Wet Weather Necessities

This is the time when people should take every precaution to guard against colds, and attendant ills. "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." The majority of colds are undoubtedly the result of exposure, damp clothing, etc. You are obliged to be out in the damp weather and coming in, think your clothing is only slightly damp, not enough to injure you; yet the next day, you find you have caught cold. Wear waterproof clothing and this will not happen.

Our stock of waterproof clothing is exceptionally well assorted—clothing for every purpose.

RELIGIOUS WORK TO BE CONTINUED

Christian Church Arranging for Revival Services—Efforts of Evangelists at Presbyterian Church Brought Many Converts—Evangelists Go to Douglas.

Dr. Smiley, evangelist, and Mr. Hanson, singer, Sunday evening concluded special revival services that have for the past two weeks been in progress at the Presbyterian church in this city. Rev. J. E. Fry, the pastor, reports that the services that have just been concluded have been on the whole very satisfactory.

In all more than fifty persons professed their faith as a result of the afternoon, evening and open air meetings that were held. A large percentage of these are expected to affiliate with the different churches of the city. Mr. Fry farther stated that while the weather had not been so favorable for large attendance as could have been desired, still the result was very satisfactory and helpful to the church under whose auspices the meetings were held.

It is said to be quite likely that the evangelistic services that were begun in this city by the Methodist church will be continued by other churches of the city. Steps are already being taken by Rev. J. A. Smith, of the Christian church, to begin services at an early date under the auspices of that church when the Christian evangelist now holding services in Douglas shall have concluded the meetings at that place. It is also quite possible that still other denominations of the city will follow in the matter of special services.

Dr. Smiley and Mr. Hanson will this evening begin a series of meetings in Douglas to last for two weeks, they departing for that city yesterday.

MEXICAN WOOD CUTTERS RELEASED

By U. S. Commissioner—Will Offend No More—Assistant U. S. Attorney Campbell Appeared in Case—Likely to Fill New Judgeship in Arizona.

J. H. Campbell, assistant U. S. attorney, and Deputy U. S. Marshals Foster and Hill were in the city yesterday to appear before U. S. Commissioner Cassidy in action brought against three Mexican woodchoppers for cutting wood from government land in the neighborhood of Dixie canyon. After hearing the evidence in the case Commissioner Cassidy released the men from custody. Warring was given that further offense would be met differently. The commissioner was moved to his action of yesterday by the fact that the evidence showed that the Mexicans had not knowingly violated the law; that conviction if they were held over to the next U. S. grand jury was exceedingly doubtful on the evidence in hand, and that all three men had families which were suffering by reason of their confinement in jail.

Attorney Campbell returned but recently from Washington, where he was to further the passage by Congress of the act providing for a fifth judicial district in Arizona. His efforts were very largely responsible for the final passage of the measure, and he is as a result looked upon as the logical man to fill the new post. It is said that this view of the matter is taken at Washington, and that when the judge for the new Arizona district is appointed by President Roosevelt, which will doubtless be shortly, his name will be Campbell. The latter gentleman has been a resident of the territory for a number of years, and is widely known and esteemed. He has the unanimous support of the people of the territory in the candidacy which he has announced at the behest of friends for appointment to the new judgeship, and if the solicitations of the people of the territory avail he will undoubtedly be named by the president.

TALK TO MOTHERS

still more hideous evil for women. These unpleasant tendencies in our American life are made evident by articles such as those which I actually read not long ago in a certain paper, where a clergyman was quoted, seemingly with approval, as expressing the general American attitude when he said that the ambition of any save a very rich man should be to rear two children only, so as to give his children an opportunity "to taste a few of the good things of life."

The way to give a child a fair chance in life is not to bring it up in luxury, but to see that it has the kind of training that will give it strength of character.

To sum up, then, the whole matter is simple enough. If either a race or an individual prefers the pleasures of mere effortless ease, of self-indulgence, to the infinitely deeper, the infinitely higher pleasures that come to those who know the toil and weariness, but also the joy, of hard duty well done, that race or that individual must inevitably in the end pay the penalty of leading a life both vapid and ignoble. No man and no woman really worthy of the name can care for the life spent solely or chiefly in the avoidance of risk and trouble and labor. Save in exceptional cases the prizes worth having in life must be paid for, and the life worth living must be a life of work for a worthy end, and ordinarily of work more for others than for one's self.

The man is but a poor creature whose effort is rather for the betterment of his wife and children than for himself; and as for the mother, her very name stands for loving unselfishness and self-abnegation, and in any society fit to exist, is fraught with associations which read it holy. The woman's task is not easy—but no task worth doing is easy—but in doing it, and when she has done it, there shall come to her the highest and holiest joy known to mankind; and having done it, she shall have the reward prophesied in Scripture: for her husband and her children, yes, and all the people who realize that her work lies at the foundation of all national happiness and greatness, shall rise up and call her blessed.
