PHOENIX, MONDAY MORNING, MAY 19, 1890.

NO. 1

WORK OF CONGRESS.

Silver Legislation Has the Right of Way.

Discussion of the Tariff to be Livelier.

A Bitter Election Contest in Prospect—Overturning 8000 Majority—The River and Harbor Bill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Silver will be the principal topic discussed in the senate again this week. The addresses in memoriam of the late Representative Kelly, of Pennsylvania, will be delivered on Tuesday afternoon and Saturday will be devoted to the calendar. These are the only probable interruptions of the silver debate.

The first three days of the week in the House will witness the closing scenes of the tariff debate, which promises to become much more animated than heretofore. The election committee intend calling up the Alabama contested election case of McPherson vs. Terpin immediately after the tariff bill is disposed of, and as the report of the committee in favor of the contestant involves the inversion of an apparent majority of eight hundred, a bitter resistance is apt to be developed.

The river and harbor people are anxiously waiting for the first opportunity to call up their bill.

A Sleepy Judge.
PITTSBURGH, May 18.—At a meeting of the Executive Board of the Pittsburg Trades Assembly to-night a resolution, which will be forwarded to President Harrison, was passed asking the removal of Judge Joseph McKinnon, of the United States Circuit Court. McDougall, United States Senator from California during the civil war, died on Friday at the house of her son-in-law, John W. Boothby, in New Rochelle, near New York city. Before going to California, Senator McDougall was attorney-general of Illinois.

JAY GOULD WORSTED.

Washington and Villard After Son George.

NEW YORK, May 18.—The Herald understands that George J. Gould is to be recalled from the presidency of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company at the forthcoming election. If this change is brought about it will be the result of a successful deal on the part of C. P. Huntington, of the Central Pacific, and Henry Villard, of the Northern Pacific. His stated, upon what appears to be good authority, that a majority of the Pacific Mail Company's stock has already been transferred to the names of Huntington and Villard, or their representatives, for the purpose of enabling them to oust young Gould.

served in the Confederate artillery and on Early's staff.

A WAITERS' STRIKE.

It is Said to be Imminent in Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 18.—The Waiters' Union threaten trouble the coming week. They have resolved to make a number of demands upon all the leading hotels and restaurants, and the proprietors met this afternoon and unanimously resolved to resist them. The leaders claim that they will strike if the demands are not granted.

German Aggression in Africa.

AN UNFOTUNATE CONSUL.

KILLED BY AN EXPLOSION OF POWDER AT HAVANA.

Venezuela's Representative Comes to an Untimely End—Four Fire Chiefs Also Killed.

HAVANA, May 18.—During a fire in a hardware store here last night a barrel of powder exploded. The whole structure was blown to pieces and twenty-two persons were killed. Among the dead are four fire chiefs. The Venezuelan Consul, Don Francisco Silva, who happened to be in front of the building at the time of the explosion was thrown twenty feet into the air and his head literally blown from his body. In addition to those killed, over one hundred persons were injured. The explosion caused the wildest excitement throughout the city, and thousands flocked to the scene of the disaster, while the municipal authorities were promptly on the ground and did everything in their power to aid the injured. Several houses adjacent to the burned building were damaged by the explosion.

The search in the ruins has gone on without ceasing ever since the explosion, and up to this evening thirty-four bodies had been recovered. Gangs of men are constantly at work in the debris, and many human limbs belonging to no bodies, so far as found, have been taken out.

The relatives of the missing persons are gathered on the spot in great numbers, and as the bodies are brought out some distressing sights are witnessed.

The proprietor of the wrecked hardware store has been arrested.

It is feared that there are several more bodies of victims in the ruins.

SAN FRANCISCO SUICIDE.

He Shoots Himself Because a Girl Rejects Him.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—Charles Bockstain, book-keeper for the San Francisco Savings Union, committed suicide by shooting to-day on an Oakland ferry boat. He had proposed to a young lady at a picnic from which he was returning and had been rejected.

YOUNG YTURBIDE.

HE TALKED TOO MUCH FOR HIS GOOD.

A Lieutenant Abusing President Diaz Leads Him in a Mexican Military Prison.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 18.—The Mexican papers are giving undue importance to the Yturbide incident. Yturbide is a young man, now a Second Lieutenant of cavalry, with no official standing, though he has some money which enables him to make frequent trips to the United States. During the last trip he is reported to have said that he represented the Conservative party. The local press took up the matter when he rushed into print, publishing a letter in which he criticised the government, the Liberal party and President Diaz, who is Commander-in-Chief of the army. For this he was sent to the military prison. The authorities attach little importance to the affair, though they are inquiring to ascertain whether he was instigated by others.

