Local Items

Benj. Brown, of Eagar, is in town on business.

To Hell with the Kaiser—Jendike Theater, Saturday, Jan. 18.

Jas. Sorensen was a visitor in town during the week, from the Milky Wash country.

Mrs. Vera Carraway, who has been on an extend visit in the east, returned home last week.

Robert Brown has been on the water wagon during the past week, trying to quench the thirst of the thirsty.

Proposals on janitor work at the court house will be received by the board of supervisors on January 3.

Frank Segna and Paula Gurule of Springerville, were married on January 8th, at the Catholic church at Springerville. Father Derichmont performed the ceremony.

The HERALD was awarded the contract for printing and publishing all notice and proceeding of the board of supervisors. The contract for printing and furnishing stationery, etc. was let to The Observer.

In a letter to his sister Naomi, John Connolly says, that after being in a hospital about two months in France, recovering from a wound received September 4th, he was able to be at the battle front when the armistice was signed.

L. R. Gibbons, member of the board of directors of the Lyman Water Co., and D. K. Udall returned from Phoenix last Monday, where they went to attend a conference of the various interests involved in the Lyman irrigation project.

Ammon Tenney, who was an early day resident of St. Johns, and later moved to Mexico where he resided until he was forced to leave on account of the deprecation in Mexico, arrived in St. Johns last Monday from the southern part of the State.

The genial and smiling countenance of Henry Butler was to be seen in our midst last Saturday. He hails from Eagar, and about the only complaint Henry made was of the weather we are having in St. Johns, which, he says is very much colder than it is at Eagar.

The Becker Mercantile Company will hold their annual mid-winter sale at Springerville, Jan. 21 and 22. If you are in need of dry goods it will pay you call at their store and inspect their stock of goods. Calico will be sold at 8 yards for $1.00, and other merchandise will be offered at greatly reduced prices.

Chamberlain's Tablets.

When you are troubled with indigestion or constipation, take Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Indigestion is usually accompanied by constipation and is aggravated by it. Chamberlain's Tablets cause a gentle movement of the bowels, relieving constipated conditions. Adv

Arrived With Truck.

W. R. Letton and W. T. Schaefer arrived from Los Angeles yesterday, having driven a truck from that point, though they were forced to dig through 30 inches of snow at one point between Ash Fork and Williams. These gentlemen intend to do trucking between St. Johns and Springerville.—Holbrook Tribune

Grandma Greer has Eleven Stars on Service Flag.

Mrs. Ellen C. Greer, of this city, is rejoicing over the arrival of Pratt Guy Greer, the first of her grandsons who went to France to return thus far. Eleven of Mrs. Greer's grandsons entered the service, but not all attained their desire to cross the water.

Pratt Greer enlisted at the beginning of the war and was a non-commissioned officer in the 265th Aero Squadron, American Expeditionary Force, which went to England and later to France.

Gilbert E. Greer, another grandson, volunteered shortly after he had been elected county attorney of Apache county and was in an officer's training school, but was discharged on account of defective eyesight. At the last election he was again chosen to the position of county attorney of Apache, which he had resigned on entering the service.—Holbrook Tribune.

Cured at a Cost of 25 Cents.

"Eight years ago when we first moved to Mattoon, I was a great sufferer from indigestion and constipation," writes Mrs. Robert Allison, Mattoon, Ill. "I had frequent headaches and dizzy spells, and there was a feeling like a heavy weight pressing on my stomach and chest all the time. I felt miserable. Every morsel of food distressed me. I could not rest at night and felt tired and worn out all the time. One bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets cured me and I have since felt like a different person." Adv.

A practical system of good roads in Arizona would prove one of the state's greatest assets. The federal government is prepared, under certain conditions, to expend $900,000 in this state during the coming year, and a large amount of state and county funds will also be expended in road construction. In order to get the best results with the least expenditure of funds, serving effectively all portions of the state, the most careful coordination of road building plans must be secured. A call has been made for a Good Roads Conference to be held at Phoenix, on January 27.

