

NEW HAVEN ROAD SHOWS DEFICIT ON JANUARY BUSINESS

Net Income For Seven Months Totals Only $152,216 Against $4,453,342 a Year Ago.

New York, March 7.—That the New York, New Haven & Hartford R. R. will not accept any plan proposed by the government for the unscrambling of its affairs until the plan has been passed on by the stockholders was announced by Chairman Howard Elliott after the meeting of the board of directors of the road yesterday afternoon.

The official report of what was done at the meeting was given out by Mr. Elliott himself and was as follows: "The directors discussed very fully the general conditions surrounding the affairs of the company, but cannot at this time make any announcement except that before any settlement with the government is accepted by the company the whole matter will be submitted to the stockholders. No other business was discussed. Eighteen of the 23 directors were present."

There was made public at the same time a long statement of the financial condition of the road and its subsidiaries for January of this year as compared with January, 1913, and for the seven months ending January 31 as compared with the same period last year.

The Boston & Maine and the Maine Central are not included in this report because, according to a note attached to the statement, the New Haven "has withdrawn from all participation in the management of those properties."

The figures show that the net corporate income of the New Haven for the seven months ending January 31 last was $152,216.23 as against $4,453,342.92 for the same period last year, a loss of $4,301,126.69. There was a loss of operating revenue for this period of $3,047,723.71 and an increase in operating expenses and taxes of $1,494,890.20.

There was an increase in the deductions from gross income of the last seven months as against last year of $1,252,794.08.

The net corporate income represents the sum available for the payment of floating debts and additions and improvements and dividends.

For January of this year, as Mr. Elliott pointed out, a much better showing was made. During that month the New Haven, according to the statement, reduced its expenses for "conducting transportation" $161,894.31, and cut down general traffic expenses $54,733.72.

Maintenance of way expenditures were decreased $9,697.41, but maintenance of equipment expenses increased $47,630.39, making a reduction in total operating expenses for the month of $181,746.56.

All this, Mr. Elliott said, was the result of reductions in transportation and administrative expenses. Every effort, it was emphasized, was being made to put and keep the equipment in good order.

Nevertheless, the net corporate income showed a deficit for the month of $333,187.50 as against a deficit of $249,542 for January, 1913. Of the companies given in the list and in which the New Haven is interested, only five showed financial improvement in the seven months' period over last year, so far as net corporate income goes.

McREYNOLDS TURNS DOWN FORMER PRESIDENT TAFT AS TRUSTEE OF E. & M.

Boston, Mass., March 7.—Ex-President William H. Taft has been turned down by Attorney-General McReynolds for membership on the Board of Trustees of the Boston & Maine road on the grounds that, as president, he had sanctioned the action of Attorney-General Wickersham in reversing the decision made under the Roosevelt administration that the merger of the New Haven and the Boston & Maine was illegal.

While the settlement of the deed of trust between the Department of Justice and the New Haven officials is still "in the air," it is apparent that there has been at least an agreement of both parties that former Chief Justice Marcus Knowlton, of Massachusetts, will be the chairman of the board of trustees. Mr. Knowlton is the choice of Governor Walsh.

Asked what he thought of the suggestion made by Senator Gallinger recommending ex-President Taft for chairmanship of the board of trustees, Governor Walsh made it evident that he did not favor it, stating that he believed the members selected should be from northern New England. His statement was as follows: "I have the highest personal regard for ex-President Taft, but I still feel that the selection of the trustees should be made from northern New England."

Fearing blindness, August P. Heyne, 81 years old, an architect of Newark, committed suicide.

A TEN CENT BOX OF "CASCARETS"

Keeps your liver and bowels active and you feel bully for months.

Get a 10-cent box.

Put aside just once—the Salts, Pills, Castor Oil or Purgative Waters which merely force a passageway through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.

Keep your "insides" pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never grip, sicken, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Biliousness, Costed Tongue, Indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated Bowels. Cascarets found in every household. Children just love to take them.—Adv.

