The dividends on the First Preferred stock shall be cumulative, and shall be payable before any dividends on the Second Preferred stock shall be paid or set apart, so that if in any year dividends amounting to five per centum (5%) per annum on the First Preferred stock have not been paid or set apart, the deficiency shall be payable before any dividends shall be paid upon or set apart for the Second Preferred stock. Whenever all cumulative dividends on the First Preferred stock for all previous years shall have been paid or set apart, the Second Preferred stock shall be entitled to receive when and as declared from the remaining surplus or net profits of the corporation, after the payment of the cumulative dividends upon the First Preferred stock, yearly dividends at the rate of five per centum (5%) per annum and no more. The dividends on the Second Preferred stock shall also be cumulative, and shall be payable before any dividends on the Common stock shall be paid or set apart, so that if in any year dividends amounting to five per centum (5%) per annum on the Second Preferred stock have not been paid or set apart, the deficiency shall be payable before any dividends shall be paid upon or set apart for the Common stock. Whenever all cumulative dividends on the First Preferred stock for all previous years shall have been paid, the Board of Directors may declare dividends on the Common stock payable out of any remaining surplus or net profits up to five per centum (5%) per annum. The remainder of any surplus or net profits shall then be applicable to the payment of further dividends equally per share upon the First Preferred and Common stock.

Market News

NEW YORK, May 23.—The stock market resumed its hesitant and unsteady course today. Shorts were driven to cover in the oil, especially Mexican and the rails. Several popular specialties, particularly tobaccos, were appreciably higher. Motors and a few food issues were heavy to weak, some of the former establishing low records for the year. Sales amounted to 63,000 shares.
