

MY HUSBAND'S LOVE

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

The "surprise dinner" Harry Underwood ordered

It took me but a second to answer Harry Underwood's query as to where I should like to dine. If there be one thing of which he is just master it is the art of restaurant dining, and I spoke with prompt decision. "I have absolutely no preference. I should like to leave the choice to you, and not know anything about the dinner even, until after it is ordered."

derwood pointed to various items, received the waiter's opinion upon them, gave several mysterious directions as to time of cooking and garnishings, and wrote the order, without my being able to guess a single detail.

Gossip's Corner

Soft Wool Plaid The plaid coat of very soft wool, made of perfectly straight lines and weaved about the figure in a casual fashion, is one of the most distinctive offerings in the realm of sport attire.

Plan Meals Ahead Plan your meals at least a week ahead during the summer months in order that you may buy intelligently and use up your supplies before they decay.

Buy Double Quantity It is always better when buying to order a definite quantity of food by weight or measure, not 15 or 20 cents worth.

Changes in Prices Nearly all foods have a seasonal rise and fall in price. By learning these you can buy when prices are reasonable and save money.

Better Flavor In buying meat bear in mind that flecks of fat all through the fibers mean that it will be more tender and have better flavor than if it did not have them.

Replace Light Bulbs Look over your electric light bulbs occasionally and replace those that may have become dim and old with new ones that will give better light.

Coat Hangers Wind elastic bands about the ends of your clothes hangers and you will have no trouble with the clothes slipping from them.

Old Gloves When the fingers of the long kid gloves are worn out often the upper portions are still good and may be used for baby's booties.

Flesh Shades The most popular shades for stockings are those which most nearly match the flesh. Black and gray ones are rarely seen.

The Tangle

Letter from Sally Atherton to James Copden. Dear Jim— As I read your long letter I laughed and—no, I didn't cry. I just swore a little now and then.

Why Women Look 60 at 40. With dark circles under their eyes, hollow cheeks, drawn expressions, drooping shoulders, a lagging step, many women of forty have the appearance of women of sixty.

TRY THIS TO LOOK COOL

If you want to look as cool as possible, try a model like this in leaf green or beige. The pockets take on an added interest by being made of fine handkerchief linen, with an inset of Irish lace and a lace edging.

JUDGMENT REVERSED

Artist and Critics Need Not Pay Damages Suit Previously Awarded Paris, July 15.—The artist Kees Van Dongen and the critics Henry Lazard, Jean Desbordes and Camille Muccliar, defendants in a slander suit for 20,000 francs filed by Louis Monticelli, cousin and heir of the impressionist painter, will not have to pay the demanded damages, according to a decision just handed down by a Paris court.

FABLES ON HEALTH

WATCH SURPLUS FLESH When Mr. Mann of Anytown took out life insurance he learned a few things about weight that he had not thought about before.

favorable and mortality experience on elderly overweights has been equally unfavorable. The age of 35 becomes the dividing line. It is pointed out that the lowest mortality is found among those who average just a few pounds over their normal weight before 35 and a few pounds under the average weight after 35.

The Adventures of Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy by Johnny Gruelle

The new house on wheels was ever so much better than the old house on wheels for the new one was large enough for the nice poor man to enter. And there was also an ice chest for him to sleep in beside the little white bed for Raggedy Ann, one for Raggedy Andy and one for the hobby horse.

"That is all you have to do! The magic books tell you just what to say to work magic!" Raggedy Ann told him. "Then that is what I have been waiting to hear!" the voice of Mungo witch howled. "Hand me that little green magic book, Mister Raggedy Andy!"

with her magic!" the hobby horse cried. "You bet I did!" the witch chuckled. "And I know what you did to my sister Mungo! You thumped her with your head, magical hobby horse; but I have magiced myself so that you can't touch me. Just try!"

John Ainsley Master Thief by Arthur Somers Roche

TO CATCH A THIEF IF— BEGIN HERE TODAY John Ainsley, a man of education and breeding, becomes a master crook—preying upon other thieves.

Now Go On With The Story For I had no more desire to face a court, even in the role of witness, than I suspected, the Prince had to stand before a judge as complainant.

Like the cat which walks alone, I walked silently. Also my movements were quiet. I picked the lock without difficulty and passed through the door.

Three minutes later I had broken two chairs, overturned a dressing-table, and smashed a pane of glass in the window. Also, I had shouted at the top of my lungs, and had aroused the valet de chambre who slept in a cubbyhole at the end of the corridor.

I left an order to be called at 7. I wished to take no chances of missing the Beresfords. True, the young man was cleared of the charge of crime, but in his humiliation at being unable to pay his bill, he might slip quietly away.

I looked at the clerk who put the question. I opened my hand. Upon my palm lay a tuft of black whiskers. I tore those from his face in our struggle, I declared.

We did, opening up his door with a pass-key. He sat up in bed, amazed at the intrusion, and at first doubtful of our charges. But when I found underneath his pillow, where I had planted it a quarter of an hour earlier, my purse, his scornful disdain gave way to sudden fear.
