Priest Pleads For Indians At Chief's Funeral

Impressive Services Over Body of Hollow Horn Bear Once Famous Sioux Warrior

Washington, March 17.—Hollow Horn Bear, tribal chief of the Sioux, has started on his last trip toward the setting sun following the reading of the Catholic service over his body at St. Paul's Catholic Church in the presence of a dozen Indian chiefs in full regalia and three thousand deeply interested spectators.

The chief of the Blackfoot, Crow and Sioux tribes, in paint and feathers, followed the caquet with bowed heads and seemed deeply impressed by the death of the one who had marched at their head two weeks ago at the inauguration of a new white father.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. William H. Ketcham, director of the Bureau of Indian Affairs and a member of the government Board of Indian Missions. He was assisted by Dr. Charles W. Currier, assistant director.

Father Ketcham said Hollow Horn Bear had tried to lead a good Christian life and used his influence among the Indians to promote the observance of religion. A week ago Sunday with a number of companions he attended St. Paul's church on his way to visit the Zoological Park, and arriving too late for that service he induced his companions to remain over for the next, so as not to miss mass. He received the sacrament early in Lent and also on his death bed. In addressing the large congregation Father Currier urged them all to use their influence for fair treatment of the rapidly disappearing red men.

"This is not a moment for recrimination," he said. "The hatchet is buried today. We forget past enmities. But if ever there was a time for competition and contrition of a practical sort it is this.

"Gather around this Bier, ye persecutors of the red man, and shed tears. There are few stories in the world's history of persecution and injustice darker than the story of our treatment of the American Indian, the original American."

Father Ketcham praised the Indian race for their characteristics of being intrepid in danger, stoic in enduring pain and fearless in battle. The greed of gold led to much injustice toward the Indians in the past, as it has caused atrocities among the Putumayos in Brazil, he said.

The body of Hollow Horn Bear, accompanied by Chief Johnny Green, of the Sioux, will be taken to Crookston, Neb., and thence across the country to the Rosebud Indian Reservation, in South Dakota.

Among the chiefs who formed a guard of honor for the body yesterday afternoon were Johnny Green, Sioux; Mountain Chief, Plenty Coups, Little Dog and Curly Bear, of the Blackfoot tribe, and White Man Eyes, of the Crow tribe.

YANKEE SOLDIERS CAN'T LOVE MANILA GIRLS IN PUBLIC

Washington, March 17.—No more can the American fighting man in Manila have his hand in hand in the moonlight with his brown, skinned, starry eyed sweetheart, for the war department learned today that Col. George R. Hays, of the Seventh cavalry, has issued an order prohibiting the men of the Manila garrison from appearing in public with native women. The order was imperative and read:

"Members of this command are hereby forbidden to be seen in public in the company of native women, except those men who are married to such women."

An explanation of the reason governing the issue of the order did not accompany the report. It is understood, however, that the prohibition will not prevent the men who have lost their hearts to the brown girls from courting them in the privacy of their homes.

WOMEN STRIKERS GET DEMANDS AND RETURN TO WORK

Boston, March 17.—A large proportion of the 5,000 striking shirtwaist and dressmaker returned to work today under an agreement signed Saturday, granting most of their demands. It was expected that all would be back in the shops by tomorrow.

The strike of 2,000 operatives in the men's garment trade entered its eighth week today. Four hundred strikers will leave tonight for New York, where they will be given employment until the Boston trouble is adjusted.

SOCIETY WOMEN TO SHOW DARING IN CAVALRY DRILL

Washington, March 17.—Determined to show that as horsewomen they are the equal of the best riders that war Uncle Sam's blue, young society women have obtained permission to ride at Fort Meyer in the cavalry drill to be given in the latter part of this month for the benefit of the army post's Y. M. C. A. All are members of fashionable hunt or cross country clubs. They are Miss Janet Allen, Miss Debra Allen, Miss St. G. Grable, Miss Emily I. Grable, Miss Turch Anderson, Miss Hitchcock, Mrs. R. C. Burleigh and Miss Helen Buchanan. Mrs. Burleigh was the grand marshal of the recent suffrage parade. She is an excellent horsewoman and did yeoman service in aiding to clear the encroaching and hostile crowd by riding it down. Miss Janet Allen is regarded as the most fearless and daring horsewoman in the capital and she has had many narrow escapes from death in consequence. Her friends de-

MERCHANT ROBBED BY ARMED MEN

New York, March 17.—Three armed men dragged Albert Berger, a cigar store clerk, into a back room of the store today, bound his hands and feet with wire, then leisurely took $200 from the cash register. Berger freed himself and ran into the street half a minute after the men left, but they had disappeared. It is the opinion of the police that the men used an automobile. Cigar store robberies of this character have been frequent of late.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Arrangements for a very pretty celebration of the coming nuptials of Miss Claribel May Lewis, daughter of the late Mrs. George F. Lewis, Miss Harold Edgar Nothnagle, advertising manager of the Nothnagle Furniture House, are being completed in the Stratford home of the bride's parents. The event is announced for 6 o'clock Wednesday evening.

