

CO-OPERATION IN MARKETING URGED FOR THIS VALLEY

Co-operative marketing, what it has done for the fruit growers of California and what it might do for the farmers of the Salt River valley, was the interesting feature of a talk by Harry Welch, secretary of the Phoenix chamber of commerce, made before the Rotary club yesterday at its regular noon luncheon. Mr. Welch had just returned from an extended vacation spent in California, where he carefully investigated agricultural conditions.

There is great prosperity among the farmers and fruit raisers in that state, he declared. Good prices are being received for all products and Mr. Welch attributes this in large measure to the co-operative organizations effected among the fruit raisers and others by which they market their products. There are at present in California 250 such organizations.

many of their brands and trade marks being internationally known.

Mr. Welch urged that the question of forming co-operative marketing organizations in this valley be thoroughly investigated, seeing no reason why the success attained in California could not be repeated here.

Many Rotarians who had spent their vacations in other states had returned home. During their absence some of them visited other Rotary clubs. Ralph Murphy, who visited the Rotary club of Long Beach, Santa Ana, Redlands and Los Angeles, yesterday described the interesting features in the conduct of their meetings. N. D. Sanders described his visit to the Boston Rotary club. Lee Fitzhugh told of the Santa Barbara club, of which he was a guest at a meeting. F. C. McNabb attended meetings of the Los Angeles and Vancouver Rotary clubs. Ed Hash while in the East attended a meeting of the New York City Rotary club, which he described. On his way home he stopped at Texarkana and was a guest of the Rotary club of that city.

Chris Lee was chairman of the day. One of the guests of the club was Charles Windes of Niagara Falls, N. Y. Mr. Windes is a representative of the General Electric company of Schenectady, N. Y. He has come to Phoenix to establish a branch. Mr. Windes is a past president of the Niagara Falls Rotary club.

TACOMA—When E. A. Newton, bachelor, returned to his apartment, he found a three-months' old boy in his bed, a package of clothes and this note: "Please keep him. Name's Don. Born May 25." Signed "Unknown Friend." Newton has decided to keep the gift.

MINERALS EXHIBIT TO BE INTERESTING PART OF STATE FAIR

J. C. Goodwin of Tempe, who will be in charge of the mineral exhibits at the state fair this year, has been traveling over the state for the past few weeks making preliminary arrangements for securing and placing an unusually interesting collection of ore specimens in this department, which is most fortunate in having a splendid new mineral building to house its displays.

Through his travels Mr. Goodwin has gleaned the information that there will be a goodly representation in the number of exhibitors of ores, as the kinds of minerals to be shown. He expects especially fine showings from the Morenci, Clifton, Ajo, Jerome, Ray, Superior and Globe districts, and he wishes again to assure those placing exhibits that they will be well guarded and cared for while in the fair grounds and that private cabinet collections are especially requested.

The minerals exhibit will not be confined to metallic ores alone. Samples of cement, building stone, oil shales and oil sands of Arizona will afford an opportunity for a liberal education as to the mineral resources of the state outside the precious and semi-precious metals.

ARMY MOTOR CONVOY NOW IS EXPECTED HERE SEPTEMBER 25

The United States army motor convoy, originally due in Phoenix Sept. 3, will leave El Paso today, the El Paso chamber of commerce wired the Phoenix chamber of commerce late yesterday afternoon. The convoy has fallen down on its schedule since it entered Texas at the rate of two days a week. The chamber of commerce figures the convoy will be in Phoenix Sept. 25, allowing for two days' loss from the original schedule from the time it leaves El Paso until it reaches Phoenix.

Should the convoy not lose more time it would reach Phoenix Sept. 23. But this is not considered probable. Schedule time, as explained, is not what the government is seeking in making this trip over the Bankhead national highway. It is teaching equipment and observing the roads as possible military roads.

Director General J. A. Rountree of the Bankhead highway, who is with the convoy, has started in addresses upon several occasions enroute that this convoy corresponds in many ways to the Lewis and Clark expedition and that it will go down in history as one of the great accomplishments of the army transport corps. He has said that he is confident the great route along the border and leading directly into the capital city of the nation through the south and southwestern states will be taken over by the government as a great military artery to the coast.

Plans for receiving the convoy in Phoenix will soon be made. The chamber of commerce committee chosen last spring has been awaiting the approach of the convoy within a reasonable distance from Phoenix before making final plans.

were at least three others equally open to suspicion. The clever author has succeeded wonderfully well in maintaining the mystery interest to the very end of the drama, and it will be welcomed as one of the most pleasing pictures. Pauline Frederick has ever made.

The same program carries a Rain-bow comedy, "A Villain's Heart," and the Fox News.

Tomorrow start the engagement of "The Sea Wolf." Jack London's most widely read novel, made into a Paramount-Artcraft special by George H. Melford, and enlisting the services of some of the best known stars of the Paramount program.

Riverside Park

Tonight promises another big time at the popular amusement center, for it will mark the regular Saturday night dance. With King Brady and his jazz band on hand to guarantee the music, the quality of the event is assured. There has never been a musical organization in Phoenix that has captivated the public as has this group of musicians who demonstrate their superiority with every dance.

The pool is always open and there will doubtless be crowds taking advantage of an invigorating swim in the clean waters of the sanitary Riverside pool this afternoon, for there are several picnic parties already arranged for in the open today.

The refreshment facilities are always running full blast.

Ramona

For today only the Ramona offers Wallace Reid in "The Man from General Range." It's a Reid picture that gives this dashing star a western characterization. It is a very clever love story, combining the elements of romance and mystery, and tells the story of a man who lost himself. It is later developed that his actions were all a part of a well laid scheme to unearth various underhand schemes and takes the star from the vastness of the desert to the ultra select surroundings of a fashionable summer resort, there to unfold a denouement that is as surprising as it is pleasing.

