To Republicans of Cochise County. The members of the Tombstone Republican Club and all other Republicans of Cochise county will take notice...

Resolved, That this committee call a meeting of the Tombstone Republican Club to be held in the city of Tombstone, Cochise county, Arizona, on Saturday, the 8th day of April, A. D. 1882...

Resolved, That the members of the club be present at said meeting on SATURDAY, APRIL 8th, 1882, at 7 o'clock p. m. and that all towns and precincts send a full representation...

HARPER AND THE COW-BOYS. "The Cow-boys of Arizona" is the subject of an engraving and editorial in Harper's Weekly...

For this last piece of information—the derivation of the name of our justly celebrated county—we can forgive the late acting governor for all his misstatements and misrepresentations upon this subject.

In common with all the people of not only this county, but Arizona, we had supposed the county derived its name from a once famous Apache warrior named Cochise...

We cannot forgive his late excellency so easily for his misrepresentation of the EPITAPH in its course during the late troublesome times that we have passed through.

He knew that this journal took no side in this matter other than that of law and order, which it demanded should be enforced at all hazards.

That our affairs are now in a better condition than formally is not due to any wise and decisive action on his part, but only to our own people, backed by the firmness of Judge Stillwell and United States Marshal Dake...

The reports of the acting governor of Arizona and Secretary Kirkwood present a curious picture of life in the remoter settlements on the confines of civilization.
