

AUSTRIAN AND SERVIAN TROOPS MARCHING TO THE FRONT: THIS IS HAPPENING NOW

AUSTRIAN SOLDIERS MARCHING IN VIENNA

SERVIANS OFF TO WAR

These pictures illustrate the manner in which Austrian and Serbian soldiers are marching to the front. They were taken recently during maneuvers...

When war between the two countries seemed imminent and the troops in each country were mobilized.

Amusements

PLAZA THEATRE

Admirers of inimitable Charlie, the famous Keystone "drunk" comedian, were given a treat at the Plaza yesterday in his latest film success "Laughing Gas."...

The Hippodrome Four, a quartet of singing comedians in one of the finest country school acts that has ever appeared in Bridgeport, are having a merry time in the headline position on the bill...

Ray E. Hayes, one of the leading character actors of the country and late with "York State Polka" offers worlds of enjoyment to all, especially those who delight in clean, untrivial work on the stage...

Minna Steiner & Guy Swayne in a refined and exceptionally pleasing singing and musical offering are making a splendid impression at every appearance.

Violet & Charles perform a series of sympathetic stunts that are winning them commendation from their auditors.

"The Bread of the North," a dramatic feature in two parts, replete with intense and thrilling situations that follow in quick succession...

Paul McAllister who is well known to followers of the legitimate drama through the laurels he has won in a series of New York engagements...

The story of "The Scales of Justice" is an unusually powerful one. It is best described as a drama of love, duty and law by John Reinhart.

Upon the day of the trial, the young lawyer is forced to cross examine the girl he loves and in a frenzied, he resigns his office and retires in the court room.

Patrons of Poli's cool and comfortable theatre are afforded an unusual treat of high class talent and uncommon beauty in the bill of sparkling attractions which opened yesterday for the rest of the week.

A mammoth extravaganza entitled Ford's Dancing Review which occupies the top line position on the bill won merited favor, and has been surpassed by no act this season...

Patrons of Poli's cool and comfortable theatre are afforded an unusual treat of high class talent and uncommon beauty in the bill of sparkling attractions which opened yesterday for the rest of the week.

A mammoth extravaganza entitled Ford's Dancing Review which occupies the top line position on the bill won merited favor, and has been surpassed by no act this season...

Patrons of Poli's cool and comfortable theatre are afforded an unusual treat of high class talent and uncommon beauty in the bill of sparkling attractions which opened yesterday for the rest of the week.

A mammoth extravaganza entitled Ford's Dancing Review which occupies the top line position on the bill won merited favor, and has been surpassed by no act this season...

One of the greatest laughing hits in months is scored by "Cold" Jack George widely known black-faced comedian. His "speech" on Rooster-felt, Prohibition party and similar subjects is a scream from start to finish.

Barton & Libby talented comedy bicyclists offer a whirlwind act of difficult tricks with thrills and laughter combined. Many accomplishments of their own creation are included in the interesting act.

Many reels of high class first run motion pictures are presented, including thrilling dramas and wonderful comedies.

The late Charles Coghlan was not only one of the greatest actors of his time, being contemporaneous with the great Henry Irving but a dramatist and producer as well.

His originality and versatility made him, up to the time of his death, one of the most popular actors on the stage.

It is an unique production and was an artistic innovation in the stage world. It is a play within a play and the actors and actresses appeared watching from the wings another play which was going on.

A titled woman falls in love with the her aunt and tries to force his attention on his beautiful ward, Celia Pryse and the day is set for their wedding.

Celia Pryse has sought sanctuary with her aunt and in the meantime has been learning the dramatic art.

This remarkable play is in four parts and it is accompanied for the last three days of the week by a thrilling five part play "The Curse of Greed."

The summary of the laws in the different states affecting the dependent classes follows this general scheme: Under the heading of "Administrative and supervisory agencies" there are two classes, public and private.

The public agencies are subdivided into (1) general, including state board of charities, control, etc.; (2) institutional, including institutions state wide in scope and supported by state funds but under independent board of trustees or directors; (3) local, including county and town officers.

