ETHER AND ICE CREAM Ether has been adapted to a new role of usefulness by P. N. Peter, chemist of the dairy division of the United States Department of Agriculture. Mr. Peter recently discovered its value as an agent in determining the expansion in force when freezing ice cream. It is the first time that ether has been applied in the process of refrigeration. The apparatus consists of a large Dewar flask wrapped in heavy felt.

RESOLUTION AND CALL FOR SCHOOL BOND ELECTION

WHEREAS, the Board of Trustees of School District No. 6 of Navajo County, Arizona, otherwise known as the "Taylor School District", has pursuant to the provisions of Paragraph 5267 of the Revised Statutes of Arizona, 1913, requested the Board of Supervisors of Navajo County, Arizona, to issue a call for a School Bond Election within said School District No. 6 of Navajo County, Arizona, for the purpose of submitting to the property tax payers, who are in all respects qualified electors of said School District No. 6, the question whether said School District No. 6 shall be authorized to borrow the sum of Fourteen Thousand and Five Hundred ($14,500.00) Dollars, for the purpose of purchasing a proper school site, erecting a school house and furnishing and equipping the same, and whether the bonds of said School District No. 6 shall be issued and sold in the sum of Fourteen Thousand Five Hundred ($14,500.00) Dollars, said bonds to consist of fifteen bonds numbered from One to Fifteen, inclusive, numbers One to Fourteen to be in the denomination of One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars each, and number Fifteen to be in the denomination of Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars, said bonds to be dated January 15, 1923, and payable in 20 years from date, and to bear interest at the rate of (6) six per cent. per annum, payable semi annually, but reserving to said School District No. 6 the right to redeem said bonds at any time after five years from the date of issue; and WHEREAS, it appearing that said School District No. 6 is not indebted in any manner whatever, and it appearing that there is within said School District No. 6 taxable property, according to the 1922 assessment roll, valued at $244,000.00, and it further appearing that the incurring of said indebtedness for the issuance of said bonds will not cause the indebtedness of said School District No. 6 to exceed the constitutional and statutory limits; NOW, THEREFORE, in compliance with the request of the said Trustees of said School District No. 6, it is hereby ORDERED that a School Bond Election be held in the public school house at Taylor, Navajo County, Arizona, on the 6th day of January, A. D. 1923, between the hours of 6 a. m. and 6 p. m. of said day, and the following persons are hereby appointed as officers of election to conduct said school bond election, to-wit: Arthur Palmer, Inspector; James J. Shumway and Joseph Nelson, Judges; Mary Shumway and Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, Clerks; Joseph T. Cooper, Marshal.

It is further ordered that notice of said school bond election be published in the Holbrook News for at least thirty days prior to said date of election, commencing with the issue of December 1st, A. D. 1922, and ending with the issue of January 5th, A. D. 1923, (making six successive issues of said newspaper), and that notice be also given by posting notices of said bond election at five of the most public places in said School District No. 6 and at the polling place above named for at least twelve days next prior to said school bond election. The notice of election hereinbefore provided shall be as follows: NOTICE OF SCHOOL BOND ELECTION NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN: That pursuant to the provisions of an order and resolution of the Board of Supervisors, of Navajo County, Arizona, duly adopted and entered upon the minutes of said board on the 8th day of November A. D. 1922, under and pursuant to the request of the Board of Trustees of School District No. 6 of Navajo County, Arizona, and in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 5267 of the Civil Code of Arizona providing for county and municipal indebtedness, an election will be held in the said School District No. 6, in the town of Taylor, Navajo County, Arizona, between the hours of six o'clock a. m. and six o'clock p. m. in the public school house in said School District No. 6, on the 6th day of January, A. Tree Toads

(To be read aloud.) A tree toad loved a she toad that lived up in a tree. She was a three-toed tree toad, but a two-toed toad was he. The two-toed tree toad tried to win the she toad's friendly od. For the two-toed tree toad loved the ground that the three-toed tree toad trod. But vainly the two-toed tree toad tried; he couldn't please her whim; In her tree toad bower, with her veto power, the she toad vetoed him.

"KILLED" SOLDIER IS GIVEN D. S. C.

Hero Reported Dead Is Decorated for Meritorious Service on Field of Battle.

Wounded Forty-Four Times in Attempting to Clean Out Machine Gun Nest at Chateau Thierry—Wife Insisted He Wasn't Dead.

Omaha, Neb.—Lieut. "Big Jim" Hanbery, formerly a teacher in Kansas Manual Training Normal at Pittsburg, Kan., who was "killed" at Chateau Thierry, and for whom funeral services and memorial exercises were held in Pittsburg, Tulsa and Enid, Okla., and several other places, was called before the commandant at Fort Crook and before 1,000 soldiers decorated with the distinguished service cross for meritorious service on the field of battle in France. Before pinning the cross on his breast the commanding officer read to Hanbery a personal letter from General Pershing and another from Governor Allen of Kansas, each commending him for the service he had performed. Although he was officially "killed" at Chateau Thierry, Hanbery is now a newspaper reporter in Omaha.