"The Hidden Pit," a story of the Royal Northwest Mounted, is the added attraction.

Tomorrow starts the engagement of Tom Mix in "The Barcevil".

The Hip

"The Money Corral," starring William S. Hart, the Hip's attraction, closes with the final screenings tonight and brings to a close as good a picture as "Big Bill" has ever made.

It is the story of a westerner who becomes engaged as a watchman in a large eastern banking institution. Millions are under his watchful eye and he terms the vaults the "money corral." Strangely enough, certain sums have been missing and suspicion rests on the watchman. This suspicion is intensified by the accusations of one of the directors of the bank. These accusations have made the watchman even more determined to run down the matter and find the real culprit. It is "The Dangerous Mission" and the cleverness of the westerner pitted against the cleverness of the trained criminal adds a peculiar zest to the story.

"The Smilin' Kid" is the added western feature, starring many of the well known western character leads.

Tomorrow starts the engagement of "Forbidden Trails," a William Fox super feature, augmented by a Texas Guinan western story.

Columbia

Today sees the close of "The Best of Luck," which has made a record run at the Columbia theater during the past three days. This speedy, all star play, with its thrilling air flight and submarine search, and its numerous tense situations, will be followed by a Mack Sennett comedy, "Married Life," which plays a four day engagement at the Columbia, starting Sunday.

Wedding bells do not mean alimony in "Married Life." On the contrary, they spell fun, laughter and good humor. When the wicked villain, Ben Turpin, the stage struck wife, Phyllis Haver, the jealous husband, Jimmy Finlayson, and the ever present innocent bystander all go "up in the air" together and fight it out high above the clouds it's time to begin holding your breath; that is, if you can stop laughing long enough. You'll want to see Ben Turpin get a laugh when he takes an anaesthetic in the hospital. The anaesthetic is administered by the jealous husband and he surely does a thorough job of it because the next thing you know Ben is floating through the window like a toy balloon.

Mr. Singletary sings "Whispering" tonight by request. Playing on the same program as "The Best of Luck" is the Gaumont News, an all star comedy, Ford Weekly, and Bill Rogers' Il-literate Diest.

SAVAGE

High Power Sporting Rifles

From frigid ice wastes of Alaska and sun-scorched jungles of Africa come highest praise and appreciation of 'Savage Quality.'

We are especially enthusiastic over the new 1920 .250-3000 Savage, which represents the latest and highest development of the American hunting rifle—graceful and symmetrical—weighs only six pounds—improved bolt action—point blank range over 300 yards—gives a muzzle velocity of 3000 feet per second—an arm that answers every requirement of the hunter. You should see it.

A complete line of Savage Sporting Rifles and Automatic Pistols is now on display in our Sporting Goods Department. Authorized factory prices prevail.

Drop in any time and see them, and don't miss Model 1920 .250-3000 and model 1899 .250-3000—both are beauties.

ONE IRREGULARITY IN PRIMARY REPORTED

There was at least one irregularity in the primary election last Tuesday, according to information reaching the office of the attorney general. The offense, which was of a minor nature, was committed in Cochise county.

A voter appeared at one of the polling precincts in Cochise county with a certificate of registration and was refused the ballot, according to the attorney general's informant. In fact, it was the judge of the election board, the man who denied this voter his ballot, that set the facts before Mr. Jones.

It appears that the man will not have been a resident of the state for one year until Oct. 15. The judge of the election board for that reason believed that the man had been improperly registered and was not entitled to vote.

Some time ago, however, the attorney general issued an opinion to the effect that persons who will have resided in Arizona for a period of one year prior to the general election in November can be legally registered at any time during the summer, and such persons legally registered are properly entitled to vote at the primary election.

ARIZONA NOTIFIED OF SUFFRAGE ACT

Enfranchisement of women was officially declared to Arizonans yesterday in a certificate received at the office of the secretary of state from Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state of the United States.

Such notification is merely a matter of form and, in some states, laws so that proper steps can be taken to allow women to vote at the election this fall.

Ratification of the Susan B. Anthony amendment, however, really has no effect in this state, inasmuch as women here have voted on all matters the same as men for the past several years.

AUTOS INCREASE IN STATE; NOW 32,845

Automobiles are in great favor in Arizona this year, judging from the number of licenses issued by the secretary of state in the first eight months. An increase of nearly 20 per cent in the number of automobiles owned in the state is noted as compared with the first eight months of last year. According to the license registration, there are now 32,845 machines within the confines of the baby commonwealth, as compared with 26,735 at the corresponding period last year.

Eight hundred and ninety-eight licenses were issued by the secretary of state's office in August, as compared with 744 in the corresponding period last year. It is expected that approximately 35,000 cars will be registered in the state before the end of the year.

AMUSEMENTS

Strand

Pauline Frederick will be seen for the last times today at the Strand, where she is offering "The Paliser Case." This perplexing mystery drama finds the talented emotional star in the role of a poor girl caught in the web of circumstances and whirled with the force of a bullet into a sea of intrigue and crime from which there seems to be no expiation. A crime has been committed and the circumstances point strongly to her as being guilty. She had every cause to have committed the deed, but there

WILSON SCHOOL TO OPEN NEXT MONDAY

The Wilson school will open Monday, Sept. 13. A new gas plant has been installed, which will furnish gas for lighting and cooking. A water system is being installed so that each building will be equipped with lavatories and drinking fountains. A full time attendance officer and janitor has been employed, which should insure better attendance and also cleaner classrooms and restrooms.

All parents are urged to enter their children the first day, as entrance at a later date will retard their progress.

The main street of Zion City, Ill., is covered with deep sand to prevent automobile speeders from annoying the town.
