CONNECTICUT CO. TO REMOVE POLES ON BARNUM AVE.

(Special to The Farmer.)

Stratford, June 6.—As no one appeared at the special selectmen's meeting held in the town hall at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon who was opposed to the Connecticut company removing some of its poles on Barnum avenue, the selectmen will give the company permission to remove the poles specified and the company's feed wires will then be re-strung on the present poles of the S. N. E. T. company. After the wires have been removed from the Connecticut company's poles on the avenue the poles will be taken down, making several less poles on the street.

It will be remembered that last fall there was an agitation started to remove some of the poles which lined Barnum avenue in groups of three or four poles every fifty feet or so. The matter was taken up with the Public Utilities Commission and as a result several poles were taken down. Now that permission has been granted the Connecticut company to remove its poles, more will be removed, and it is expected that the United Illuminating company will in the near future remove its poles and place its poles on the same poles with the telephone and the Connecticut company. The street as a result will be greatly improved as far as looks goes, for the ground around and four poles which line the highway now are anything but artistic or beautiful in appearance.

The residents of the vicinity who favored the hearing were in the majority of having as many of the poles as possible removed and as the object of the Connecticut company's petition was to remove some of its poles on Barnum avenue near King street, every one was in favor of letting the company do this.

Are You Among Those Who Dread to Go to the Dentist?

The ease with which I perform difficult dental work and the entire absence of pain during the operation is generally enough to prove the above claim. I am giving my patients the benefit of every known appliance for the betterment of my chosen profession.

Success Does Not Come Without Good Reason.

Better facilities, more complete equipment and a superior method and my personal guarantee of perfect results are but a few of the reasons why I have been so successful in this city.

NO PAIN—NO HIGH PRICES.

My aim is to give my patients absolutely painless dentistry at a moderate charge. Come in and talk over your tooth troubles and you will be agreeably surprised at the small amount it will take to put your mouth in perfect condition.

THE PLAZA
(By the Plaza Press Agent.)

Henry W. Savage's great laugh-creating sensation, "The Million" will be the offering of the popular Pol players at the Plaza theatre all next week, commencing with the matinee on Monday. This is the first presentation of this strangely funny farce comedy in Bridgeport and it will serve as an excellent vehicle for the Pol players. "The Million" enjoyed a run of almost two years in New York and was a great success from the start. The action of the play around a lottery ticket which has been given to a young artist who is struggling for a livelihood and who, with two other young men, one a physician and the other a reporter, occupies a small studio. The lottery ticket turns out to be a winner of a million dollars, hence the name of the play. A model of the young artist in an effort to shield a burglar from the police gives him a blouse in which the artist hides the ticket. The blouse comes into the hands of a street singer and winds up in a pawn shop, and many complications arise that keep the spectators scrambling with laughter. To avoid disappointment an early selection of seats is advised, as seats for nearly the entire week are now on sale at the box office. This week's attraction, "The Creighton," is packing the comfortable Plaza Theatre to the doors at every performance. Brenda Fowler in the role of Claire, the wife of the gambler, and Paul McArthur as McArthur, the easy going detective and reformed gambler, are winning new laurels this week by their superb portrayals of their respective parts. "The Creighton" is immense as "Deep Sea Kitty" and Arthur Griffin, William Forest, Ralph Herbert, Arthur Buchanan, Helen Vally, Benedict McQuarrie, and Paul McArthur, Marion Hutchins and all the other members of the company have congenial roles and are scoring individual successes.

FOX'S LYRIC THEATRE
(By the Fox Lyric Press Agent.)

