FINE PROGRAM IS GIVEN BY WOMAN'S CLUB OF GLENDALE

The program given by the Glendale Woman's club on Wednesday was indeed delightful. The principal number on the program was a playlet of more than usual interest. The play itself was written by Mrs. J. M. Pearson, a local lady, and the actors were the little folks of the community. "Jack and the Bean-Steak" was chosen for the name and the scenes depicted therein, of which there were four, dealt with Jack, who sold his mother's cow for three beans. Around this the play was woven amidst the beautiful scenery provided. Those taking part in the play were Jane Pearson, Katherine and Josephine Tinker, Mary Gilbert, Dorothy Clark, Louise Patterson and Mrs. J. M. Pearson.

Besides the playlet there was a violin solo by Master Nathaniel Derby, two vocal numbers by Helen Green, accompanied by Mrs. Merle Connor. Miss Marlair of the high school gave as her demonstration of "deep fat" frying the making of banana fritters, which with coffee made up the refreshments.

This meeting was one of the best held in Glendale in many months, as the turnout was something enormous and everyone present expressed their deep appreciation of the program in general and especially the children in the play.

Visitor From China Fields
The Rev. A. N. Cameron, a missionary from China, will speak at the Baptist church next Sunday night. He has had a very wide experience in the field and will probably illustrate his message with stereoptical pictures.

Back to Stay
Allan Kendall has returned to Glendale after a prolonged absence spent in Kansas and Colorado.

To Present Ordinance
At a mass meeting held on Monday night at the Christian church an ordinance was drawn up that has to do with entirely closing the town up on Sunday outside of the drug store and they are limited to selling of drugs only. This ordinance will be presented to the town council at their regular meeting on next Monday night. In addition to this an ordinance was also drafted that has to do with the prompt closing of dances at 12 midnight and no dancing on Sunday.

Here for Conference
Rev. A. W. Atkinson, D.D., superintendent of the Methodist churches in Arizona, was in Glendale Wednesday night to hold the quarterly conference. He went over all the department reports and future plans discussed.

Visiting Here
E. L. Sutton of Santa Clara, Cal., is in Glendale visiting his brother-in-law, Earl La Plante. Mr. Sutton is well remembered here as not so very long ago he sold his ranch in the Washington district, where he was located for some time.

Doll Contest
The Popular Price store has its doll contest in full swing now and the prize doll worth $15 is on exhibition in the window. The doll will be given to the one having the highest number of votes on the night of Dec. 24. Each one-cent purchase in the store entitles the purchaser to one vote.

To Play Mesa
The alumni of the Glendale high school has a game of basketball scheduled with the alumni of the Mesa high school on Friday night, Dec. 10. The game will be played indoors at the Vance auditorium. The team and rosters will leave at 10 o'clock in order to be there in time to get a little practice. The Glendale team will be composed of Pitts, Twitty, Fagg, Caplinger, Akin and Grassie.

To Los Angeles
Rev. Rawley and wife of Toledo, Ohio, will leave for Los Angeles, Wednesday night, where they will spend the remainder of the winter.

Methodist Notice
The First Methodist church will hold its regular meeting in the grammar school auditorium. Sunday school, 9:45; sermon, 11:00; Junior Missionary club, 3 o'clock; Junior, Intermediate and Senior league, 6:30; evening sermon, 7:30.

Traveling for Pictures
Major and Mrs. H. Wilson of Los Angeles and New York city created much interest on Wednesday afternoon with their Chevrolet car painted with many scenes of California on its sides, the car being called the California Poppy. They are representing the Master Picture corporation and are traveling through every city in the country in an effort to secure the opinion of all the movie fans or those interested in the betterment of pictures. They have so far toured all of California and part of Arizona, and to date have covered 10,000 miles, and in this questionnaire have secured over 40,000 names. The combined film makers are interested in making the very best of pictures and want to make their work to do the most good for the greatest number of people. In addition to this they carry several mascots, a parrot, a monkey, a dog and a cat.

New Watchmaker
Mr. Jones, who recently purchased the Pilcher drug store, announces that he has secured the services of Mr. Thornton, who has been connected with Sheldon's jewelry store in Phoenix. Mr. Thornton will be here this week to attend to all kinds of watch and jewelry repairing.

Good Road Meeting
A meeting was held at the Peoria chamber of commerce on Monday night to ascertain the sentiment of the people in regard to the road bond election to be held on Dec. 21. All those present were unanimously in favor of the bonds. J. G. Hammels has been appointed chairman of the campaign committee.

Next Monday, Dec. 13, the board of trustees meets with the board of supervisors in Phoenix to award the contract for eight new buildings to be started immediately. We hope to get some of these buildings erected in time to be used for a portion of this school year. At the present time we have two classes in session in the Methodist Sunday school room, located on the southwest corner of the school grounds, and two other classes in session in the south corridor of the auditorium. These two classes in the corridor are in the worst place which we are compelled to use for class rooms because we are continually making use of the auditorium proper for such things as our departmental music, play practice, etc., which is needless to say is quite distressing to both teachers and pupils.

The teachers at present are quite busy working out a detailed course of study for the individual pupils. When we get this whipped into shape it will be possible for the child to finish the Glendale grammar school in either six, seven, eight or nine years without ever being retained in the same grade the second year. We hope to be able to get our course of study so nearly completed that soon after Christmas we will be able to reorganize the whole school plan, the reorganization based entirely upon our new course of study. The proposed course of study takes into consideration very largely the ability of the individual pupil to grasp his school work; that is, if the pupil is quick to grasp the work he will very probably be rushed along under course "A." If not so ready to grasp the work he will be put in course "B," "C" or "D," as the case may warrant. Be careful now and don't crowd too much, because every pupil is not a course "A" pupil, and we sincerely request that all parents give the teachers credit for possessing ability to classify a pupil where he can do the best work.)

POSTAL GIRLS TO ASK UNCLE SAM: "MUST WE WEAR UNIFORMS?"

Miss Gladys Kyte (left) is opposed to wearing bungalow aprons while at work in the Detroit postoffice, while Miss Frances Alling (right) favors the idea. Inset: Postmaster William J. Nagel, who started the argument.

(N. E. A. Staff Special)
DETROIT—Girls who are employed in the main postoffice here have decolleted and peek-a-bood their way into a nice little argument which Uncle Sam himself may have to step in and settle.
"After Dec. 1," said Postmaster William J. Nagel, "all you girls will wear bungalow aprons while at work."
"We won't," replied the girls.
And they are planning to carry the argument up to Postmaster General Burleson, if need be, to have Nagel's order squashed.
"Bungalow aprons rob us of all individuality in dress," says Miss Gladys Kyte, leader of the opposition. "We'd look like prisoners in a reform school. And what right has mere man to dictate to us on dress?"

And, on the other side, Miss Frances Alling, one of the few girls who are backing Nagel, says: "It's foolish for the girls to oppose the order. Why should we dress like society belles while working?"
And the postmaster comes in with a complaint that some of the girls have been wearing waists too decolleted and peek-a-bood. "They've been living beyond their means, spending too much for adornment," says he.
