Redding Chemical Again Makes Good
Quickly Quenches a Chimney Blaze At the Ridge.
Son of Center Resident Meets Accidental Death—Thanksgiving Dinner Cooked in Old Fashioned Brick Oven—Social Happenings of Interest.

(Special to The Farmer.)
Redding, Dec. 4.—The chimney of Sanford H. Osborn's residence on the Ridge goes up in a blaze of fire and sent forth a lively blaze greatly to the fright of the women members of the family who were at the time the only occupants of the house. It had been arranged by the fire department that the fire calls should first be sent to the central telephone office which in turn would promptly spread the alarm, but in this instance only the Ridge store was notified. Property manager Muench, Joe Buser and Homer Archer happened to be the only persons on hand and they quickly tackled the fire, but the blaze was too much for them and they were forced to call for help. A fire engine from the town of Danbury arrived in five minutes. Some of the other neighbors had meanwhile unobtrusively tried to extinguish the blaze by dropping salt down the chimney. A stream from the original hose was turned to the fire and soon quenched the fire which had not communicated to the woodwork, although the roof near the chimney seemed very near ignition. Two men of the fire department were on hand to handle the fire.

The fire was extinguished and the house was saved. The blaze was caused by a chimney that was not properly cleaned. The fire department arrived in five minutes. Some of the other neighbors had meanwhile unobtrusively tried to extinguish the blaze by dropping salt down the chimney. A stream from the original hose was turned to the fire and soon quenched the fire which had not communicated to the woodwork, although the roof near the chimney seemed very near ignition. Two men of the fire department were on hand to handle the fire.

After an extended fight to secure vindication from the charge of reckless driving alleged against him in the Fairfield Justice Court, subsequent to the serious automobile accident in Southport on November 2nd, when his car and that of Edward Gleckner, of New York, were partially wrecked, the case against James J. Fitzpatrick, 1678 Fairfield avenue, was nolle yesterday in the Court of Common Pleas upon recommendation of the prosecutor after investigation had been made by the Fairfield grand juror.
It is said that the mute evidence of photographs obtained by a bystander at the time, which were not discovered until after the trial before Justice Bacon Wakeman in November last, was so convincing as to the position occupied by the Fitzpatrick car that the vindication of the local man necessarily followed.
Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick with two friends were bound towards Westport shortly after noon on November 2nd, when they approached "Dead Man's Curve" in Westport. The car of Edward Gleckner with a party of four was coming from New York. There was a collision which all but upset both cars and damaged both.
In the Fairfield court nearby residents swore the Fitzpatrick car was upon the wrong side of the roadway. A fine of $5 and costs was imposed upon Fitzpatrick who was not then represented by counsel. The pictures were afterwards secured by Attorney John Chamberlain retained by Fitzpatrick.

Becker's counsel are endeavoring to get a new trial for the man accused of complicity in the murder of the gambler Herman Rosenthal, the most sensational crime New York has known in many years. The accompanying photo of Mrs. Becker was snapped while she was walking to the state capitol to hear the lawyers argue in the court of appeals room.
ANTI-SUFFRAGETTES DENY NECESSITY OF HOUSE COMMITTEE
Congressmen Are Told That "Votes For Women" Advocates Exaggerated Conditions.
Washington, Dec. 4.—Opponents of woman suffrage appeared before the House rules committee today to argue why a committee on woman suffrage should not be created by the House. The delegation was headed by Mrs. A. M. Dodge of New York, who yesterday was re-elected president of the National association, opposed to woman suffrage. The delegation marched to the House office building in a body. In that respect they followed the plan of the National American Woman Suffrage association, which yesterday sent a delegation of nearly 1,000 women to present the suffrage side of the argument to the committee.
The speakers for the opponents declared working women were opposed to the franchise because they would lose more than they would gain. This was in answer to the statement of the suffragists that the working women needed the franchise and was strongly in favor of it.
It was contended that the suffrage movement was sporadic in its nature and that the ballot was not wanted by as many women as the suffragists declared. It was denied that the suffragist movement had grown to such proportions as to demand a House committee. Suffragist sympathizers had been warned by Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of their association, to pay undivided attention to what was said.
The anti-suffrage speakers included Mrs. E. H. Tubb of Ohio; Mrs. Anne H. Chittenden and Dr. Lucy Bannister of New York; Mrs. Robert Garrett of Maryland; Mrs. A. J. George, Miss Elizabeth McCracken and Charles J. Underhill of Massachusetts; Joseph G. Fyfe of Minnesota; Miss Emily Bissell of Delaware; and Mrs. F. J. Goodwin and Mrs. D. A. Oilphant of New Jersey.
PARADE FRIDAY EVENING.
Warner Bros.' fire department will parade Friday evening, December 5th. Leaving Seaside Institute at 7 o'clock, headed by Moose Drum Corps, will march from Atlantic to Main, to State, to Broad and Fairfield avenues, where it will be joined by the fire departments of American Graphophone Co. and Fairfield. Thence proceeding to Elm, to Main, to Congress. Counter-marching down Main to Atlantic to hall, where the Grand Carnival and Dance will be held.—Adv.

In New York the laws seems to work different than in other states. The grand jury is to return indictments against highway and canal contractors. District Attorney Whitman, of New York, seems to be the prime mover. Here in Connecticut should a state's attorney even look over the county line for a criminal or suggest investigating some graft he would be backed up by the powers that be and told to remain in his own territory.—Penny Press.
Residents of this section can get along with just as little of "beautiful snow" as the weather man sees fit to send in this direction. It is not snow anyway an hour after it falls but lush and there is nothing beautiful, wholesome or healthful about slush.—Ansonia Sentinel.
