THE BEST PROOF

YUMA CITIZENS CANNOT DOUBT IT

Doan's Kidney Pills were used—They brought benefit. Time has strengthened the evidence Has proven the result lasting. The testimony is from this locality. The proof convincing.

J. A. Rees, railroad engineer, Palace Hotel, Prescott, Ariz., says: "I was troubled by pain across my kidneys and sides. I think the complaint was due to a cold in my kidneys. If I stooped or brought a strain on my back, I suffered worse. Doan's Kidney Pills brought me relief." (Statement given February 6, 1907.)

MORE THAN SIX YEARS LATER, Mr. Rees said: "Doan's Kidney Pills brought permanent benefit in my case."

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—A net profit excise tax on all manufacturers selling goods to foreign governments, as a substitute for the munitions tax in the pending revenue bill, is being seriously considered by Democrats of the Senate finance committee.

TUCSON, Aug. 11.—Compensation for injury or death while employed, held the attention and consumed time in today's session of the State Federation of Labor. The initiated bill, started by Mahoney of Oatman and drafted by Senator Worsley, was found to be defective.

DREDGES ASTRAY, BREAKS DAM AT HANLON;

would have been completely repaired within a few days.

New piling will have to be driven in place of the piles that have been broken out, and the fact that the entire bed of the river at that point is now carpeted with rock it would seem that the task will be by no means an easy one.

The river is falling quite rapidly, and with every indication that it will continue to fall. It is quite likely the river will find a channel at the exact point where the piles have been broken away, and this will have a strong tendency to force a complete closure of the Hanlon intake. At any rate it will not do the intake any good.

In the meantime, Imperial valley, which had just begun to get about half the water it needs, will now have to be content with what it can get, either much or little. It is a foregone conclusion that the fears expressed a month ago by farmers of the Imperial valley will be more than realized, for unless an abundance of water can be had within the next few days the cotton crop wont be worth picking, water for the cities will be curtailed, and as predicted in these columns a month ago, live stock will have to be driven to the Colorado to quench their thirst.

What a difference to Imperial valley if that great system were connected with Yuma project! Too bad, too bad.

Later

At 3.15 this afternoon the dredger was pulled out.

DAVID STAR JORDAN
THEORISES ON WAR

zineberg, 'reaches down into the very life-blood of the nation, taking the life from the generation yet unborn and robbing them of their birthright—sound mind in sound body.'

"Mr. Stead used to speak to the university men of Great Britain as the 'picked half million,' those who in the future are to command and the world will obey. If there be a half million of these today, fully two-thirds are in the camp or the war trenches. Three-fourths of the students of Oxford are there, and three-fourths of those of Cambridge. The same percentage holds good in the universities of Germany and France.

"They are all engaged in the great race suicide which will leave the Europe of the next generation with less than its half million of strong men in each nation to pick from. The millions that have been slaughtered mean far more than the death of a certain number of men. When a man, in this fashion, mostly heedlessly, and often thanklessly, 'gives his life for his country,' he gives more than his life; he gives the lives of all those who in ages to come should be his descendants.

"I have seen the university men of England and Scotland, fine, vigorous, upstanding fellows, the very cream of humanity, going off to the slaughter. I have seen the 200,000 more or less, left at home in London to be the fathers of the next generation.

"These are correctly described by Gen. Ian Hamilton, who states that an English army inspector could not endure the tens of thousands of weak eyes, incipient deafness, rotten teeth, relaxed throats, hammer toes, flat feet and knock-knees which the army leaves behind. Those infected by vice and saturated by drink are set aside for parenthood, while the 'picked half million,' just as their mature life begins, are shovelled into the trenches along the Tser and the Marne, and in the swamps of East Prussia.

"All this may be necessary, for the Great War is on and the nations involved have no choice but to fight on. But nothing more ruinous to our race or more abhorrent to our consciences can be conceived. Geo. Fitch warns that we shall see in all Europe, when peace comes, 'a startling dearth of ruling class material; you can not improve the chivalry and the flower of a nation by shooting out its brains.'

"That war weakens the breed by depriving it of its finest strain is now an unquestioned fact in biology as in history. This is becoming more and more widely accepted as the crucial argument against the war systems of the world, standing second only in importance to the final argument of the human conscience that murder remains murder even done on a large scale under the sanction of the State and with the blessing of the State Church."
