Ingersoll Radiolite Watch
Photographed in the Dark

Here are photographs of an Ingersoll Radiolite Watch—in the light and in the dark.

In daylight, it shows the time just like any other watch; at night the hands and figures glow and show the time clearly. The hands and figures are made of Radiolite—a wonderful new substance containing real radium. And it is the presence of real radium that makes them self-luminous. So the hands and figures of Ingersoll Radiolite Watches glow for years—along as the watch lasts—without ever having to be exposed to the light. Come in and look at models for the pocket, purse, desk, boudoir and wrist.

LOCAL NORMAL HAS WIDE REPUTATION FOR FOOD SUPPORT

It's a far cry from Tempe to Halifax but not too far for the fame of the Tempe Normal school to extend. Through the enterprise of R. Krause, steward of the Normal school dining hall, in compiling a number of food conservation recipes, the name of this institution has been widely advertised throughout the west, and now comes word that these recipes are being used with success in the Province of Nova Scotia.

F. H. Sexton, brother of W. Howard Sexton of the Tempe Normal has sent a letter to the food administration for Arizona acknowledging receipt of Mr. Krause's second bulletin of recipes prepared for the special use of restaurants, dining halls and institutions. Mr. Sexton is the director of technical education for the province of Nova Scotia, and as such recommended the Tempe Normal formulas. They are now being used with marked success in one of the large convalescent homes at Halifax, he writes.

The Tempe Normal, thanks to the work of Mr. Krause, has been living up to every suggestion laid down by the food administration. Bread is now made up with 25 per cent oatmeal to save the wheat. Honey is served to save the sugar and beefless and porkless regulations as well as all others are being carried out to the letter.

One of the most interesting results has been that in spite of the radical change in diet, the health of the students has improved under the Hooverized regime.

The Tempe Normal stands as a model in the matter of food conservation, say food administration officials who made it a point to investigate.

LOCAL W. S. S GIVES LARGE THRIFT DANCE

LOCAL W. S. S.—Providing a real "stamping" ground for patriotic war savers, the Maricopa County W. S. S. announces a war-savings dance to be held at the Wickersham hall this evening. A special feature will be an exhibition dance by Mr. Vickers and Miss M. Preister. This is an original creation and is called the "Military Dance." Admission is twenty-five cents. However, all dancers will be required to invest in six Thrift Stamps. As the committee explains, "While we are enjoying ourselves, it is only fit and proper that we should remember those who are fighting and dying for our safety by lending the money to our government so that the needs of these brave boys may be provided for."

LOCAL W. S. S GIVES PROMOTION SCHEME

By the organization of the National Association of Securities Commissioners, in Chicago last week, state corporation commissions will discourage all promotions which do not directly assist the government on its present war footing according to Mark Dunbar who has just returned from Chicago, where he represented the Arizona corporation commission at a meeting of blue sky officials. They organized the National Association of Securities Commissioners upon advice of Secretary McAdoo, who asked that corporation commissions assist in the conservation of the laudable wealth of the country.

The blue sky officials were in session three days. H. L. Carnahan, corporation commissioner of California, was elected president of the new association and the time for the next meeting was set for some day next fall.

Dunbar says, as it lies within the power and wisdom of the Arizona Corporation commission to refuse to grant permission to a company to sell stock, it will be a simple matter to stop the sale of stock of company which does not directly assist the government through who it proposes to sell after it has been financed and in operation.

TESTS IN GLOBE CASE'S REVIEWED. PHYSICIANS ON STAND

Dr. Rosa Boido took the stand in her own behalf in Judge Stanford's court yesterday where she is on trial charged with committing an illegal operation. The direct examination had been completed and cross-examination begun when the county attorney suggested adjournment shortly before the usual time that he might be given the opportunity to ask questions of the witnesses before examining the witness further, and a recess was ordered until 9:30 o'clock this morning.

A signed statement by the girl who presented herself to Dr. Boido and Mrs. Juhl was introduced by the defense. This statement was to the effect that the young woman had used an instrument on herself and had come to Dr. Boido for treatment. Dr. Boido testified that he had examined her patient, did nothing and had warned her that there might be consequences.