A miscellaneous shower was recently tendered Miss Rhoda King of Stratford at the home of Miss Laura Cuzner of Broadbridge Road, Stratford. Miss King is soon to become the bride of Arnold C. Osterlund of Brooklyn, N. Y. The prospective bride received many beautiful gifts. A delicious supper was served, the table decorations and favors being in green and white. The favor for the bride to be is a box of Florida that morning for the occasion. Those present were: Miss Laura Cuzner, Miss Rhoda E. King, Miss Minnie Schwerdtle, Miss Maude Kendall, Miss Margaret Thompson, Miss Irene O'Brien, Mrs. Donning, Mrs. Thomas McQuillen, Miss Eva Donning, Miss Eva Rowe, Miss Mabel McQuillen, Miss Julia McQuillen, Mrs. John Williams, Mrs. Measse, Mrs. E. E. King.

THREE CHINKS KILLED IN ANOTHER TONG WAR

San Francisco, March 17.—Three Chinese were killed and four were wounded as a result of the resumption last night of the tong war, which has raged on the Pacific coast intermittently for years. One of the men slain was a resident of San Francisco and the two others were killed in Portland, Ore., where another man was also wounded. Three men were wounded in Seattle. The only arrest was in San Francisco. The tong involved are the Hop Sing and the Bow Leung.

An annual banquet of pretensions scale is planned by the St. Joseph's T. L. & B. association in commemoration of its thirty-first anniversary. Organized 25 years ago in the basement of St. Mary's Church the society now boasts over 200 members including men prominent in social, commercial and political life, with its own clubhouse at 671 Barnum avenue. The date for feasting has been set for April 15.

EGG ROLLING TOTS SHOUTING FOR PRESIDENT

Washington, March 17.—President Wilson could hold office for life if juvenile Washington had its way, for there was jubilation among the children when it was announced today that on Easter Monday the White House grounds would be kept open two and one half hours beyond the regular time for the annual egg rolling pranks.

Hitherto the sloping lawn of the White House has been at the disposal of the children for four hours, from 9 to 1 o'clock. This year the gates will not be closed until 3:30.

The egg rolling on Easter Monday on the White House grounds is an institution that draws hundreds of children and as many more hundreds of adults to the site of application, with preference being given to those who wish to receive the instruction for trade purposes.

LOCAL TRADE SCHOOL TO TEACH LADIES' TAILORING

An extra opportunity is to be offered to the people of the city by the state Trade School which will consist of the opening of a class of ladies tailoring in the evening school located at 45 Washington avenue.

Applications may be made there in person by telephone, post card or letter. The applicants will be appointed in the order of application, with preference being given to those who wish to receive the instruction for trade purposes.

MASONIC GRAND MASTERS HOLD BIG CONFERENCE

Indianapolis, March 17.—Grand masters of the Masonic lodges from many states arrived last night for a two day conference which began here today. Elmer F. Gay, grand master of Indiana, who called the meeting said no set program had been arranged, but that the visitors had been asked to come "full of ideas." Only two similar conferences have been held in recent years, Mr. Gay said. One was in Baltimore and the other in Philadelphia, and both were held in 1909.

HARTFORD CITIZENS VS. VACCINE VIRUS

Large Meeting Held to Stop Compulsory Inoculation

A number of people from this city attended a large meeting of the Connecticut Anti-Vaccination league held last night in Hartford. The speaker was L. W. Anderson of Waterbury, who gave an illustrated address that was very interesting and convincing.

There is great interest in the question in Hartford at this time because of the effort to rescind the compulsory vaccination rule now in force in the public schools there. The audience was very enthusiastic and left no doubt about its stand in the matter.

Many noted anti-vaccinationists from other parts of the state were present, including Major Thomas Bouden of this city and Dr. Mulligan of New Britain.

STRATFORD

(Special to The Farmer) The Taxpayers' Improvement Club will hold their second annual ball in the Tuttle building. Judging from the sale of tickets the hall will be crowded.

Many of the teachers of the schools have been called home on account of deaths in their families this year, Miss Bertha Hinckley being the last one. Her mother died last week.

The Rambler, Jr., basketball team will play the Locomobile team at the Brooklawn rink, Tuesday evening.

The best game of basketball to be played this season will take place on Thursday evening at the new Tuttle building, when the Outing Club will play the Firemen.

C. K. Stage, superintendent of the Sealship Oyster Co., will move his family to Providence, R. I., and make that his future home.

Mass at St. James' church this morning in honor of St. Patrick was well attended.

Miss Laura Reynolds, who has been visiting Marie Harrison of Stratfield, has returned home.

Miss Elsie Smith will play at the Westport opera house for the Westport Musical Club, early in April.

On March 31 the Azalia Chapter, O. E. S., will hold a whist at the home of Mrs. J. Clinton. Many handsome prizes will be awarded.

This year the High School commencement exercises will be different, as most of the scholars will take part and it will be more interesting to hear than a speaker.

Mrs. C. Chase, who is ill with scarlet fever at her home on Johnson avenue, is somewhat improved.

Mrs. R. C. Winton will go to Hartford to speak on suffrage as it is in Connecticut.

Miss Nina Arford of this town will be bridesmaid at the Nothnagle-Lewis wedding on Wednesday.

As no will can be found, the late Myra Curtis' property will revert to her family and not to the boy she adopted.

John Sullivan and Joseph Kausler, boys, were fined $2 and costs amounting to $9.91, for trespassing on railroad property.

Justice Polly tried the cases. Frank Hagen and Patrick McDonald were fined $5 and costs by Judge Peck for trespassing on railroad property near the H. H. Smith Silver Co.