Included under the general heading "Classes receiving special care" are (1) children (juvenile courts, boards of guardians, adoption, home-finding, etc.); (2) the sick (in poorhouses, in families, tubercular patients, etc.); (3) the blind and deaf (state institutions, industrial education, etc.); (4) the insane (laws governing the care of indigent insane); (5) the feeble-minded (epileptics, inebriates, etc.); (6) soldiers, sailors and marines.

Charles A. Saab, of Springfield, Mass., asks help to find his cousin, Mageed Frangie, 38, of Springfield, Mass., who disappeared from his home two months ago and was later seen on Broadway.

Charles A. Saab, of Springfield, Mass., asks help to find his cousin, Mageed Frangie, 38, of Springfield, Mass., who disappeared from his home two months ago and was later seen on Broadway.

Charles A. Saab, of Springfield, Mass., asks help to find his cousin, Mageed Frangie, 38, of Springfield, Mass., who disappeared from his home two months ago and was later seen on Broadway.

Charles A. Saab, of Springfield, Mass., asks help to find his cousin, Mageed Frangie, 38, of Springfield, Mass., who disappeared from his home two months ago and was later seen on Broadway.

Charles A. Saab, of Springfield, Mass., asks help to find his cousin, Mageed Frangie, 38, of Springfield, Mass., who disappeared from his home two months ago and was later seen on Broadway.

Charles A. Saab, of Springfield, Mass., asks help to find his cousin, Mageed Frangie, 38, of Springfield, Mass., who disappeared from his home two months ago and was later seen on Broadway.

Charles A. Saab, of Springfield, Mass., asks help to find his cousin, Mageed Frangie, 38, of Springfield, Mass., who disappeared from his home two months ago and was later seen on Broadway.

Thus the laws of the different states affecting dependent, neglected, and delinquent children almost invariably contain the caution and the injunction that they should be interpreted liberally to the extent that the child's best interests may be subserved, and with this in view the child, except as an infant, is excluded from the almshouse and from the jail, especially in association with criminals, and is to be placed in a good home or well-conducted institution or, being still kept in its own home even if it costs the state something in the form of a mother's pension to keep it there.

The sick are to be healed, not merely to have their suffering alleviated; and hospitals, sanatoriums, dispensaries, etc., are being organized on every hand for the benefit of those who otherwise would fall of receiving the best nursing as well as medical treatment in the homes—this is coming to be recognized as part of the duty of the state and town authorities.

So also with the insane, the feeble-minded, epileptics, lepers, inebriates and others who are regarded not so much as drags upon the community who must somehow be taken care of, but as unfortunate to whom the community is indebted for service.

State Boards of Charities. The first state board of charities was organized in Massachusetts in 1863, for the purpose of supervising the whole system of state charitable and correctional institutions. It is significant that the only specification and authorization in that act has to do with paupers.

Other states followed the example of Massachusetts and in 1818 the number had reached 37, all with the same avowed purpose to secure better care for those who can not care for themselves and to prevent waste in labor and expense for the state.

The increase in the number of state boards of charities has come more careful study of conditions, involving greater labor and heavier responsibilities far beyond the reach of the voluntary services of those who had other duties as well. It has also become apparent that supervision of charitable work, to be effective, must be accompanied by authority. In some states, in place of the supervising board, administrative boards have been established whose members are salaried employees of the state government and give their whole time to the conduct of the state institutions.

Others, supplementary boards have been organized for the conduct of special departments.

Private Institutions. Still another change is found in the attitude of the state toward private charitable organizations. In the past an orphanage or a home for the aged, or a rescue mission, that asked no public appropriation, permitted and received no public supervision, but stood practically on the same basis as a private home, the castle of its owner.

All this is passing, and the state is coming to regard the inmates of a charitable institution as having a claim upon its watch and care superior to the claim of the proprietor. In most states the state authorities are still debarred from investigation except on specific request or complaint, but a few places have now allowed to receive inmates at all except as they receive a license from some state authority.

The summary of the laws in the different states affecting the dependent classes follows this general scheme: Under the heading of "Administrative and supervisory agencies" there are two classes, public and private.

The public agencies are subdivided into (1) general, including state board of charities, control, etc.; (2) institutional, including institutions state wide in scope and supported by state funds but under independent board of trustees or directors; (3) local, including county and town officers.

