Local Weather Report.

Table with 2 columns: Instrument and Reading. Includes Barometer (30.3), Temperature (47), Wind Velocity (5), Precipitation (0), etc.

Brief Mention.

High water to-day, 5:26 p. m. Bargains in shoes at Howarth Bros'. The Strand and the Metropolitan magazines for March at MacGillivray's. Mrs. N. D. Sperry of this city has made her report to the Continental congress, D. A. H., as chairman of the auditing committee.

The Original Nine association will give a collo dance at Hoyt's academy on Tuesday evening, March 13, by the request of their many friends.

Mrs. Owen Clerkin of 51 Bishop street, who has been very ill for a number of weeks, is in a very precarious condition and it is feared that she may not recover.

Mrs. Pendleton, wife of Dr. J. E. Pendleton of 48 Bishop street, returned on Wednesday night from Westery, R. I., where she had been to attend the wedding of her niece.

Judge B. H. Hill of Rockville, who is visiting Washington with Mrs. Hill during the Continental congress, has suffered a relapse and is quite ill at his rooms in Willard's.

It is expected that the New Haven schools will be visited to-day by a party of twenty-five or thirty teachers from the public schools in New Britain, Danbury and Thomaston.

The H. Wales Lines company of Meriden has filed in the state secretary's office a certificate showing an increase of capital from $30,000 to $35,000, all the increase paid in cash.

Ex-Warden F. W. J. Sizer of Fair Haven East, who has been confined to his home by illness for a number of days, is nearly recovered and will be out again in a day or two.

John H. Pearce, assistant superintendent of the Candee Rubber company, is severely ill at his residence on Wooster street and in internal trouble. Dr. Sperry is in attendance.

At the boardman school at 11:20 yesterday Rev. Dr. Lines of St. Paul's gave an address and it was followed by singing of patriotic songs. In several other schools there was an observance of the day.

New Haven is to be well represented in the passenger list of the Aller, which sails to-morrow for Genoa. Among those who are to go abroad from that city are Dr. Francis Bacon and Mrs. Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Clark, and Master Clark, Mrs. M. C. Goodrich and Miss Marie Podlich.

One of a pair of horses attached to one of Edward McGilvray's heavy drays slipped and fell on State street corner of Crown, late yesterday afternoon, and got twisted in the harness and a half a dozen men worked vigorously for a half hour before the animal was released and ready to continue the trip.

Miss Helen Tobin of 34 Prince street gave a social gathering at her home last evening in honor of George Washington. The interior of the house was decorated with bunting and flags and palms and potted plants. A short musical and literary programme was presented, after which a number of the Gibson pictures were given by a group of young people.

Harry A. Beebe, colonel of the Third Regiment, Boys' brigade, has been obliged to resign his command of the regiment, much to the regret of all, as he is to leave New Haven, having accepted a flattering position with the New York Corps of Engineers, art goods dealer.

His departure is greatly regretted by the brigade and his many other friends. Colonel Beebe has been for a number of years with Herbert M. Augur, the art goods dealer. He will remove his family from their home on Kensington street to New York in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Sternberg of New Britain, whose son Frederick W. Sternberg was killed Monday, having died in Colorado Springs, Wednesday, February 14, wish to extend their heartfelt thanks to all those people in New Haven who have sympathized with them in their terrible bereavement and who have in any way assisted them in bearing the loss of their son. Mr. and Mrs. Sternberg have not entirely recovered from the shock of the death of their son, but are bearing their trouble as well as could be expected. Mrs. Sternberg will visit friends in this city shortly.

DANCE IN MUSIC HALL. The Young Men's Pleasure club gave their annual masquerade ball last night in Music hall. There were about 300 present and the affair was a very successful one. The Second Regiment orchestra furnished the music.

EARLY AFRICAN WAR NEWS

ROBERTS REPORTS DEFEAT OF BOER REINFORCEMENTS.

Scattered With Heavy Losses—Cronje's Position Too Strong to Take by Assault—Said to Have Asked an Armistice—His Forces Harassed in Their Laager—Terrible Bombardment.

London, Feb. 22, 4:17 p. m.—The war office has received from Lord Roberts the following message, dated Paardeberg, Wednesday, February 21:

"Yesterday afternoon I was satisfied, by a careful reconnaissance in force of the enemy's position, that I could not assault it without very heavy loss, which I was most anxious to avoid. Accordingly I decided to bombard him with artillery and turn my attention to the enemy's reinforcements. The result was most satisfactory."

"The Boers were driven off in all directions, losing a good many killed and wounded and about fifty prisoners, who say they arrived from Ladysmith two days ago by railroad. They also say it was our artillery fire which caused them to abandon the kopje they were occupying."

"Our loss was two officers—Captain Campbell of the Ninth Lancers, and Lieutenant Houston, of the artillery, and four men, all slightly wounded."

GENERAL BOTHA BEATEN.