Dr. Win Wylie, the first witness for the defense, in answer to hypothetical questions declared that the expelling of the fetus was the result of the examination that occurred after Dora Juhl was placed in the care of the county and city physicians. It had been stated previously by Dr. A. B. Nichols that the girl's examination had taken from one-half to three-quarters of an hour.

Carl Schlicker, the brother of 19 year old Louis Schlicker whose relations with the girl were admitted by both, was the first witness called by the state yesterday morning. He testified that when he found out "the boy was in trouble with the girl," he went to Dr. Boido to find "out what was what." He testified that she advised, marriage, escape or penitentiary and when the act of operation was approved by the defendant and she would have to see the girl first. He said he did not see her again until the day of the arrest, at the request of the county attorney and city physicians, and Bush Anderson of the city police.

Many questions asked the witness, called for the objection of counsel for the defense. The questions were based on alleged conversations between the girl and the Schlickers and the jury was excused while this point was argued.

Counsel for the defense held that any agreement reached by Dora, her lover and his brother, "co-conspirators" by Judge Barnum was not admissible on the grounds that any conspiracy entered into by the parties involved, was in no way associated with the case, that all the facts or alleged facts and agreements entered into before the alleged operation were not admissible as evidence. He cited numerous authorities. The county attorney also presented authorities and the court withheld decision until today.

Dr. Nichols was called to the stand and went into detail relative to the minute examination he had made and the condition he had found.

Miss Lena Henderson, the nurse in charge of the case after the girl was sent to St. Joseph's hospital, testified as to her condition when she was brought there. Dora was recalled and stated that a few hours before Dr. Boido had been arrested she had given her some pills.

Dr. Beauchamp was the next witness. The physician's standard "co-conspirators" by Judge Barnum was not admissible on the grounds that any conspiracy entered into by the parties involved, was in no way associated with the case, that all the facts or alleged facts and agreements entered into before the alleged operation were not admissible as evidence. He cited numerous authorities. The county attorney also presented authorities and the court withheld decision until today.

CHINESE FINED FOR BREAKING THE LAW

After languishing for four months in one of the darkest dungeons of the county jail, Lee Kim a local Chinaman awoke yesterday to be hustled off to the federal court and fined $200 for introducing liquor.

When Lee saw his name on the books, "Lee Kim vs The United States," he threw up his hands frantically in despair at the prospect of being pitted against an opponent so powerful and immediately resigned himself to the payment of his fine. The fine was imposed upon the defendant by Judge Rudkin who is acting in Judge Sawtelle's absence.

CASA GRANDE RUIN S TO BE SHOW PLACE

Hon. Frank Pinkley, former member of the legislature from Pima county, has been named custodian of the Ruin at Casa Grande to succeed Captain J. P. Bates of this city who has been in charge for the last three years. The appointment made some days ago became effective on Monday. It is really a re-appointment of Mr. Pinkley who served as custodian for thirteen years until 1914 when he resigned to take personal charge of a growing business which he has established on the Indian reservation.

During the period Mr. Pinkley was custodian, the Casa Grande Ruin was under the direct control of the United States general land office. Not being allied to the routine of the general land office no particular interest was ever taken by the office in its development. During the last year, however, all national parks and national monuments including the Casa Grande ruin have been gathered into the National Park Service bureau. The chief of the bureau, Stephen T. Mather is greatly interested in this work and is realizing his opportunity since tourist travel to Europe is cut off, to develop to the fullest extent the interest of the traveling public in the national parks and monuments of the United States. More publicity than ever before is to be given to the Casa Grande Ruin so that it may take its proper place as one of the most interesting places in Arizona, along with the Grand Canyon and the cliff dwellings. It is easy of access from both Phoenix and Tucson as a visit to it from either place is only a pleasant day's outing by automobile.

Everybody be sure to attend sale today, 1/2 mile south of Glendale, of hogs, horses, mules and farm machinery. D. P. McIntosh, Owner.—Adv. It
