

FOOD ADMINISTRATION OFFERS PRIZE FOR SUBSTITUTE RECIPE

Wanted a wheatless or a near wheatless recipe for yeast bread.

For the best formula of this kind a member of the executive staff of the food administration for Arizona is offering a prize of $25.

The object of this contest is to secure the largest possible number of recipes featuring into maize and other substitutes for wheat flour readily obtainable in Arizona.

Here are the rules:

Recipes should call for the use of yeast.

They should be suitable for family baking.

They should call for cornmeal, oatmeal or flour singly or in combination as the principal ingredients.

The recipes should be enclosed with the name and address of the sender in an envelope to be mailed to the Wheatless Bread Contest Bureau, Federal Food Administrator for Arizona, 118 North Central avenue, Phoenix, Ariz.

Do not send sample of bread.

The contest will close April 25, 1918, and all recipes received after that date will be rejected.

The contest is open to all. Housewives and high school and normal students are especially urged to compete.

The award will be decided by a committee of home economics experts to be named by the federal food administrator.

The most palatable bread with the smallest percentage of wheat flour will determine the award.

The purpose of this contest, according to Fred J. Elliott, state conservation chairman of the food administration, is to secure a large number of working formulas adapted to Arizona, thus encouraging the latest patriotic movement to abstain from the use of wheat entirely until the next harvest.

This is based, not on a regulation, but on a purely patriotic appeal which has come from Herbert Hoover as one means by which the very scant wheat supply of the nation may be conserved.

Since this appeal has gone forth the food administrator has been besieged with applications for no-wheat recipes. Though some formulas have been received from Washington, these are not especially adapted for use in Arizona, and it is up to Arizona housewives to work out their own salvation.

Recipes received in the contest that come up to a certain standard will be given wide distribution throughout the state.

CASE DISMISSED AT REQUEST DEFENDANT

Able to leave the hospital for the first time yesterday since March 25 when he was struck in the head with a rock by Gottfried Schmid, Frank Criswell requested the county attorney to dismiss the case against Schmid who was charged with assault by means likely to produce bodily harm.

The preliminary hearing of Schmid was set for yesterday in Justice DeSouza's court and when the matter came up, it was dismissed on motion of the state.

Two weeks ago when Schmid was herding his sheep, Criswell approached in an automobile. The shepherd called to Criswell to stop his car and words followed. The shepherd is alleged to have thrown a stone at Criswell, striking him on the forehead and at the same time Criswell fired a shot.

DR. BOIDO BAIL NOT YET SET BY COURT

Denying the application for bail in the case of Dr. Rosa Boido because a certificate of probable cause has not been issued by the supreme court, Judge Stanford yesterday informed Judge Barman that he would not consider the question of bail until after the higher court had acted.

Dr. Boido was recently found guilty of performing an illegal operation by a jury in Judge Stanford's court. Judge Barman appealed and asked that his client be released on bail.

GREAT LECTURE TONIGHT'S BILL

Thomas Brooks Fletcher, one of the most noted lecturers on the American platform, arrived in Phoenix last night, and will fill the last engagement of the H-Y lecture course at the high school auditorium this evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Mr. Fletcher is recognized as one of the foremost lecturers from any Lyceum bureau in the United States. He is one of the fixed stars of the first magnitude in the entire lyceum firmament. He will deliver one of his famous "High School Ginger Talks" to the student body of the high school this morning and address the Rotary club at the noon luncheon today.

The wonderful ability to interest and please all classes of people and his exceptional brilliancy as an orator and lecturer demands more respectful attentions than any other man on the platform. He is filling 251 engagements this season and lectured five times in the same city last year, and each return visit increases his popularity.

Thomas Brooks Fletcher opens fire on his audience with the rapidity of a machine-gun and the force of a thunder storm, but by sheer force of an indomitable and irresistible personality, he drives home his facts and exposes all their hideous and contemptible deformity, their economic, social and political acts of hypocrisy. He is filled to the brim with mental and physical energy and plunges eagerly and fearlessly into his subject. He is the strongest man on the lecture course and his message should be heard by every citizen of Phoenix.

DESPONDENCE CAUSE OF MAN'S SUICIDE

Despondent over ill health, E. H. Hillier, a health seeker from Florida, committed suicide late Wednesday night at his home at the foot of Camelback.

Word was brought to Phoenix yesterday morning when the officers who had been summoned by the family, returned to town. An inquest was held by Coroner Wheeler yesterday afternoon, the verdict of the jury being that Hillier came to his death by a gunshot wound self inflicted.

It was just three weeks ago that Hillier, his wife and two daughters came to Arizona for the benefit of the former's health. His condition not improving, Hillier became morbid and for the past few days was scarcely rational at times.

On Wednesday evening Sheriff Wilky was notified of the shooting and accompanied by the county physician rushed to the scene. Dr. Nichols remained by the dying man's bedside until the end, hours later Hillier never regained consciousness.

Coroner Wheeler impaneled a jury which visited the scene of the tragedy before dawn.

STOCK WARNING IS MADE PUBLIC

Declaring that the order of the superior court had been disregarded and that stock of the Jerome Portland Copper Mining company had been sold by A. B. Frame, the former president of that company, the corporation commission yesterday received word from the receiver of the company giving the numbers of the certificates that had been in the possession of Frame and warning purchasers of said certificates to recover their money.

Frame organized the Jerome Portland company and took stock of the company to his own use in such an amount that Judge Frank H. Lyman of Phoenix, presiding in the Yavapai county superior court, declared that Frame had taken stock out of proportion to what he had done for the company and ordered that it be returned to the company.

According to Frank H. Dyer, receiver of the company, A. B. Frame has issued various void certificates of the company. These certificates, the receiver says, have been cancelled and are void. Some of the certificates, it is declared, have been transferred to one Barry Hopkins, and after an investigation it has been said that Hopkins is a fictitious person.

The following certificates are said to have been transferred: 214, A. B. Frame, 1,972 shares; 385, A. B. Frame, 51,792 shares; 2,789 to 2,906, Barry Hopkins; 3,001 to 3,276, Barry Hopkins.

"About 11,000 shares of the Barry Hopkins certificates," the receiver says, "have been transferred and are now held under the following numbers and names:

3,384 to 3,393, Patrick H. Fitzpatrick; 3,410 to 3,419, Mike Lewis; 3,433, John H. Benbrook; 3,423 to 3,429, Tenny Williams company; 3,442 to 3,451, Patrick H. Fitzpatrick; 3,455 to 3,458, Arney Harbert; 3,461 to 3,475, Charles M. Fruitman; 3,476, Frank H. Dyer; 3,477 to 3,496, Patrick H. Fitzpatrick; 3,571 to 3,589, Elmendorf and company.

"Any person," the receiver adds, "who may have purchased any of the certificates should at once take steps to recover his money from the party from whom the purchase was made."
