The morning Joss had better get the permission of Mr. Schoenfeld before it uses his name for statements in its columns.

The morning Chinese Joss says that a "Tombstone Chinaman stated to a citizen of this city, that 'me got money me go China, you go to hell,' and still it sticks up for the Chinaman. Comment is unnecessary.

The morning China Joss would like very much to change its course in regard to the Chinese business, and unsay the insults that it has offered to six hundred free born citizens who are now upon the Anti-Chinese roll, but its sophistry will not take, and it cannot hoodwink our citizens.

There will be a circuit at Judge Alford's court to-morrow, the case being a trial of a lady who has been brought up before his honor on a charge preferred by the District Attorney and his Trixie Pro-Chinese.

We wonder whether that pervert of truth and degrader of labor Harry Brook, will get a new pair of glasses by to-morrow evening, so that he can truthfully report the number of people who attend the Anti-Chinese meeting.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, April 5, 1886.

MR. EDITOR.—It was generally believed that when the Edmunds' resolutions were passed by the Senate last week that the matter had been finally disposed of. Practically, however, the debate has been resumed, though the public will no longer be afflicted, as the scene of the battle has been transferred to the secret executive sessions and Republican caucuses. The Republicans have discovered that they are as much at sea as ever as to how executive nominations are to be treated. The trouble originated in some very plain words used by Senator Logan regarding the hypocrisy of some of his colleagues in proposing to confirm internal revenue collectors immediately after declaring themselves in favor of the Edmunds' resolutions. The Illinois Senator's speech led to replies from several senators, and these in turn to others, until the Republicans found themselves so thoroughly tangled up that it became necessary to call a caucus to set themselves right again. The question, concerning which there seems to be a difference of opinion, is as to whether the Edmunds' resolutions shall be considered as a basis for future action or as a mere enunciation of principle. The House committee on foreign affairs voted on Friday to favorably report the bill authorizing the President to invite the governments of Mexico, Central and South America to join the United States in a conference to consider questions relating to the business relations between the countries, and to encourage such reciprocal commercial relations as will benefit all. Judge Thatcher, of Kansas, late member of the South American Commission, called upon the President on Friday. He stated to Mr. Cleveland what in his opinion was needed to foster commercial relations between the United States and South America. He said that steamship lines were required to carry the products of this country to those parts of the world, and that such lines could not be established unless the Government encouraged capitalists to invest their money in this way by liberal compensation for the transportation of the mails. The House has spent most of the week in discussing the labor arbitration-bill. Many amendments have been made, and a great variety of opinions have been expressed during the debate, and although there is no prospect of an immediate disposition of the bill, it is quite certain that if a vote is reached it will be in favor of the bill, principally because a majority of the members prefer to go before a constituency of workmen with a record of having labored in their interests. There are many, however, who believe that the bill will never be voted upon, and there is a doubt but that in its present form it is open to serious objection. The sudden and serious illness of Secretary Manning has led to an investigation of the sanitary condition of the treasury Department building which results in the disclosure of some startling facts. It was found that sewer pipes running beneath the floors of the corridors in the basement had not been cleaned during the past ten years, and a mass of debris having accumulated in the pipes a free circulation of air was prevented. Breaks in the pipes allow foul air to escape. To this deplorable and dangerous condition of affairs is doubtless due much of the sickness which has prevailed among the inmates of the building. There are more than 2,000 persons regularly employed in the building, in addition to the great number of persons whose business requires them to visit the department daily. An appropriation of $100,000 has been asked for, for use in improving the sanitary condition and ventilation of the building. It is proposed to place fans in the four interior corridors of the sub-basement to force the air into the rooms by means of flues or pipes. During the winter the air will be passed over coils of steam pipes, and thus heated before entering the rooms. H.

ORANGE BLOSSOMS.

The Nuptials of Richard Rundle and Miss Florence Robinson, of Bisbee, Celebrated Yesterday.

