DEMPSEY KAYOES A PAL TO WIN TOWN TITLE

DEMPSEY ONCE BALLYHOODED A DANCE THAT FOLLOWED ONE OF HIS BATTLES. WHEN HE TRAVELED IT WAS EITHER IN, OR UNDERNEATH A FREIGHT CAR.

By HAL COCHRAN Chapter II. Freddie Woods was willing to admit that he could lick anybody in Montrose, Colorado, with the possibility of Jack Dempsey. And he made this one exception because he had never mixed punches with Jack. They had been good pals.

When Jack landed back in Montrose, Freddie was the first fellow he looked up. "Half the folks in this town think you can lick me," Jack told him, "and the rest of them think I can lick you. Let's make a go and settle it. A lot of folks will pay money to see us scrap."

Woods agreed and Dempsey rented a Moose hall. He put out handbills and did some ballyhooing, and advertised a dance to follow the fight. Jack scored a K. O.

When the people of the town started drifting in, Jack was at the door selling tickets. After customers ceased to come he went up stairs and donned a pair of trunks. Then the battle was on.

He covered about four miles, taking his two Belgian police dogs. At noon he addressed a convention of National Independent Distributing association.

INDIANS AND SOX PLAY MONDAY GAME AT RIVERSIDE PARK

The Pacific fleet baseball team has been forced to cancel the Phoenix trip as the crew of the various ships are engaged in their mid-winter naval tug. No definite date was given when the team could make the trip and all arrangements for local games have been abandoned indefinitely.

In order to fill in the Decoration day date at Riverside park the White Sox will play the Indian school team. The Indian school 30-piece band will furnish the music during the afternoon and the players will furnish the pep. Coach Duran has the fastest Indian team in the state, with a battery that can work against any valley semi-pro team, with the odds favoring their win.

Webb is considered one of the best twirlers in the valley and the rest of the lineup will be equally fast. The Sox have taken on all comers this season and are still open to meet the best of them. With one loss chalked against the team this year the Indians will be hard put to win.

Manager Haldeman of the Sox requests anyone holding a ticket to the Sox-Navy game Monday to call at the box office at Riverside park and the purchase price will be refunded. Tickets purchased from contestants will be refunded at the box office or through the contestant.
