LOCAL NOTES.

Silver is quoted at 65 1/2.

A Mexican circus is headed for Tombstone.

The board of supervisors meet on the 21st inst.

Taxes are coming in fairly well at the county treasurer's office.

E. J. Jacklin and Lem Overlock are visitors to the county seat on a brief business visit.

The family of Wm. Fourr has moved to town so that the children can have the benefit of our school.

Mr. St. Clair of Picacho district near Yuma left for a visit to Bisbee, to see the great copper camp.

A double headed freight train consisting of sixteen loaded cars left Nogales for the east Saturday morning.

In answer to a query we would state that it is generally understood that the N. M. & A. intend to continue Sunday service regularly.

Oscar C. Felton of Mesa, challenges anyone in the territory to a steering contest on a wager of from $100 to $200 a side. Here is a chance for some of our Cochise county cowboys.

Yavapai county supervisors are wrestling with the $212,000 bonds of the defunct railroad from Prescott to Prescott Junction. The bonds were dead until a late act of congress resurrected them.

No news has been received of the whereabouts of Black Jack and his pals or of the workings of the various posses. The officers are quietly at work and no news of their whereabouts is made public.

Awarded Highest Honors—World's Fair, DR. PRICES' CREAM BAKING POWDER MOST PERFECT MADE.

A pure Grape Cream of Tartar Powder. Free from Ammonia, Alum or any other adulterant. 25 YEARS THE STANDARD.

Every holder of an unpatented mining claim should see to it that claim jumps will find scanty picking on Jan. 1st, '97. But 28 days remain in which, if not already done, the $100 worth of work or improvements for '96 can be performed.

The noon stage arrived somewhat later than usual today. The delay is occasioned by the non arrival of the N. M. & A. at Fairbank on schedule time. Since mixed trains are being run considerable time is occasionally consumed in connecting freight cars.

MEXICAN BOUNDARY,

Carefully Re-Marked According to Treaty Agreement.

J. W. Barlow, of the corps of engineers, United States Army, has submitted to Secretary Olney the final report of the international boundary commission and the announcement of the completion of the work assigned it. The original commission was concluded July 29, 1882, and subsequently continued by a later convention to October 11, 1896.

The report consists of nearly seven hundred pages of printed matter, accompanied by maps and photographic views. In brief, it shows the complete marking of a series of stone and iron monuments of the entire divisional line from the Rio Grande to the Pacific ocean, about 700 miles.

In accordance with general instructions, the commission erected 258 monuments in all, including all the old ones that could be put in good condition. Most of them are of cast iron, but the principal ones are of stone. They average about two and a half miles between them. Stone was used wherever possible. Generally they are in the form of a simply tapering four-sided shaft, bearing suitable inscriptions in English and Spanish. The stone monuments are about eleven feet high, and the iron monuments about six and a half feet high. They are arranged so that they are within sight of one another from one end to the other.

"We had an epidemic of dysentery in this vicinity last summer," says Samuel S. Pollock, of Briceland, Cal. "I was taken with it and suffered severely until some one called my attention to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I procured a bottle and felt better after the first dose. Before one-half of the bottle had been used I was well. I recommended it to my friends and their experience was the same. We all unite in saying it is the best." For sale by Druggists.

INSPECTION TRIP.

Santa Fe Officials Pass Over the N. M. & A.

The special train bearing the officials of the Santa Fe system returned Saturday from the tour of inspection to Guaymas and southern points and continued their journey north. In the party are Mr. J. J. Frey, general manager of the Santa Fe system, John Player, superintendent of machinery; H. C. Whitehead, general auditor; H. C. Short, general traveling auditor; and John McCarthy, private secretary to Mr. Frey.

The local officials of the N. M. and A. and Sonora roads, Assistant General Manager Nangle, Roadmaster Montague, Trainmaster Gibson and Master Mechanic Johnson, accompanied the party to Benson.

The whole party will probably pass over the new line of the S. F. P. & P. via Phoenix. The Visette thinks it is understood that the company have in contemplation some decided improvements in the service between Benson and Guaymas.

The public schools of San Francisco have been closed on account of the prevalence of diphtheria. Reports from eastern cities show that the disease has taken quite a hold there also.

The church entertainment and fair which will be one week from Thursday next, promises to be a novel and entertaining treat. Some entirely new and unique features will be presented, and altogether its success is assured.

