

LOOK OUT FOR BETTER TIMES

E. R. Pirtle, Optimistic Prophet, Says Arizona Will Fare Very Well at Hands of the Expectant Future

E. R. Pirtle of Douglas is about to qualify in the globe trotting class. If the war had not broken out when it did, it is likely that he would be adding to his qualifications now, but however he is back in Arizona and was in Phoenix yesterday wherefor his many friends are glad. Since leaving Phoenix early this summer on the occasion of his last trip here, he has been to New York, away up in Canada and over on the Pacific coast, which altogether is something of a record of itself.

"Yes, I have been both east and west, and can say that we must expect the best times in Arizona and the southwest that we have ever experienced as soon as the war is closed. I am not hazarding any opinion of how long the war will hold out, but just stop and think what it is costing and how long the various nations can stand it. When they decide to go back into the case of the dove of peace will be the time that America will begin selling them goods by the shiploads, meat, metals and what not."

"There have been too many people anxious to criticize the times. They are not as bad as some would make out. Recently in Los Angeles I visited an establishment where there were hanging on order $900 worth of tailor-made dresses for Arizona women. This looks to me as if there is money in this state somewhere. I must say, however, that I would prefer to patronize Arizona tailors first and thus keep the money at home."

"I am always glad to be a visitor to Phoenix. Sometimes I am almost tempted to come up here and live. Every time I come here there seems to be more friends of mine here than there were the time before." Mr. Pirtle was assured that he was responsible for that, being in a class by himself as a friend maker. He is the southwest agent for the new Cadillac automobile company and since putting an agency in here, has built a handsome large garage, one of the finest in the west which is presided over by that genius Bill Horrell.

ANOTHER JULES VERNE BOOK PICTURIZED

"In Search of the Castaway," is a splendid story by that master of fiction Jules Verne, whose wonderful tale "Around the World in Eighty Days" was declared visionary a few years ago, but which has since become true. "In Search of a Castaway" has been reduced to pictures in common with many other famous stories, and in reality makes a splendid sensational picture. Manager Cavaness of the Plaza Theater has secured the service of the film today. In the picture the spectacle is carried to New Zealand, South America and many other countries under the southern cross. They prove thought just as surely as they fire the imagination. The story is healthy and striking as well as being a masterpiece of photography.

TWO BIG FEATURES TONIGHT AT RIVERSIDE

PRESIDENT IMPRESSED BY RAILROADS ATTITUDE

Believes Lines Should be Encouraged by the Government

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH) WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—President Wilson responded today to the request of several railroad executives who asked him to call to the attention of the country the imperative need that railway credits be sustained and that roads be helped wherever feasible by government agencies or by private co-operative effort.

The president outlined his views for the country in a letter to Frank Trumbull, chairman of the Chesapeake and Ohio board, who acted as spokesman for the railroad presidents who saw Mr. Wilson, Wednesday.

Discussing his action with the callers today, the president said he was greatly impressed with the reasonable attitude of the railroad men. He added they had not displayed any feeling of questionable kind nor criticized the interstate commerce commission.

He did not believe he should advise other governmental agencies which have to do with railroads.

Various reports said the call of the railroad men upon the president was preliminary to a request for an increase in freight rates. Western roads are already preparing such increases for submission to the interstate commerce commission. Under the law the eastern roads may not apply within the next two years for increases on the rates recently adjudicated by the commission. The eastern lines, however, are preparing to effect the economies the commission suggested by making charges for free services to large shippers and to increase their passenger fares.

President Wilson's letter to Mr. Trumbull reflected his confidence in the integrity and soundness of the American railroads and his views that they should not be the subject of agitation.

FOR RELIEF OF MONEY

would care for $80,000,000 of New York city's obligations held abroad, leaving only something like $70,000,000 to be raised outside that city to meet other European obligations of the country should the federal reserve board should the bankers' plan in its entirety.

Tonight came the announcement from the bankers interested that they and the New York city authorities have reached an agreement regarding the city's financial program. Although the exchange market failed to reflect any unusual conditions in connection with the plan for the payment of the city's debts in London and Paris, the belief still prevails that a round amount of gold, probably not less than $25,000,000 will be shipped to Ottawa in connection with the city's obligations. Some leading railroads, including the Pennsylvania, announce additional curtailment of passenger service.

POLICE LEAVE HER STRICTLY ALL ALONE

September Morn Shivers from Stage to Applause of Audience

Those who went to the Columbia theater last night, and every seat was occupied as early as 8 o'clock, to see something "shocking" or naughty were disappointed, for while "September Morn" gave promise of being a bit risqué, there was nothing said or done to give offense, unless a few of the "bold-headed" contingent seated well in front were made nervous by the "baby dolls" coming down and singing over their heads.

A packed theater has a lot to do with the manner a show goes, and the dash and impetus it gave last evening could hardly fail in finding a hearty response, and every member of the Armstrong company worked hard and as their reward were forced to respond with encore time and again.

The novelty of the evening was the work of Bobbie Dean and the chorus in a football number, with the balls being kicked into the auditorium and scores of hands reaching to capture and toss them back again. Miss Hamilton and chorus worked a number from the audience that met with remarkable favor with the male portion and no doubt there were numerous "lectures" delivered to escorts on the return trip back home.

Mr. Henry, the lyric tenor of the company, who has been absent for some little time, was back and in good voice, and his single scored well. Taken all in all, the Columbia is at its best since the opening of the Armstrong engagement, and it is not much of a guess to predict capacity audiences for the remainder of this week.