Wounded Forty-Four Times. Briefly, this was the service for which Hanbery was decorated: At Chateau Thierry he undertook, with a platoon of men, to clean out a German machine gun nest. He was wounded 44 times, left for dead on the battlefield for 36 hours, crawled and rolled three miles to the American lines, spent many months in a hospital and today carries one bullet in his body and four pieces of a high-explosive shell in his head.

"Big Jim" (he stands six feet two inches in his bare feet) was teaching at Pittsburg when the war broke out. He didn't wait for the draft, but enlisted at once. He went through one of the training camps, was commissioned lieutenant and married to Miss Nellie Crane, teacher in the same school at Pittsburg. He was lieutenant of Company L, Fifty-ninth Infantry, Fourth division, and in this capacity went to France.

The War department cabled his wife in Pittsburg and his parents in Enid of his "death." When the funeral services were arranged Mrs. Hanbery refused to attend. "Jim is not dead," she insisted. Everybody pitied her. But she insisted "Jim is not dead." Papers Played Up His Death. Kansas and Oklahoma papers played up his "death."

Do You Remember This One

It was just ten years ago and just such a clear crisp New Years as this bids fair to be. We took part in a picnic out at the Petrified Forest and on the way home the doughty fifty horse power Kessel Car, owned by a certain El Paso banker who shall be nameless, baulked at the hill just beyond the spot where it rises beyond the cement bridge over the Little Colorado. But then there was no cement bridge, just the old steel one which fell during the flood several years ago when the St. Johns reservoir went on a rampage. That was before the days when a driver expected his car to climb anything short of a stone wall, and we spent some little time making the ascent, but at last, tired, hot, and dusty, we finally reached Holbrook, but a much smaller Holbrook than we see now.

Then in the evening there was a dance. It was a genuine old fashioned dance, too. Held down in the old Woods Hall, and tired as we were we had the time of our lives. There was a pile of odoriferous, drying hides in one corner and the floor wasn't very smooth, but we didn't mind that. Teep's office in the front corner kind'o narrowed down the space at the door but there was still plenty of room for the "stags" to congregate in the draughty spot.

And DANCE—say, the way we danced then was really exercise, two-step, and waltz, with about every fourth dance a quadrille, made you hustle to catch up with your breath. Well, we are not in the lightweight class now, and we weren't then, and as we watched the lighter ones whirled through the mazes of 'cage the bird' or 'go to jail' and 'all go to church', we decided that if they had us in a set they wouldn't find the swinging quite so easy.

But we know more about it now, for the next set was ours and the masculine part of it was a husky bunch. There was John Divilbess, Geo. Hennessey, Emmet Wallace, and Harry Jamison from Denver, and what they didn't know about a square dance you could put in a gnat's eye. Geo. Hennessey did the calling and the fun was on.

The spectators sitting on the boards around the hall laughed until they nearly knocked the slivery planks from their supporting stools and kegs, and still the dance went on. By the time it was over there wasn't a single speck of breath left to us and we had been swung clear off the floor so many times we'd lost count.

But we had a wonderful time although some of the young snips looked disdainful and talked longingly of a new dance 'the one-step' which was just coming in, and which was sure to be a huge success, but they were afraid to risk it that night as it might be too much of an innovation.

Thus do we travel on through the years even in Holbrook. So perhaps you'll see why, when we read the following poem handed to us by W. B. Cross and published in K. Lamity's "Harpoon" of Texas, it brought back pleasant memories, and we stopped awhile and read it again and dreamed a little of things that are past and gone and finally decided to hand it on to you, dear reader, and in memory of this far past New Year to wish you "many more and happy memories." At The Cowboy Dance Get yer little sage hens ready Trot 'em out upon the floor— Line up there, you cusses! Steady! Lively, now! One couple more. Shorty, shed that old sombrero; Bronco, douse that cigarette; Stop that cussin', Casimero, 'Fore the ladies! Now all set! S'lute yer ladies, all together! Ladies opposite the same— Hit the lumber with yer leathers! Balance all, an' swing yer dame!! Bunch the heifers in the middle; Circle stags an' do-se-do! Pay attention to the fiddle! Swing her 'round an' off you go! First four forward! Back to places! Second follow—shuffle back! Now you've got it down to cases— Swing 'em till their trotters crack! Gents all right a-heel-and-toin! Swing 'em, kiss 'em if you kin— On to next an' keep a-go-in' Till you hit yer pards ag'in!! Gents to center; ladies round 'em, Form a basket; balance all! Whirl yer gals to where you found 'em! Promenade around the hall!! Balance to yer pards an' trot 'em Round the circle double quick Grab 'an kiss 'em while you've got 'em— Hold 'em to it if they kick! Ladies' left hand to your sonnies! Alaman! Grand right an' left! Balance all, an' swing yer honeys— Pick 'em up an' feel their heft! Promenade like skeery cattle— Balance all an' swing yer sweets! Shake yer spurs and make 'em rattle! Keno! Promenade to seats.
