BORN

TURNER—To Mr. and Mrs. Bryant R. Turner at St. Joseph's hospital, a daughter. Mother and child are doing nicely.

OBITUARIES

For the information of our many friends and relatives, I feel it to be my duty to write the following in brotherly love towards my deceased sister, Mrs. Walter Harrington in connection with the obituary already published: Sister Lillie, as she is commonly known to her many friends in Miami, was born in Farrguitch, Garfield county, Utah, on August 5, 1887. At the time of Lillie's birth, her father, Geo. P. Mathewson, was in Flagstaff, Ariz., employed in the lumber mills. He was a sawyer by trade generally and went where Nature produced her abundant timber. Lillite was but a tiny infant when her father left Flagstaff and went to Tempe, Ariz., where he died away from home. Therefore Lillie was deprived through this life of a father's care but was blessed with a most kind and devoted mother, who cared and provided for her till she became a young woman. In December, 1897, the family emigrated to Pima, Graham county, Ariz., arriving at that place on February 14, 1898 and residing there until April, 1903. Here she made many dear friends, some of whom are now in Miami. In April, 1903, she went to the Salt River valley, where she became acquainted with Mr. Harrington and was married to him on September 5, 1906, after which time they resided in Phoenix. On February 19, 1908, there was born to them a daughter, Charlotte May; August 20, 1910, Winnie Fern; February 18, 1915, Clela Lucile; May 7, 1920, Lillie Leonora, the latter being our little infant darling who we hold as a treasure from Heaven, which God has intrusted in our care. I desire to thank each and every one of Lillie's many friends (for my sister's friends are indeed my friends also) for the many deeds of kindness and words of comfort in our bereavement. I am, Sincerely yours,

A. C. MATHEWSON.

Ireland alleges that Mrs. Beal persuaded him to take charge of the ranch in April, 1919, and cultivate it in order that she could secure the patent, agreeing he says, to give him an equity in the place. In May, 1920, she secured the patent, he says, and after discharging him left the state. He says he is an expert machinist and values his time at $5 a day.

DILLINGHAM WINS SUIT—C. A. Dillingham yesterday was awarded $2000 by a jury in Judge Stanford's court in the suit he brought against the Arizona Fire Insurance company to recover $2000 insurance on the stock in his store which was destroyed by fire in May, 1919. Dillingham said he took out the policy in March, 1919, and lost $2000 in the fire, which burned the building. The store was known as the West End store. Officials of the insurance company stated they had refused to settle because the policy had become void after Dillingham sold the store, prior to the fire, to J. E. Anderson without notifying them of the sale. Dillingham admitted that an agreement to sell had been made between him and Anderson, but said the latter refused to buy.

ABOUT THE STATE

Fire Smoulders in the Briggs

Bisbee—Fire in the sulphide ore bodies on the 1200 level of the Briggs mine has been causing an increasing amount of trouble in the last few days. It has become necessary to keep the fire doors between the Briggs and Junction mines closed. Fumes in some parts of the Briggs mine have seriously interfered with normal mining operations.

Helmet crews are kept in constant readiness and have been fighting the fire more or less continuously since it first became serious last March. It has been thought at times that the fire was completely extinguished, but either this has not been the case or it has broken out afresh. Reports from the mine last night indicated that it was well under control and that very little smoke and fumes were coming from the area.

The ventilating shaft that is being sunk below the Briggs shaft will form an avenue of escape for the smoke and fumes so that fires in the future will not seriously interfere with the operation of the mine. It will take four or five months to complete the shaft.—Daily Review.

Big Powder Plant Being Erected

NOGALES—A $4,000,000 powder plant erected near Benson. Work was started several weeks ago and is progressing rapidly. When activity at the plant site became noticeable, the people of the vicinity were at a loss to understand the nature of the business and complete mystery enveloped the work. Carload after carload of materials were unloaded and the ring of hammers incited the curiosity of the neighborhood. It was rumored for weeks that the Phelps-Dodge corporation was behind the proposition, but this information could not be verified.

It has been made public, however, during the past few days that a large powder company in the East is behind the plant and will rush the work to completion.

George P. Jackson, representative of a wholesale hardware house of El Paso, was in Nogales yesterday employing laborers to work in the building.—Herald.

