May-Time—

in nature is like may-time in life.

Youth is glorious, vibrant, sparkling—the future is apt to be unconsidered.

No one would want to dampen the ardor of youth or strike a more somber note— But if there can be introduced in it just the necessary touch of responsibility, we have the combination that compels success.

So our officers urge the young folks to work and save in the brightness of the present so as to carry that brightness through life.
