787 Cases Cared For By Free Clinic During July And August

Seven hundred and eighty-seven cases were cared for by the Maricopa County Anti-tuberculosis society and the free clinic during July and August, according to the report for the two months made public yesterday by Miss Etelka Weiss, nurse in charge. Of this number 742 remained at the end of August. New cases totaled 236.

In her report Miss Weiss declares the problem of taking care of sick children is yet unsolved. She also mentions the need for a dental clinic. The report follows:
Number of cases under care first of month..... 559
Number new cases..... 236
Number re-admitted cases..... 2
Total number cases during month..... 797
Number cases dismissed..... 44
Number cases remaining end of month..... 742

While during the summer we were not confronted by the extreme suffering caused by poverty, there was no lessening of the necessity for clinic and nursing service, as is shown by the work accomplished during the months of July and August. Clinics were held only in the morning, the rest of the day having been devoted to dental services, follow-up work and visiting nursing.

The problem of taking care of very sick children is one still unsolved. Most of the homes to which these children belong are not conducive to good health and while the visiting nurse can accomplish much, she can not do it soon enough to counteract the damage done to these children by previous lack of care due to ignorance or to indolence. If we could have an "emergency nurse" for sick babies and young children where the patients could be watched during the acute stage of their illness and cared for both day and night and where mothers could be better taught, much needless death and suffering could be prevented. This would not do away with the necessity for home nursing as the children would have to be followed up indefinitely in the homes, even as they are now.

One noticeable feature of the past two months is the increase in the number of white patients. Last year this time we noticed the same phenomena, the summer brought with it a condition of lethargy to many of our patients, a sort of relapse, which calls for careful watching less it will do too much damage.

We miss the dental clinic, which up to this time we have not been able to secure. While several of the local dentists have donated some services from time to time, we have never been able to secure sufficient service in this line. We hope that soon we will be able to install a dental chair and materials. Then we will be able to fill the need for free dental care. During the past two months we have cared for whole families with bad eyes, had tonsils, etc., getting the children in shape for the school year. There is still more of this work to be done. The emergency work was also considerable, never a day passed without one or more emergency calls for doctors and nurses.

We cannot be too emphatic in the expression of our thanks for the assistance we received during this difficult summer. The doctors, some of whom were in daily attendance; the Charities, who supplied material aid; the "pound party," which gave us Jellies, etc., for our sick; Yarwood and Hockery, who donated automobile service to facilitate our emergency work; A. L. Moore and Son, who donated ambulance service; the Sisters hospital, the doors of which were always open to the sick; the Deaconess hospital, which for the past two months has been the means of much service to some of our patients unable to pay for absolutely needed hospital care.

The variety of difficulties brought to the attention of the nurses is surprising. Coming in contact with the family on account of illness, an avenue is opened up for further confidences, the nurses and husbands, to see about reestablishing lapsed insurance, to get money and other aid from unions and lodges, to establish peace between friends, lovers and relatives who have quarreled, to do a thousand other intimate things which, while they have no direct bearing on the existing illness, have definite bearing on the welfare and happiness of the family. This social service is not the least important part of our work.

The following clinic schedule is effective for the remainder of the year:
Eye, ear, nose and throat, Wednesday, 9 a. m.
Children, Thursday and Saturday, 9 a. m.
General medicine and tuberculosis, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 9 a. m.
Diseases of women, Saturday, 9 a. m.
Minor surgery, Tuesday and Thursday, 9 a. m.
Skin and genito-urinary, Tuesday and Friday, 1 p. m.
Respectfully submitted,
ETELKA WEISS, R. N.
Nurse in Charge.

MEXICANS PLAN FOR BIG CELEBRATION

Plans for the big celebration in Phoenix on September 15 and 16 of Mexican independence are being rapidly completed. It was announced yesterday, and a most interesting and enjoyable event is anticipated. The program at city hall plaza beginning at 7:30 o'clock on Thursday evening, September 15, is to include addresses, singing, Mexican and American hymns both played and sung, and other musical numbers. Gov. Thomas E. Campbell, Judge R. C. Stanford and other prominent citizens of Phoenix are to be guests of honor. Probably the biggest feature of the celebration will be the barbecue at Eastlake park at noon on Friday, September 16. On that day at the park are to be sports, both for boys and girls, and other enjoyable features. The celebration is to close on Friday evening, September 16, with a grand national ball at Bluebird hall. Ricardo Gayou, Mexican consul at Phoenix, who at a meeting held about two weeks ago to make the first plans for the celebration was selected as chairman of the committee on arrangements, resigned that position last Sunday at a meeting at city hall plaza in favor of Alberto D.

Viscarra. But on Monday when a delegation of influential Mexican citizens called on Consul Gayou and respectfully requested him to continue as chairman, the consul consented, to the whole-hearted rejoicing of all Mexicans of the city.

Stockyard Employees File Wage Proposal

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire] CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Asking practically no departures from present conditions, stock yard employees today submitted to the five large packing concerns, wage and working proposals to be effective September 15 for the following year. The proposed agreement requests that a new arbiter be appointed in the place of Judge Samuel Aischuler under whose guidance the present working agreement, which expires September 15, was evolved. An answer is expected from the packers tomorrow.

The longest march ever attempted by an American military organization will be covered by the Third Infantry regiment of 750 men, coming from Camp Perry, Ohio, to Fort Snelling, Minnesota, a distance of 700 miles. The purpose of the hike is to cut down expenses of the war department. They will march with full equipment.