Robert Emmet Memorial Concert And Lecture At Plaza Theatre Tomorrow

Congressman O'Shaunessy Of Rhode Island To Be Orator Of Evening— Fine Array Of Talent

FREDERICK C. MULLINS
Chairman of Meeting.

HON. GEORGE F. O'SHAUNESSY
Who is To Deliver the Oration on Robert Emmet.

Citizens of all walks and representing many races and dissimilar religious beliefs will throng the Plaza theatre tomorrow evening upon the occasion of the annual memorial concert and lecture of the Emmet club of this city when the memory of the Irish patriot and martyr will be honored and his achievements fitting extolled.

The Emmet club yearly observes this important event and each year owing to the growing membership of the club greater interest is being displayed in the observance.

Perhaps never in its history has the club been more fortunate in the selection of an orator than it has on the present occasion for in the person of Hon. George F. O'Shaunessy representative in congress from Rhode Island, it has secured a speaker of acknowledged excellence and eloquence.

Representative O'Shaunessy is under the imperative necessity of returning to Washington as soon as possible so he plans to get away on the 12:30 midnight train. Either before or after the lecture the congressman will meet a large membership of the postal employees of this city. The Rhode Island statesman has been a very good friend of the postal worker having labored side by side with Congressman Reilly of this state in support of those measures which have served to jointly benefit both service and worker.

The lecture which will be preceded by a very fine concert, will begin promptly at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Lena Mason Barnaby and Miss Ethel M. Poland who are to be heard in appropriate vocal selections, are well known local artists with a host of friends.

Maurice Finn is a celebrated New York vocalist and Albert Leake is favorably known locally as a sweet singer. Prof. Coffey is a real artist on the bag pipes. A feature of the concert will be a song in Gaelic by Mr. Finn. Prof. William Weidenhammer and his orchestra will furnish the music.

Those who have not obtained their reserved sittings may do so this evening and tomorrow forenoon at Hartigan's Fairfield avenue pharmacy and in the afternoon and evening at the box office of the theater. Many prominent Irishmen from other parts of the state and several from New York are to be guests of the Emmet club on this occasion.

The Famous Irish Piper.

RANDOM NOTES

It sounds paradoxical, but it is true, nevertheless, that in Europe where they have no temperance laws, the annual consumption of strong drink has been gradually growing less for several years, while in this country, where there are severe and strict liquor laws, the consumption of liquors has steadily increased. An article in the Literary Digest is authority for this statement.

Several dancing masters are wrangling over the rather doubtful honor of who first taught the tango. Might as well claim the "honor" of having been the first to turn woman from the straight and narrow path.

Sarah Bernhardt is said to be a poor woman. How could it be otherwise? A person cannot live like Coal Oil Johnny and save money at the same time. She has made millions—why didn't she hang on to them?

Oklahoma says she has salt enough to last the world a thousand years. She may reconstruct or revise her opinion—her salt should last two thousand years, with the present scarcity of meat and eggs in the average family.

Mud is no respecter of persons, either that one trudges through in the cornfields while hunting the festive rabbit, or the kind that is flung in a social or political way.

It is understood that the Washington lawyer who was called a cur by the judge on the bench, will appeal from the decision.

An Atlanta minister, with a wife and seven children, says he has found his real soul-mate in another woman. Of course, she is young and a "peach" compared to the worn-out mother or his children. Pity they haven't a Delaware whipping post in Georgia.

Those men who claim they are driven to drink, might with equal truth claim that they are driven to the picture shows. A disease that will drive them to work should visit them.

A Boston man wants mustaches prohibited by law. Did he get a few of the overhanging hairs between his teeth? He should be consoled by the fact that a mustache is a useful article—it strains the soup so nicely.