Was Attempting to Relieve Cronje. London, Feb. 22, 3:20 p. m.—A special despatch from Paardeberg, dated yesterday, says: "Commandant Botha has been attempting to relieve General Cronje. There has been severe fighting. General Botha's force is scattered, with heavy losses."

CAPTURE OF A BOER KOPIE.

Paardeberg Wednesday, Feb. 21, 6:20 p. m.—A Boer kopje has been captured, with fifty prisoners. General Cronje's position is unchanged.

SOME FIERCE FIGHTING.

Indecisive and Prolonged Battle—Boers Admit Loss of Eight Hundred. Paardeberg, Drift, Orange Free State, Tuesday, Feb. 20, via the Modder River, Wednesday, Feb. 21—One of the costliest actions of the war occurred at Paardeberg Drift Sunday, February 18. General Kelly-Kenny, in his pursuit of General Cronje, caught his rear guard at Klip Drift and followed the burghers to the Boers' laager at Koo-doorsand.

The drift action began at daybreak, the mounted infantry drove the Boer rear guard up the river toward the main body, while another body of mounted infantry maneuvered on the right front and flank of the Boers. The British main body advanced to outflank the Boers' laager on the north bank of the river. General Kelly-Kenny having seized two drifts from the Boers strongly inclosed and ordered an attack, with the Highland brigade on the left and General Knox's brigade on the center and right, while General Smith-Dorrien's brigade crossed the river and advanced along the north bank. On both the north and south banks the ground is level and the advance across this was deadly, and the British losses were heavy.

The battle was an exact replica of the Modder River. The soldiers were fired all day long and all the fighting had no definite result, as the Boers' laager was well barricaded and they remain therein. The British guns shelled the laager vigorously, and the Boers confessed to a loss of over 800 men. The terrific shelling was resumed Monday, when General Cronje asked for an armistice.

The shelling was continued Tuesday, over fifty guns pouring lead into the Boer camp.

GENERAL BULLER'S ADVANCE.

Ladysmith Likely to be Reached in a Few Days. Chieveley Camp, Natal, Feb. 21.—The steady progress of the relief column is unimpeded. The Boers Tuesday were forced from their last position south of the Tugela, resulting in the evacuation of Colenso, which was promptly reoccupied by the Dublin Fusiliers and Thorneycroft's Horse. A Transvaal flag was captured, as was a handkerchief inscribed with General Botha's name. This is treasured as a great trophy.

The Boers heavily shelled Hangwanna Hill and Colenso Wednesday, and the British advanced infantry was subjected to a severe musketry fire, but they had excellent cover and the casualties were few. The Boers held the railroad running from Colenso to Bulwana. The British continue to discover large quantities of ammunition. The Boers are well supplied with food and a quantity of provisions was left behind. It is expected that further resistance will be half-hearted, and that Ladysmith will be reached in a few days.

JOUBERT SAID TO BE ILL.

London, Feb. 22—Boer reports say General Joubert's nerves are unstrung and that he no longer exercises the chief command.

A despatch from Sterkpruit, dated yesterday, says: "The prominent rebels in this district intend to surrender, and Stormberg rebels will shortly lay down their guns."

BOMBARDING LADYSMITH.

Boers Continue Actively to Press the Siege as Late as February 19. London, Feb. 22.—The Morning Post's second edition publishes a despatch from Ladysmith dated February 19 which says that the bombardment continues with unusual persistency and activity from Bulwana to Blaauwbank, but is doing small damage. The garrison is in good spirits over General Roberts' success and the advance of General Buller, which is now visible.

ROCK CASTLE.

Knights of the Golden Eagle Held a Celebration Last Night. Rock castle, Knights of the Golden Eagle, held a Washington's birthday celebration last night in Pyramid hall. There was a very large attendance and the evening was a most enjoyable one. Addresses were made by Grand Vice Chief Eli Manchester, Grand Chief John W. Hutt and John E. Thompson.

Mr. Manchester spoke on "George Washington" and his address was a most powerful one, bringing out characteristics of the father of his country. The other two addresses were also very interesting.

CASTORIA

Sale of the McIntyre Stock!

$51,000 Worth of Goods Bought for $27,598.62.

Every Day a Busy Day.

From early Monday morning till late Saturday night--busy--busy--busy.

But many have made up their minds to come Friday. It won't be quite as interesting as Saturday, because the last day of the week brings the biggest crowds. But there will be some special offering for Friday that will not appear again throughout the entire sale.

Dress Trimmings to See!

Three thousand yards means nine thousand feet, or nearly two miles. Just figure out how gorgeously and how many dresses all this would trim. Indeed, every yard is a passing fair and a passing last chance. Every imaginable width, style and color for goods of this kind. McIntyre got all the way from 25c. to $1.00 a yard, and yet we say as little as 5c. and none more than 25c. a yard.

Sterling Silver. Sterling silver bracelets. McIntyre's price, $1.75. Sale price, 75c. Sterling silver pencils. McIntyre's price, 75c. Sale price, 39c; others that were $1.00, now 50c.

