

SUMMER TERM—FIVE WEEKS

—AT—

NORTHERN ARIZONA NORMAL SCHOOL,

JUNE 29—JULY 31, 1903.

FLAGSTAFF has the finest Summer climate of any city in America. It has in its immediate environments some of the grandest scenery and places of as great historic interest as any location on the continent. The teachers of Arizona are invited to spend five weeks of their vacation in this climate and become familiar with these environments and take the course of study offered at the Northern Arizona Normal School; thereby becoming better equipped for the work of the following school year. Those who pass the examinations at the close of the Summer session, and make a grade of 80 per cent or above, may be credited on the records of the institution towards subsequent graduation.

Half-fare rates are given, on the certificate plan, to students wishing to attend the Summer session, on both the Santa Fe, Prescott & Phoenix and the main line of the Santa Fe railroads. Return limit August 15, 1903.

The subjects held out to those attending will be Spanish, English, Composition, American Literature, Geology and Physiology, United States History, English Grammar, Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, Psychology, Pedagogy, History of Education, Methods of Primary Reading, General Methods, Physics, Chemistry, and School Law.

Tuition fees are ten dollars for the entire course; but only five dollars to students who are in attendance at the regular course at the Normal through the year. For particulars write A. N. TAYLOR, Principal, or HON. A. A. DUTTON, Secretary Northern Normal Board, FLAGSTAFF, ARIZONA.

J. H. Fry, who last winter stole a horse from Babbitt Brothers, and whom Sheriff Johnson has been looking for ever since, has been arrested in Globe, and Deputy Walker left Monday for Globe to bring Fry to Flagstaff.

Dr. John E. Adams, a graduate of the College of Physicians, of Cleveland, Ohio, and who served one year as house surgeon in the Cleveland General hospital, and six months in St. John's hospital, and spent ten months in taking special courses in the New York Post Graduate Medical School and hospital, in New York City, has associated himself with Dr. W. S. Robinson, for the purpose of the practice of his profession in Flagstaff. The doctor's office is over the postoffice, where he can be found during his office hours.

All arrangements for the Roosevelt excursion to the Grand Canyon have been completed. The excursion will leave on Wednesday morning, May 6th and will consist of three coaches. It is the intention of the committee not to crowd the cars and if you intend going on this excursion you had better secure your ticket. The return will be made after the President's train leaves the Canyon. The President's train is scheduled to pass through Flagstaff at 5:30 o'clock on the morning of May 6th, and those who expected to get a glimpse of the President will be disappointed. The Milton Cornet Band will accompany the excursion. A handsome Navajo blanket will be presented to the President.

The Santa Fe railroad company have commenced a number of improvements of their track on the mountain division. A number of steel bridges will be put in between Flagstaff and Winslow, and the track will be ballasted from Cosnino to a point fifty miles west and new ninety pound steel will be laid from Flagstaff to the top of the hill. The tracks in the Flagstaff yards will be raised one foot. The cinder pit is being operated and the work of ballasting is now going on. There is considerable material in the yard here, and a bridge building crew is here, engaged in work east of this place. For several months there will be from one to two hundred men at work along the line east and west of Flagstaff. The railroad company is, this week, having all it can do to handle the orange traffic, and other freight is side tracked to get the oranges over the road. The Santa Fe is doing an immense passenger and freight traffic at present.