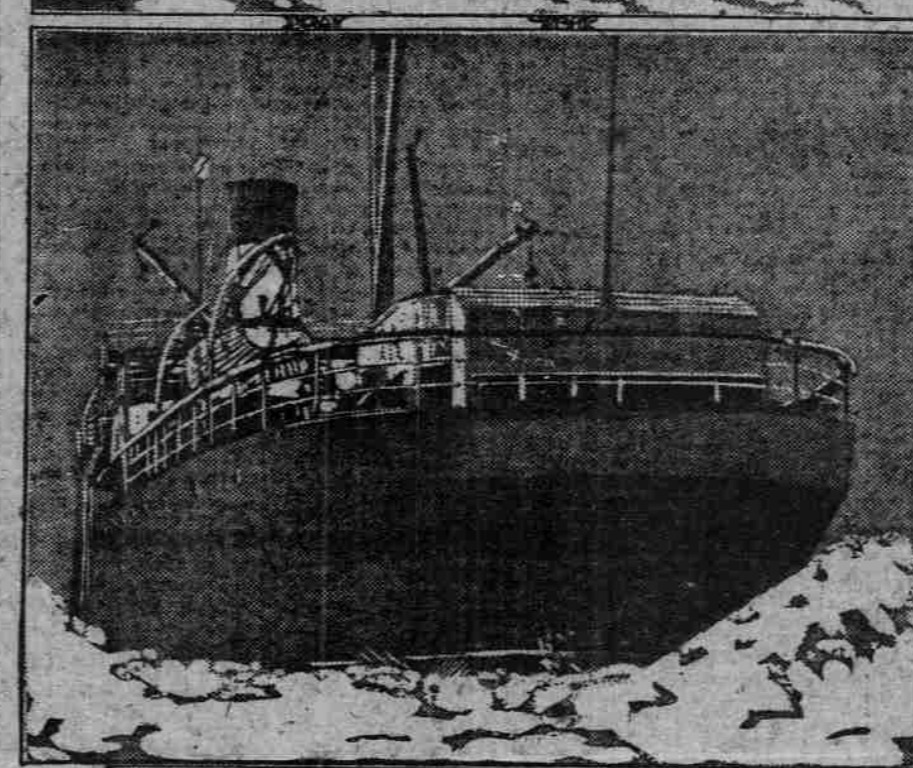

There may be a sex war in the future, as predicted, but who will hold the baby while Dad and Mother fight?

VASSAR'S FAIR DAUGHTERS TO HONOR FIRST PRESIDENT.

Vassar's fair daughters will celebrate to-day the centenary of the birth of John H. Raymond, first president of the pioneer institution for the higher education of women. Under President Raymond's able direction, Vassar college was an immediate success, and its subsequent growth has been rapid and permanent. Women all over the world now look to the Poughkeepsie institution as their alma mater, and the example of Vassar has served as an inspiration to many similar and younger colleges for girls.

Next year will mark the semi-centenary of the opening of Vassar College, which was so named in honor of a brewer, Matthew Vassar, who provided the endowment. Born in Norfolk, England, in 1792, Matthew Vassar came to America as a child. His father settled in Poughkeepsie, where he established a brewery, a business which was continued by Matthew. In those days Vassar ale was as popular as a Vassar education is now, and the brewer waxing wealthy, determined to apply a portion of his fortune to the endowment of a school for the higher education of the fair sex. In 1811 he donated $400,000 to the institution which became known as Vassar College, and which was formally opened four years later under the presidency of Dr. John H. Raymond. Matthew Vassar contributed several other large sums to the college before he died in 1868.

FROZEN FAST IN ICE PACKS ON NORTH ATLANTIC COAST, STEAMERS IN PERIL

TWO VIEWS OF STEAMER FROZEN IN ICE

So severe has the winter been this year at sea that not only has there been an unusual number of wrecks from storms, but steamers which ply in northern waters are reported to have been caught in the ice and frozen fast. Such a fate befell the big naval tug Potomac. Another case was that of the steamship C. D. Washington, long overdue at Louisburg, N. S., which was frozen in an ice pack off the southern coast of Cape Breton. Four of the crew were picked up off the ice near Gouin Island, according to the report, suffering from cold and exposure.