A Mere Mention of Laces.

And yet there's over 2,000 yards of fine Oriental and silk laces, in white and cream. They are indeed splendid values. They are meeting with splendid selling. But we cannot say as much about them as they deserve. For the sorts and the quantities are changing every minute.

McIntyre's prices were from 19c to 25c. Sale price is 12 1/2c.

Insertions and Embroideries.

1200 yards black Chantilly and Venice Insertions. McIntyre's prices were from 10c to 25c a yard. Sale prices run from 5c to 15c a yard.

1980 yards of fine Embroideries from 1 to 3 inches wide. McIntyre's prices were 7c to 10 a yard, and here they go at 3c a yard.

3100 yards of fine Embroideries, wider than the foregoing and ranging in width from 4 to 8 inches. McIntyre sold them for 19c. Here at 10c a yard.

BLUES' BALL.

Large Attendance at That Successful Assembly. Company D, Second regiment, otherwise known as the Blues, held their seventy-first annual ball last night at the Second Regiment armory. The hall was decorated in a color scheme of yellow and white, the ceiling being covered with the bunting. The boxes extended down each side, the walls behind them being draped with the many flags and pennants of the companies. The galleries at either end were crowded with interested onlookers.

The first feature of the programme was a military march, in which the various companies participated. The grand march followed this, after which a programme of twenty numbers was danced. The bright costumes of the ladies, together with the martial appearance of the men presented a brilliant and animated scene.

The governor and staff were represented by Colonel J. W. Lowe. About 1,500 people were present. The music was furnished by the Second Regiment band.

The ball was a great success in every particular, passing off without a hitch.

ROCK CASTLE.

Knights of the Golden Eagle Held a Celebration Last Night. Rock castle, Knights of the Golden Eagle, held a Washington's birthday celebration last night in Pyramid hall. There was a very large attendance and the evening was a most enjoyable one. Addresses were made by Grand Vice Chief Eli Manchester, Grand Chief John W. Hutt and John E. Thompson.

THE SINGLE TAX CLUB.

Addressed by William Trueman and Other Members. The New Haven single tax club met in room 15 Insurance building. W. Trueman, the president of the club, delivered an address on "Dr. McGlynn and the Single Tax," and said in part: "The Rev. Dr. Burns of Toronto in a speech recently said that 'Christianity to-day was valuable only as it could be demonstrated.' Dr. Edw. McGlynn was one of the greatest among the teachers of religion having the courage of his convictions, daring to speak what he knew to be truth, and fearless of criticism. It would be difficult to name a time in history when humanity had no prophets. As one completes his labors another rises to carry on the work, and this man did his part nobly. Next to his work as a priest came his work as a social reformer, and he was broad enough to see that to confine religion to theology was fatal to religion. So, heroic man that he was, he set himself to work to solve the great problems of our time, namely, 'Why is it that amid increasing wealth gaunt poverty persists in rearing its head? Why is it that the tramp comes with the locomotive? Why is it that upon streets ignited with gas and patrolled by uniformed policemen beggars wait for the passer-by, and in the shadow of college and library and museum are gathered the more hideous Huns and fiercer vandals of whom Macaulay prophesied?' In reply to such questions as these Dr. McGlynn had answers, keen critical, logical solutions in place of the vague platitudes one hears on every hand, and as a result the 'common people heard him gladly.' He knew that to preach justice and practice injustice was worse than folly, so he said before justice can be had injustice must cease. And not being one of those comfortable modern reformers now so popular in high places who are quite willing to state many unpleasant truths, but at the same time are very careful to keep them in the abstract. He stated not only the truth, but showed wherein the injustice lay, and how justice might be established. He said: 'I have taught, and I shall continue to teach, in speeches and writings as long as I live, that land is rightly the property of the people in common, and that private ownership of land is against natural justice, no matter by what civil or ecclesiastical laws it may be sanctioned, and I would bring about instantly, if I could, such a change of laws all the world over as would confiscate private property in land without one penny of compensation to the mis-called owners.'

We have around us college presidents and professors, ministers of so-called liberal churches, who condemn this as unjust. Yet let it be remembered that his celebrated apology being submitted to four theologians of the Catholic university at Washington, was pronounced to be not inconsistent with Catholic doctrine. He blended his religion with everyday life when he said: 'If land may be privately owned then God is the father of a few and the stepfather of all the rest.' He touched the keynote of human brotherhood when he said: 'The Single tax will make room at the Father's table for all of His children.'

A spirited discussion followed during which a number of interesting points were made. Among those who took part in the discussion were Attorney Willard D. Warren and Anthony Carroll.

COFFEE AND MINSTRELS.

An entertainment under the auspices of the combined societies of the First M. E. church was held in the church parlors last night. The entertainment was of a patriotic nature in honor of George Washington, and the interior decorations were appropriately national.

A programme consisting of numbers by the Y. M. C. A. orchestra, a colored quartette, and recitations by Mr. Adams was successfully carried out, after which refreshments were served.