Dismiss Damage Suit

PRESCOTT—Dismissal of the damage suit by Ed Miera against Drs. L. P. Kaull and A. Carlson and the United Verde Copper company was ordered by Superior Judge Sweeney yesterday following the presentation of a motion by counsel for the defense. The case rose out of the death at the United Verde hospital of the plaintiff's wife and was based on alleged malpractice.

The defense alleged that the case was vexatious and that the plaintiff had indulged in delays and was not in the state due to fear of prosecution. Le Roy Anderson represented the defense.—Journal-Miner.

SALVATION ARMY CAMPAIGN ENDS

The Salvation Army campaign in Phoenix for a fund of $50,000 to build a Salvation Army building in this city came to a whirlwind finish yesterday, with workers doing everything in their power to swell the amount so far obtained. While no figures were available last night on the total sum raised, it was known to be close to $25,000.

A total of $221 was added to the fund last night in the form of the gate receipts at Forest park, which were turned over to the Salvation Army by the management. Eight hundred and eighty-four persons were at the park, the night taking the form of the last event in the campaign.

Politics Holds Interest of T. R.'s Sister

MRS. DOUGLAS ROBINSON

NEW YORK—Mrs. Douglas Robinson is following in the foosteps of her brother, the late Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, evincing strong interest in the political situation.

During the past winter she has been active in making presidential campaign speeches throghout the country. Mrs. Robinson is described as a clear-brained, fluent speaker, telling a story well in concise sentences backed by spontaneous charm of smile and gesture.

It is probable that Mrs. Robinson will attend the Republican national convention in Chicago.

HIS TASTE LESS NOISY NOW

PALATINE, Ill.—Red was the favorite color of Walter Harley, Palatine farmer—until recently.

So great was his liking for the color that his barn and all the buildings around it were painted red. He wanted to paint his dwelling red, but his wife wouldn't let him. When he announced his intention of buying a red roadster the neighbors predicted it would be a regular scarlet devil. It was.

But Harley had reckoned without his prize bull, an animal tame as bulls go, but a bull just the same. He drove the car into the farm yard where the bull passed his idle hours. It was just like a challenge to mortal combat.

The red roadster is wrecked, but Harley—wearing a red tie—escaped and is in the market for a roadster of modest black.—Detroit News.

WATERMELON CROP SUFFERED DAMAGE IN RECENT STORM

Phoenix will have to depend upon the Imperial valley this summer for most of the watermelons consumed here. When Jupiter Pluvius and old Boreas got their heads together and let down a barrage of hail across the valley a few days ago the cotton and fruit crops were not the only sufferers. Every melon patch in the path of the storm was riddled by the icy pellets. After the storm subsided the melon fields failed to recover. The holes in the melons caused them to rot and the vines have wilted.

This year would have witnessed a light crop anyway, as many acres that formerly bore melons were replanted this year to cotton. Unlike the cotton fields, which were caught while in early growth, the melon patches were loaded with large matermelons, which could have been ready for the market in a week or two.

The Camelback district was the greatest melon sufferer, for there were planted the largest melon fields in the valley. One farmer estimated that more than 25 acres had been destroyed in that section. He also declared that 80 acres of truck gardens were ruined in that part of the storm's area.

The tomato crop was also damaged by the hail, which served the plants and their brilliantly colored fruit as it did the watermelons. At present there are not enough tomatoes ready for market to supply the local demand.

GOVERNOR CAMPAIGNS FOR PROPOSED BILL WOMAN ASKS AID IN

Making a vigorous campaign for the bill recently introduced in congress which, if it becomes a law, will make it possible to secure leases on deposits of non-metalliferous mineral on Indian reservations, Gov. Thomas E. Campbell has written to the governors of the western states enlisting their support. Governor Campbell urged them to communicate wit htheir representatives in congress soliciting their co-operation and help in the matter, which is not only of inteerst to Arizona but to the entire nation.

In Arizona there are millions and millions of tons of coal, most of the deposits being on Indian reservations. If the bill recently introduced in congress passes, leases will be granted permitting the mining of coal. The same situation exists in this state in regard to asbestos, which under the existing laws cannot be mined.
