

By DR. THOMAS R. GAINES

NEW YORK, (Global) — Most people want to live bravely, honestly, and successfully. No normal person starts out to make a failure of this life. But envy, jealousy and mistrust are allowed to manifest in the mind, and future shadows are being created. Goodwill is comparable to sunlight. It is warming and rejuvenating. Hate is always chilling and destructive for all concerned. Good will is the fore-runner of an improved personality and a possible richer measure of life values. We are here to live life—to live it successfully, we must clothe our thoughts and activities in the mantle of forgiveness, understanding and infinite love.

Passenger: "Why did they build this station so far out of town?"
Station Agent: "Well, I guess it was because they wanted to have it near the railroad."