PRACTICING ECONOMY.

The Southern Pacific Cuts Down its Law Force.

Attorneys Will be Paid Only for Actual Service.

Other official Changes—Over the Cascades—An Insane Woman Who Says She is From Arizona.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—Not long ago Colonel C. F. Crocker stated that for several years past, the expense of maintaining the law department of the Southern Pacific had been reduced at the rate of $45,000 a year. That department of the railroad is now being organized in furtherance of the company's policy of general retrenchment by the retirement of ex-Judge L. D. McKetrick, for many years connected with the law department. E. D. Craig, who has been with the company for twenty years past, becomes associate counsel. A. B. Hotchkiss, it is said, will be placed in charge of the company's law business in the Southern part of this State. It is also rumored that various attorneys throughout the interior of the state, who are now paid substantial salaries, will hereafter be remunerated only for work actually done. That is, instead of receiving salaries these attorneys will be paid fees. J. C. Gould, the new street railway claim adjuster, will retire, that office having been or is about to be consolidated with the like office for the railroad proper, which has for many years been in charge of H. V. Herbert. He will continue in charge.

OVER THE CASCADES.

The Steamer West Queen Shows the Columbia Rapids.

PORTLAND, May 18.—The stern-wheel steamer West Queen, belonging to the United Pacific Railway Company, was successfully taken over the Cascades on the Columbia river this afternoon. The boat has been running on the upper river, but was no longer needed there, so the company decided to bring it over the falls and use it on the lower river, where traffic is at present heavy.

WHO KNOWS HER?

A Crazy Woman Claiming to Be From Arizona.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—An old and half-witted woman was lodged in the City Prison yesterday by a Park policeman, who had found her camping and sleeping out in Golden Gate Park. She says her name is Susie Marshall, and that her home is at Fort Smith, Kansas, but that she has been wandering about the country for over two years. She arrived here from Arizona by way of Southern California three days ago. Having no place to stop, she thought that in a free country the open air should be allowed her to live in. When arrested the woman had an axe and butcher knife, both of which she stated were her only belongings and were necessary for her use when camping out.

TRAIN HOMEWARD BOUND.

NEW YORK, May 18.—George Francis Train arrived this morning on the Etruria. He takes a special train for Tacoma.

ROAD TO SAN DIEGO.

THE SEABOARD CITY INTERESTED IN THE PLAN.

Review of the Railroad Situation in The Great Southwest—Notes of Interest.

The San Diego World, a daily paper just started on the great bay of the Southwest, has the following of local interest:

We have just received positive and reliable information from Phoenix, Arizona, saying that the construction of a railroad there running northward to a connection with the Atlantic Pacific railroad is being pushed, and its early completion is a certainty. It is being pushed by "Diamond Joe" Reynolds, the millionaire Mississippi River steamboat owner, who has a large fortune.

About a year ago the incorporators of said railroad now being built northwards from Phoenix, also incorporated a company to build southwesterly to a connection with the Southern Pacific at Yuma, anticipating a road being built from here to said last point.

We understand that enterprising Phoenix will be as liberal towards a road from Phoenix to Yuma, connecting with a line from here, as she was towards the road now being built from Phoenix northward, to which she gave a quarter of a million subsidy. With three-quarters of a million subsidy for a line from San Diego to Phoenix, the rich Salt River Valley will soon enjoy the benefits of a railroad to tide-water.

While this announcement is somewhat premature, THE ARIZONA REPUBLICAN is in position to say that the next three years will see more railroad building in the southwest than has been done in twenty years. These lines will nearly all head for San Diego bay and two of them at least will pass through Phoenix. The vast resources of this country are being appreciated by money men abroad and its prosperous future is assured. Within a year Phoenix will not only be connected with Prescott by rail, but at least one other line of railroad will be in process of construction.

FROM ALASKAN WATERS.

The First of the Pacific Fleet Reaches Port.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—Stemmer St. Paul, Captain Erskine, arrived from Ounalsaka via Nainimo and Port Townsend this morning. She brought a small cargo of coal and 143 packages of seal skins for the United States Marshal. The latter were seized by the revenue cutters last night. The St. Paul brings the first news from the Alaskan canneries on Caribuk river. Work was going on before she left and all the canneries were running. The steamer, Dora, which sailed from San Francisco, March 26, arrived at Kodiak after a voyage from Ounalsaka of seventeen days, her machinery having broken down on the trip. The St. Paul brought down several passengers. Captain Erskine heard nothing of the eruption of the Cogolai volcano, further than that the mountain is still active.