Judging by the advance sale for today and Saturday this, the opening week of the summer engagement of Miss Cleveland and her associates will prove to be eminently successful financially and artistically and there is every reason to believe that the six weeks engagement originally planned for will have to be extended through the entire summer to satisfy the demands of the large following Miss Cleveland and her associates have. It is surely a triumph that talent will not remain hidden and will come into its own and it was never more exemplified than in the case of this clever little star whose fourteen months starting in this city at the Lyric has endeared her to thousands of loyal patrons and loyal on the part of patrons is a big contributing factor in the success of any theatre. The opening play, "The Deserters," was a happy selection for it is of the light comedy order and serves to show the entire company in modern dress which is always a good policy to pursue for the opening. Royal receptions are tendered to Miss Cleveland and Mr. Conness at each performance and the company is unique in that every member has a big following. "The Deserters" has been selected primarily because Miss Cleveland was such a success in it when she played it last season that her followers pleaded her to play it if she ever returned to Bridgeport. One thing Miss Cleveland always does is to keep faith with the public, in business and professionally, and "The Deserters" will be the bill. To those not familiar with the play it might be explained that it was written for Helen Ware's first starring tour and enjoyed a long run at the Hudson theatre with Miss Ware in the stellar role. It is a tale of army life and has the punch. There are twenty-six speaking parts and there are thirty people on the stage during the action of the play. Miss Cleveland in the leading role has to her credit newspaper reviews which agree that she was the hit of her season when here last. Stage Director Hummel is in his element with the producing of this play and with the added wealth of scenery and the added bits of stage business introduce the play cannot fall of being the biggest sort of a success. Seats for remaining performances this week and all of next are on sale at the box office. Nearly a subscription list for the entire season is open and rapidly filling.

CONN. CO. TO OIL STREET.

The state highway department has finished the work of oiling Main street from Head's corner to the railroad viaduct and it now only remains for the Connecticut company to do its share of the work. It was stated around the town during the last few days that the Connecticut company did not intend to do any oiling between its tracks, but when asked if this was true, Superintendent Charles Chapman of the company said yesterday afternoon that quite the contrary was the case; that the oil had been contracted for by the company and that several of the Standard Oil company's sprinklers would be in Stratford within a couple of days oiling Main street in the space between the trolley tracks.

EIGHTH GRADE PICNIC.

The eighth grade of the Center school is to hold its class picnic at Beardsley park, Saturday, June 7. A special car will leave the center at 9 o'clock in the morning and will return from the park at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The whole class is planning to go on the picnic and the young people are anticipating a most enjoyable day's outing.

The program for the day's sport at the park will consist of walking races, three-legged race, 50-yard dash, boys' 25-yard dash, girls' 25-yard dash, and a potato race in the morning. Dinner will be served at 12 o'clock noon and after dinner there will be a sitting ball game, a regulation ball game, a sack race, an obstacle race, a relay race and a brook walk.

ERVIN GIRL IMPROVES.

Little Ella Ervin, who was run down by a trolley car near the center school on Saturday evening recently, is resting very comfortably at her home and will be able to be about again within a few days. The little girl's injuries were not as bad as they were thought to be at first.

WORK ON CHURCH PROGRESSES.

The work on the new St. James' church, corner of Main and Broad streets, is progressing finely and the foundation and cellar walls are now finished. The limestone and bricks to be used in the building will arrive on the grounds in a couple of days and the church will then be pushed right along to completion.

The laying of the cornerstone of the new church will be on Sunday afternoon, July 14, when Bishop Stellan and other clergymen from around the diocese will be present in town to assist in the ceremonies.

To Extend Membership.

At the meeting of the Weatogue Country club held in the chapel of the Congregational church last evening it was voted to extend the membership of the new club to 200 instead of 150. This action was taken owing to the fact that there are about 175 applications for membership now before the executive committee.

Fine progress was reported at the meeting last night and it was voted to have a grand opening day with field sports, tournaments and contests of various kinds on Saturday afternoon, June 21. The club house will now be completed within a week or so and if clear weather prevails the tennis courts will be ready for use in three days. The golf links are in use already and many are going over them every day getting thoroughly familiar with the course.

INTERESTING PROGRAM FOR ANNUAL MEETING OF BOARD OF TRADE

In connection with the annual election of the Board of Trade at its meeting this evening, an interesting program has been arranged. Hugo Hoffstaeder, vice-president and general manager of the Polack Tyre & Rubber Co., recently located in this city will speak on his industry. Frank L. Glynn, superintendent of the State Trade school will speak on his work and will show lantern slides. Charles D. Hine, secretary of the State Board of Education, will speak of educational work, particularly that accomplished in the trade schools. No important change in the personnel of the officers or committees is anticipated.