Included under the general heading "Classes receiving special care" are (1) children (juvenile courts, boards of guardians, adoption, home-finding, etc.); (2) the sick (in poorhouses, in families, tubercular patients, etc.); (3) the blind and deaf (state institutions, industrial education, etc.); (4) the insane (laws governing the care of indigent insane); (5) the feeble-minded (epileptics, inebriates, etc.); (6) soldiers, sailors and marines.

Charles A. Saab, of Springfield, Mass., asks help to find his cousin, Mageed Frangie, 38, of Springfield, Mass., who disappeared from his home two months ago and was later seen on Broadway.

Charles A. Saab, of Springfield, Mass., asks help to find his cousin, Mageed Frangie, 38, of Springfield, Mass., who disappeared from his home two months ago and was later seen on Broadway.

Charles A. Saab, of Springfield, Mass., asks help to find his cousin, Mageed Frangie, 38, of Springfield, Mass., who disappeared from his home two months ago and was later seen on Broadway.

Charles A. Saab, of Springfield, Mass., asks help to find his cousin, Mageed Frangie, 38, of Springfield, Mass., who disappeared from his home two months ago and was later seen on Broadway.

Charles A. Saab, of Springfield, Mass., asks help to find his cousin, Mageed Frangie, 38, of Springfield, Mass., who disappeared from his home two months ago and was later seen on Broadway.

Charles A. Saab, of Springfield, Mass., asks help to find his cousin, Mageed Frangie, 38, of Springfield, Mass., who disappeared from his home two months ago and was later seen on Broadway.

Charles A. Saab, of Springfield, Mass., asks help to find his cousin, Mageed Frangie, 38, of Springfield, Mass., who disappeared from his home two months ago and was later seen on Broadway.

Charles A. Saab, of Springfield, Mass., asks help to find his cousin, Mageed Frangie, 38, of Springfield, Mass., who disappeared from his home two months ago and was later seen on Broadway.

Charles A. Saab, of Springfield, Mass., asks help to find his cousin, Mageed Frangie, 38, of Springfield, Mass., who disappeared from his home two months ago and was later seen on Broadway.

McAVOY TAILORS advertisement featuring a man in a suit and various promotional offers like 'Extra Big Special Goods For 5-6-7-8 DOLLAR TROUSERS FREE!' and 'A Big Saving to You'.

RENZE QUALIFIES AS VITROLO ADMINISTRATOR. Antony Renze was appointed and qualified as administrator of the estate of Frank E. Vitolo in the probate court today.

SIX SHEEP BAKE TICKETS LOST BY C. E. WINTON. Clarence E. Winton, assistant town clerk, reports that he has lost six tickets for the sheep roast and field day which the Republicans will hold at the Ascodrome on Saturday, Aug. 15.

DAUGHTER IS NAMED AS JOHNSON EXECUTRIX. The will of Edith A. Johnson was admitted to probate today and her daughter, Harriet Johnson, was appointed executrix.

McNAMARA GETS CONTRACT FOR LAKEVIEW BEEF. For the first time since March, 1913, W. F. Behrens, Jr., will not supply the beef to Lakeview home during the coming month.

NEEDLE IS EXTRACTED FROM WOMAN'S FINGER. A needle, an inch in length, was taken from the little finger of the left hand of Mrs. McDonald this morning at the emergency hospital.

Walter Stapleton Local Distributor Bridgeport, Conn.

William Wallace—Scotland's Great Patriot advertisement for Budweiser beer, featuring a large illustration of a man on horseback and a bottle of beer.

Newspapers Forbidden To Tell of Austria's Capture of Belgrade. Vienna, July 31.—The police authorities have forbidden the publication of extra editions of the newspapers and even the regular editions have not been permitted to refer to the occupation of Belgrade which still is not generally known here.

Obituary. PATRICK J. MULROONEY. The death of Patrick J. Mulrooney, a popular and respected resident of this city, occurred at the family residence, 568 Stillman street, early this morning and came as a surprise to his many friends and acquaintances.

Martial Law Is Rule in Germany. Berlin July 31.—A decree proclaiming martial law and the prohibition of publication of news of the movements of German troops and war material was issued today.