A Pioneer of '51.

SAN JOSE, May 18.—O. K. Alley, who has been a prominent orchardist of this county for nine years past, died to-night of pneumonia. He was a native of Nantucket, aged 66 years, a pioneer of Contra Costa County.

NOT IN POLITICS.

Huntington Makes Rather an Unofficial Denial.

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—C. P. Huntington and his Secretary arrived in this city this afternoon. In a conversation with a reporter Mr. Huntington said that his visit had no reference to railroad extension in Southern California.

"We do not know exactly what we shall do as yet," he said. "We are merely traveling over the state to see what we shall build whenever a new road is needed and business will justify it."

A TALK BY BISMARCK.

Significant Remarks By the Old Soldier.

Germany Will Never Attack France Unprovoked.

The Empire Understands That The Czar Would Interfere in Behalf of France.

PARIS, May 18.—Le Matin publishes an interview had with the French journalist, Des Solx, who was recently entertained by Bismarck. Bismarck referred to his resignation as a first class funeral, but added he was quite alive still. He declared, among other things, that Germany would never attack France or provoke France to attack her. Germany well understands that Russia would intervene to protect France, if attacked, just as Germany would aid Austria if Russia attacked her.

Pan-Slav Congress.

VIENNA, May 18.—Pan-Slavists are arranging for the holding of a Slav congress somewhere in Russia similar to the Prague congress of 1848. The object is to decide in regard to the language of intercourse of all the Slav races and to found a Pan-Slavist league under the patronage of the Czar.

DOWN IN THE DEEP.

A Ship Sinks and Six Persons Are Drowned.

LONDON, May 18.—The steamer Harold, bound from Billbas to Glasgow, foundered off the Irish coast. Six persons were drowned.

Paris' Great Race.

PARIS, May 18.—The race for the grand coupe des produits, worth about 20,000 francs, was won by the colt Pacheco.

A Close Call.

HEALDERSBURG, Cal., May 18.—Cris Merchant's house, near this city, was burned this morning and August Armbruster, who was asleep in the place, narrowly escaped being burned to death. The loss is about $7,000, with no insurance.

GUNNING SECRETARY.

How the Frenchman Bullied the Copper Market.

PARIS, May 18.—At the trial of the copper syndicate men it has been proved that Secretan, as director of the Societe des Metaux, distributed fictitious profits for 1887, and used improper means to bull copper, raising the price from under 1000 francs per ton to over 2000 francs, and clearing within two months 10,000,000 francs. The defense is that the article of the penal code on which the charge is based does not apply to this particular case. Hentsch, on being examined, admitted that while he was chairman of the Comptoir Escompte he knew nothing of the dealings of that institution with the Societe des Metaux. He also testified that the board rarely listened to the manager's reports, simply letting things slide.

WARLIKE ATTITUDE.

The Czar Talks Business to the Porte.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 18.—The Porte has not yet replied to Russia's claim for the payment of the arrears of the war indemnity. The Russian Ambassador, in an urgent note to the Porte, demands the payment of arrears from the loan, otherwise, he adds, Russia will reserve the right to take further measures.

AN OCEAN RACE.

Three Great Atlantic Steamers Struggling For Supremacy.

LONDON, May 18.—The Anchor Line steamer City of Rome sailed from Queenstown at 12:30 to-day. The Guion Line steamer Alaska sailed at 12:30 and the Cunard steamer Aurania at 2 p. m. All went ahead on full steam directly after they cleared Queenstown harbor. There is heavy betting on the result of the race.

Does Boulanger Give it up?

LONDON, May 18.—Boulanger has informed his friends that he has written a letter by which he has dissolved the Boulanger National Committee. This does not mean he is renouncing his claims, the General says, but that he desires the absence of any medium between the universal suffrage of the people and himself.

CRIMINAL ASSAULT.

DASTARDLY ATTEMPT AT OUTRAGE YESTERDAY.

A Lesson to the Parents of Phoenix-Officers Pursuing the Wretch Last Night.

At about four o'clock yesterday afternoon the 8-year-old daughter of one of the most prominent citizens of Phoenix, a deputy county official, was playing beside the city ditch at the north end of Center street.

The little one finally grew tired at her play and sat down to rest. Presently an attaché of one of the faro games of the city, who had been watching her, saw a large, powerful-looking man, a stranger and apparently a foreigner of some sort, come lounging along Center street and sit down beside the girl.

