CITY COURT JUDGES CAN'T KEEP PLACES

THAT IS OPINION OF ATTORNEY GENERAL LIGHT GIVEN JUDICIARY COMMITTEE.

BELIEVES GOVERNOR MUST APPOINT IF LEGISLATURE FAILS TO MAKE PROVISION FOR VACANCIES.

Hartford, March 5.—Attorney General Light, has given to Senator General Light, the Senate leader an opinion as to the power of the Governor to appoint judges of the minor courts in case the General Assembly fails to appoint successors of the judges now holding office...

"Dear Sir:—You ask my opinion on the question, should the General Assembly fail to make provision for the office of judges of the several city, borough and town courts do the present incumbents hold over until the next assembly or can the Governor make appointments to fill the vacancies?"

"Article 26, of amendments of the statutes of this state provides that 'Judges of the city courts and police courts shall be appointed for terms of two years.' But in every case where the legislature has made the appointment of city or police court judges it has provided that such judges shall hold office for at least one year and until his successor is elected and qualified. It is clear therefore that the legislature has added an additional contingent term to the original term of two years fixed by the constitution. If such a law be constitutional there is nothing to prevent the judge from holding office under one appointment for four years or more and the judge from being reappointed to hold over for two years making their respective terms four years instead of two. The statutes authorizing such judges to hold over for a term of two years are clearly constitutional. The legislature has no more right to add a provision of that kind to the definite language of the constitution than it has to disregard its express mandate."

"Wherever the legislature creates an office and fixes its term it may properly provide that the incumbent shall hold over until his successor is duly elected and qualified, but when the term is fixed by the constitution the legislature has no authority to add a contingent term thereto. It is significant of the intention of the makers of the constitution that in fixing the terms of all executive officers the attached thereto the provision that such officers shall hold until their successors are duly qualified, while in the same instrument it is provided that clause from the terms fixed for judges. This distinction clearly points to the fact that it was intended that a judge should not hold over after the expiration of his term. The law makes ample provision for the calling in of another judge in case of disqualification or vacation. The constitution is a limitation of power and while it provides for a contingency what shall be done by the legislature in a number of cases it carries with it the implied provision against doing things in any other way."

"Now by adding to the fixed constitutional term of two years the contingent legislative term which enables an incumbent to hold over until his successor is elected and qualified can he be reappointed to a holding over as a de jure officer?"

"If so there would be no vacancy for the Governor to fill or vacancy in the office except only where there is no person authorized by the constitution to exercise the office. A charge de facto may render valid judgments under the semblance of the authority given by an unconstitutional law and at the same time it may be a constructive vacancy according to the fact that he is not a de jure judge. Therefore, if the General Assembly fails to appoint, I am of the opinion that such office will be vacant de jure and then the Governor may fill the same under authority of Chapter 233 of the acts of 1907."

CITY COURT CASES

John Lehms, arrested for the theft of a suit of clothes from a lodging-house resident, was fined $1 and costs today by Judge Foster of the city court and committed to the county jail for thirty days.

Andrew Nelson, formerly shipping clerk with the Harvey Hubbell Company, who chose his aged mother in preference to a young wife and infant boy after dissolution had rent the family flat was sentenced to pay $5 a week towards the support of his family or serve a four months' sentence in jail. Nelson was arrested in New Haven yesterday where he had resided since December 1. His wife, Mary, and child have lived at 83 Mead street.

John Shea and Thomas Murphy, found guilty of stealing shoes from a State street second-hand store, were found guilty upon evidence furnished by the latter and respective jail terms of 30 and 20 days imposed.

Because he could no longer endure being called "a Bum" for being idle for a month, Charles Smelter, former owner of a taxi-cab privilege, admitted assaulting his wife last night at his Hamilton street residence. A fine of $5 and costs and ten days' imprisonment was meted out by the court.

PREST RISKS LIFE TO SAVE THE SACRAMENT

Catholic Church in Kensington Destroyed by Fire Early Today

Berlin, Conn., March 5.—A revised estimate of the loss resulting from the total destruction by fire early today of St. Paul's Roman Catholic church, with a large amount of furnishings, in the Kensington District, places it at $15,000. The fire started in the vestry room, spread rapidly, and for a time threatened the rectory and other buildings close by. Efforts of local fire companies, aided by one from New Britain, confined the flames to the church. Rev. J. C. Brennan, the pastor, saved the sacrament from the altar at the risk of his life. The edifice was erected about thirty years ago and served a parish of between 600 and 700 people. The origin of the fire has not been determined and Father Brennan stated this morning that he was unable to give any explanation of it. Services were held in the church last evening, closing somewhat after 8 o'clock, no one being in the edifice after midnight and it is thought it may have been smoldering in the vestry for several hours.

POWER CO. MUST PAY 8 YEARS INTEREST

Hartford, March 5.—The Berkshire Power Company must add 8 per cent. interest to run from 1905 on the claims of Myron Andrus, Jos. Griffith and Patrick Hughes of Sheffield, Mass., for flowage damages against the company, by a decree just handed down by Judge Martin in the United States court.

The power company, which is a Connecticut corporation, and recently sold to a Boston concern, obtained a special charter about 10 years ago, permitting it to dam the Housatonic river at Chatham for water to generate electricity. Since then the company has been much of the time in the federal courts. While its engineers said that the flowage would be taken care of by the river below the Massachusetts state line, as a matter of fact, farms in Sheffield were flooded in some instances as much as six feet. Andrus, Griffith and Hughes applied for an injunction which was granted by the federal court. Damages were awarded by a special master appointed by the federal court to determine the matter. Damages of $4,000 were awarded to Andrus; $6,500 to Griffith and $2,500 to Hughes.

On a motion made, yesterday, by the plaintiff's attorneys for costs and interest from the date of action, the court has decided that interest should run from the date of the filing of the bill. The court also ordered that the full hearings before the master and since. It is expected the matter will be carried to the United States circuit court of appeals.