The revival of the "flu" in Phoenix caused the health board to issue orders last Monday morning closing all schools for two weeks and absolutely forbidding school children to run on the streets. Public and private dances and social gatherings of every kind were also prohibited and an absolute quarantine was placed on all houses where there were influenza cases. A large force of special police was appointed to strictly enforce the regulations. There were between 300 and 400 cases of influenza reported in Phoenix last Saturday night and by Monday morning the number had reached 538.—The Observer.

Next Saturday, Jan. 18, will be Women's night at the pool hall. I extend to you a kind invitation to come and bring your husband, father or brother and enjoy the evening. Come early so we won't have to break into our custom of closing early.

Yours truly,
ROY L. MCFATE

Business vs. Religion

BY DON MARIUS.

As the days of reconstruction are drawing near it is well that we begin cleaning house. Some men and great, feared that the world's war might not only stifle civilization but utterly destroy it. Instead it has given it new birth. We shall no longer forget, in our mad race for position and wealth, the duty we owe our fellow man. If our fellow man is less fortunate than we, the greater the duty. Greed and graft must give way to good will and honest dealing. John Doe is an embryo capitalist. He has always managed it so he would not have to work except his head. Now John has a neighbor, a big husky fellow and honest. Being honest and industrious he always has employment. This neighbor however is half witted and easily imposed upon. When he comes home with his pay envelope John meets him with the glad hand. John never violates any law but what he doesn't get of that fellows wages would barely buy bread for the next week.

The country merchant will sell you goods that are shelf worn and out of date and make you think they are just what you want.

If you are unfortunate enough to be in debt and can not pay cash he will charge you more for the actual necessities of life than he does your more fortunate neighbor. The philosophy of why we want to keep the poor man has never been explained.

An employer of labor was paying his help three dollars per day. A man came along who needed work badly. His family was sick and he was broke. He needed work so badly and fearing he would not get it he agreed to work for two dollars per day. He was employed and stayed on the job several months at that wage when others were getting one dollar more. The employer cleaned up about seventy-five dollars on that man's necessity.

A widow woman had a yearling calf that was worth thirty dollars but she was in debt and bills were pressing. She was forced to sell. A stockman learning of her predicament bought the calf for twenty dollars.

These instances are common. They are played every day. Do you approve of them? The man who exploits his neighbor whether mentally or financially at his mercy, tho he may not violate the law, does as vile a thing as if he stole it from his pocket. Yet this is called business. Does your religion approve of this modern day business method? If it does then both your business and religion needs reconstructing. Let me present you a dilemma. If your religion approves of any method by which you may attain any goal great or small by exploiting your fellowman, then to hell with such a religion. That is where it was given birth. But we do not believe any christain religion does approve. If it does not and you practice these methods you are the variest hypocrite when you say you have any religion. Now you have both horns of the dilemma. Either is bad enough but both are real horns.

Let us learn the new lesson, let us heed the dawn of a new and brighter day, let us greet the new civilization with open minds and consecrate ourselves to the religion of humanity.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

January 20 to 25 inclusive at Tucson will be held the Annual Conference. These meetings will be interesting and very valuable to the house wives and farmers all over the State. The subjects such as Home Management; Textiles and Clothing; Home Nursing and Nutrition problems such as—Food for Children; Food Preservation—canning and drying will be discussed.

The railroad is going to give special rates to all who attend.

There will be a banquet on Friday evening to which all the out of town people are invited to be guests of the University. I am sure it will all be interesting, and pay you well for going.

Mrs. Mary Pritner Lockwood (State Home Dem. Agt.) wishes to extend a special invitation to you.

Very cordially yours,
NORA LAMOREAUX,
Co. Home Dem. Agt

KNOW IT WELL Familiar Features Well Known to Hundreds of St Johns People.

A Familiar burden in many a home,
The burden of "bad back."
A lame, a weak or an aching back

Often tells you of kidney ills.
Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Here is good testimony to prove their merits:

Mrs. F. M. Armstrong, 320 Sullivan St., Miami, Ariz., says: "I certainly have had my share of kidney trouble. About 2 years ago I was in a miserable condition on account of kidneys. My back, from my shoulders to my hips ached something awful. Many times spots and specks floated before my sight and I would get terribly dizzy. I was all unstrung and run down when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They helped me from the start and before long, I was cured of the trouble. The cure has lasted, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills."