Presently the stranger took hold of the child and began taking improper liberties with her, upon which she tried to break away from him. Seeing her

The Insane Asylum and Prison on Trial.

A Review of These Cases Up To Date.

How The Zulick Hold-Overs Were Contending For a Principle and Wouldn't Yield to Law.

The so-called penitentiary and insane asylum cases, involving the Zulick and Wolfley appointments on the boards, are set for hearing today.

Considerable interest is felt in these cases, and a review of them up to date may not be uninteresting.

On April 10, 1890, Governor Wolfley nominated to the Territorial Council a full set of Territorial officers, and they were duly confirmed by the Council. They qualified and entered upon the duties of their offices. Then was put in operation a scheme to keep these lawful appointees out of their several offices in defiance of law. C. Meyer Zulick, who had just gone out of the office of Governor, has been charged with having conceived the scheme and promoted it. All the offices had been previously filled by Governor Zulick, but the Council rejected the nominations and the Zulick appointees simply held the individual commission of a deposed Governor, saving a few, who were confirmed in March, 1887, and whose terms of office had expired in March, 1889. These Zulick nominees, however, despite their rejection by the Council, refused to retire or surrender their offices when the appointees of Governor Wolfley, who had all been confirmed, demanded their positions.

The Zulick nominees then claimed that there was no lawful legislative Assembly in session when Governor Wolfley made his appointments and that they were entitled to hold over perpetually until there should be a legal Council in session to confirm the appointment of their successors.

Governor Wolfley refused to recognize them and an unhappy state of affairs has existed ever since, giving an opportunity for the depreciation of the Territorial officers. Auditor Wolfley's continued to draw warrants in defiance of law, but Governor Wolfley refused to countersign them, acting under the guidance of common-sense and legal advice. These warrants were not accepted or registered, and not paid by the Territorial Treasurer. The warrants drawn by Auditor Huglied, Governor Wolfley's appointee, have, however, been regularly countersigned, accepted, registered and paid by the treasurer when funds were on hand for that purpose. When there were no funds on hand the hue and cry of illegality, which the holdovers and Auditor Wolfley's retainers maintained, enabled the rant speculators to depreciate the market value of the warrants and to purchase them for a time below par.

All this while the Zulick holdovers were contending that they were acting in good faith, that all they wanted was a decision of any court of law of the legislative session, and if against them they would retire at once, but that until such a decision should be made they would continue to hold on at whatever cost, expense, loss or injury to the Territory. In January last a case was presented to the Superior Court of Arizona involving all these questions and after an elaborate argument it was submitted to that Court and taken under advisement. About two months ago a decision was rendered, being the case of Cheney against Smith, with which the whole Territory is familiar. The decision was to the effect that the Legislature was lawfully in session in April, 1889, that all of Governor Wolfley's appointees were entitled to their offices and that the holdovers were usurpers.

Though this decision was duly rendered, published and officially brought to the attention of the holdovers, they failed to abide by it or by their loudly made promises. The principle for which they claimed to be contending was upset, but they still held on.

Under this state of the case Attorney General Churchill instituted suits in behalf of the Territory against the following persons for usurpation of office: C. R. Hakes and Maurice B. Fleischman, directors of the Insane Asylum; P. K. Brady and Thomas Zalleck, Commissioners Territorial Prison; John H. Behan, Superintendent Territorial Prison; Joseph J. Stein, Secretary Territorial Prison; Frank Baxter and Ben Goldman, members board of education, of Normal School; J. L. B. Alexander, Secretary Insane Asylum; Fred J. Fleischman, Treasurer of the Insane Asylum; Doctor Titus, Resident Physician and Superintendent Insane Asylum; Thomas E. Farish, Commissioner of Immigration. These suits are on the calendar and are set for trial to-day.

Deputy United States Marshal Mills has gone to Camp Apache on official business.

Charles Holburn, the well-known wholesale liquor dealer of Florence, is registered at the Mills House.

Internal Revenue Collector A. J. Keen, of Tucson, is at the Mills.

Major L. Neustadter, of Tucson, is in the city attending court in his capacity as Deputy United States Marshal.

All the style.

Miss Nora McInerney says she is glad to find that the minnet is coming into the stable again. Iver since she dropped the flat-iron on her left-fat bunion it's no good she wor for a reel, or even a polky. But she thinks she kin do charmin' in a dance tho's nothin' but shied wan fat after th'other, bow, an' the more time ye take the better dance ye are.