Yesterday the Rev. Mr. Haskins joined in the holy bonds of matrimony Richard Rundle and Miss Florence Robinson, both of Bisbee. Dick is well known in this city as a man of worth and intelligence, and his good qualities have made him hosts of friends, and also shows the good taste and sound sense of Miss Robinson in choosing him as her partner for life. Miss Robinson is one of the most charming young ladies in Arizona, and a fit companion for our genial friend Dick and the announcement of her wedding will cause the heart of many of Bisbee's susceptible young men to stand still.

THE DAILY TOMBSTONE in common with the numerous friends of the happy couple, extends its congratulations and earnestly hopes that when the sands of time have run they may walk hand in hand together down the road of life, surrounded by loving children and grand children.

A NEW FIRM That Deserves the Patronage of Our Saloons and Cigar Merchants.

Since the Chinese agitation began in California in dead earnest, a party of practical cigar-makers who had been thrown out of employment through Chinese cheap labor, banded themselves together under the name of the Pennsylvania White-Labor Cigar Company and purchased a stock of pure Havana tobacco and commenced the manufacture of cigars. So well they make them, and of so fine a quality, that they were soon crowded with orders, and in order to fill the same they were compelled to employ from fifty to seventy-five additional employes, and right gladly did they do so, employing only first-class workmen and women and those who were needy. They now have one of the largest establishments in San Francisco. Their success has been phenomenal, and orders are pouring in upon them from every town and hamlet on the Pacific Coast. The first to place an order with them from this city was Frank Broad, who is now in receipt of his cigars, which have been declared by experts to be superior to any sold in this city heretofore. We would suggest to the lovers of a good cigar that they visit Frank Broad's saloon and sample one of the cigars as we have, and then wherever they trade call for a Pennsylvania cigar.

A LIE NAILED MONGOLIAN

The Means Resorted to by the Lovers of the Soothing Chinese Joss

TOMBSTONE, April 5.—The President and Treasurer of the Local Anti-Chinese League to-day handed in their resignations, for the reason that they do not indorse the action of the League in boycotting the business men before they get a chance to obtain suitable white labor. This about breaks up the League, as almost all the respectable elements have withdrawn from it. The above dispatch to the San Francisco papers, shows to what despicable means Berry, Dunbar, Savage and Brook will resort. These resignations were not published in the Chinese Joss until the 6th of April, nor were they received by the Secretary of the Anti-Chinese League until the 6th, yet they were telegraphed to San Francisco by these Chinese lovers before they were presented to the League or published in the Chinese Joss, and under the announcement of the resignation of the President and Treasurer. They announce that "This breaks up the League as almost all the respectable element have withdrawn from it."

This must be gratifying to the six hundred citizens whose names are now enrolled as members of the Anti-Chinese League to hear that "the respectable members of the League" had almost all withdrawn from it. When as a matter of fact the only men who have asked to have their names erased from the roll of membership are Dr. Willis and John Montgomery, while Joe Pascholy claimed his name was never on the list. We would suggest that the Executive Committee of the Anti-Chinese League telegraph to the San Francisco papers that the above dispatch is a lie, and charge that blackmailer Harry Brook with its authorship.

The City Council met this afternoon. In the Recorder's Court to-day Miss Roe, one of the Sixth street damsel's, was fined $40 for contempt of court.

Mr. W. M. Constable, who secured the contract from the city Council to erect a bell tower on top of the City Hall, commenced operations to-day. It is thought by to-morrow evening the members of Rescue Hose Company will be able to tap the bell.

"Chinese" or "No Chinese" is the question that is agitating the people of Tombstone and the whole Pacific Coast. The true citizens have placed themselves on record and will not have Chinese in our midst if they can be removed by peaceable means.

If it had not been that an Anti-Chinese League had been formed in Tombstone—with the bone and sinew of the city—to-day Tombstone (the banner city of Arizona) would have been overrun by the pig-tailed Mongolians. Through the efforts of the Anti-Chinese League fully 500 Chinamen have steered clear of this American city. The howling Chinese lovers are kicking for no other reason in the world but one—and that is no white man will work for the wages that a Chinaman will. Members of the League stick by your oaths, and see that American citizens are protected in their rights.