A man can easily ruin his reputation in China. If he rides in the same carriage with his wife the deed is done. In this country men reach the same end by riding in carriages with some one else's wife.—Citizen.

QUEER PEOPLE.

Everything They do is Done Backward.

The Chinese do everything backward. Their compass points to the south, instead of to the north. The men wear skirts and the women wear trousers; while the men wear their hair long, the women coil theirs in a knot. The dressmakers are men, while the women carry burdens. The spoken language is not written, and the written language is not spoken. Books read backward, and any notes are inserted at the top. White is used for mourning, and bridesmaids wear black—instead of being maids these functionaries are old women. The Chinese surname comes first, and they shake their own hands instead of the hand of the one whom they greet. Vessels are launched sideways, and horses are mounted from the off side. They commence dinner with desert, and end with fish and soup.

BOB HAYS DIED GAME.

The Story of the Fight Told by a Participant.

The El Paso Times gives the following story of the recent fight with Black Jack's party in which Bob Hayes was killed:

J. L. Dow, sheriff elect of Eddy county New Mexico and Deputy United States Marshall who was in charge of the posse that killed Bob Hayes of Black Jack's gang on the 18th, was in the city yesterday and to a Times reporter gave the following particulars of the battle in which Bob Hayes was killed:

"On the evening of Tuesday the 17th after following the trail of Black Jack's gang several days we struck the place where they had recently broke camp and from that point the trail led toward Deer Creek. We knew the robbers were out of provisions and concluded they would go into the Diamond A. ranch next morning to secure supplies. In order to get there ahead of them we went around the trail and by hard riding all night reached the Diamond A. ranch at daylight. After getting breakfast we did not have long to wait before, just as we expected two of the robbers came riding into the ranch. They were Bob Hayes and a large dark complexioned man with heavy black mustache and I knew he was Black Jack from the description given me of the leader of the gang. I had two men with me but they were dead game. When the two robbers got within 50 yards of us we covered them and I called out for them to throw up their hands. That however was not their game. Both men snatched out their pistols, jerked their horses' heads up between us and themselves and leaning back in their saddles opened fire, which we returned with interest. In pulling his horse back Black Jack jerked the animal to his snatches and then set him wild by clinching his spurred heel into the animal to keep himself from falling off. The horse began plunging and seeing Hayes fall Jack headed for the brush. Seeing he was about to get away, I shot his horse killing him. The animal rolled over on Black Jack's rifle but he swiftly lifted the horse sufficiently to enable him to secure his gun and he disappeared in the bushes. Bob Hayes, though mortally wounded, fought to a finish, firing two shots at us while he was lying on his back dying. I don't think any of us touched Black Jack; his confounded horse was carousing around at such rate. He rejoined his

ARIZONA ATMOSPHERE.

Park A. Finley Writes of Its Health Restoring Merits.

Park A. Finley, who came to Arizona for health, found the treasure he was seeking, and in the Iowa State Register he has an article in which he tells appreciatively of the glorious air and health restoring qualities of this climate.

Altitude and pure air with medium humidity you get in Colorado. A mild, moist air you find in California. Now, when you come to hunt for a medium altitude with a minimum of moisture and a mild fall, winter and spring, and comfortable living, the text are usually silent. It is the purpose of the writer to call attention to Arizona as combining the requisites just mentioned, knowing as he does, the benefits to be derived from the climate and the merits of the country as a permanent or temporary residence, and the great difficulty of obtaining such information in the east.

ARIZONA LEADS.

She Places Her Orange Crop on the Market First.

The first carload of oranges ever shipped from the Salt River valley will go out this evening over the North and South road for Chicago. The shipment is made by Mr. W. M. Ward from his extensive orange groves north of this city. This shipment will be followed almost daily for some time by carload shipments from the groves of the Arizona Improvement Company and others.—Herald.

men who had remained out in the bushes.

"I had to return to Eddy to file my bond and qualify as sheriff, but left Charlie Ballard in charge of the posse to follow the trail of the gang. Black Jack will be hard to catch as his men can get fresh horses as often as they need them, and they have more friends out there than the officers. I expect to rejoin the chase unless the men are run down before I can get through with my business in Eddy. No, Sheriff Shannon was not in the fight."

This is the first story published of the fight from the lips of one of the men participating in it and tallies with Black Jack's story as he himself told a rancher which was published in the Prospector last night.
