

DOES THIS SOUND INTERESTING? CORRECT, WELL-MADE CLOTHES MODERATE PRICES

The desire to be well dressed—correctly dressed—is a laudable one. It isn't always dollars, though, that secure correct clothes.

Expensive clothing isn't always the most desirable—neither is it necessary to pay high prices to secure correct style, pattern and coloring.

We are demonstrating that every day—preaching the doctrine of moderate prices in all our advertising—practicing it every day in our store.

At moderate prices—$15 to $25—we sell clothing that represents the best of the new styles—the most correct patterns and colorings and absolutely the most dependable ready-to-wear tailoring.

WHY PAY MORE?

Some people hardly believe the value we offer for the price is genuine until they come and see the suits. That is what we want you to do. Further—we gladly promise that should you buy a moderate price suit here and find it in any way unsatisfactory—we will make good your purchase willingly and unhesitatingly.

NEW ATTRACTIVE SUMMER STYLES

New shades in the latest fabrics. Styles that represent the cleverest and most refined ideas of the best clothing designers. Tailoring that makes for long and satisfactory service. All this—and the pleasure that comes from being correctly dressed—we offer at prices well within your reach.

$15 $16.50 $18 $20 $22.50 $25

STRAW HATS—Light, stylish, cool, decidedly comfortable, $1.50, $2, $2.50, $3

GOVERNMENT DEPOSITS IN TWO LOCAL BANKS

Washington, June 6—The full list of Connecticut national banks that shared in the distribution of $10,000,000 deposits of government funds recently has been given out at the treasury department. The Charter Oak National Bank of Hartford is one of the lucky banks. Bridgeport was the only city in which two banks drew prizes in the allotments of government deposits. The First Bridgeport National bank and the City National Bank of Bridgeport got allotments. The amounts of the individual allotments were not made public, but the total allotment to the state was $188,000.

GERMAN BAPTIST CHURCH CONFERENCE OPENS IN MERIDEN

Meriden, June 6—The 16th annual convention of the German Baptist churches of New England, representing churches in Boston, New Britain, Bridgeport, Meriden and New Haven, opened here today. The delegates, received by a committee consisting of Rev. J. C. Haber, of this city, Rev. Otto Koenig, of New Haven, Rev. Frederick Kleese, of New Britain, and Rev. George Knoblauch, of Bridgeport. The transaction of routine business and a number of addresses on various subjects connected with church activities made up the greater part of the day's proceedings.

Tomorrow there will be a musical service by the young people's societies of New Haven, Bridgeport and Meriden and on Sunday will be celebrated the fourth anniversary of the local church.

HILLHOUSE LOSES SUIT TO RESTRAIN YALE RIGHT OF WAY

New Haven, June 6—James Hillhouse, who sold to Yale University for upwards of half a million of dollars, the large tract of Prospect Hill, has lost his suit to restrain the university from using a passageway across the grounds. Judge Green, yesterday, found that the acts of the university were justified by the deeds of the tract and that the plaintiff could not recover damages nor could he have the restraining order.

It has been claimed that Mr. Hillhouse, the surviving male heir of James Hillhouse, after whom Hillhouse avenue is named, sold the land to the university expecting it would be developed along beautifying lines and as a biological garden or arboretum like the Arnold arboretum in Boston belonging to Harvard college but instead the university has erected laboratories and is putting up homes for professors.

The passageway across the land has been made into a terrace. Mr. Hillhouse brought suit on the ground that the provisions of the contract had not been adhered to.

JUDGE W. C. NOYES RESIGNS OFFICE

Circuit Court Jurist Writes Wilson Salary of $7,000 Not Enough to Support Family

Washington, June 6—President Wilson has accepted the resignation of Walter C. Noyes, one of the judges of the second judicial circuit, comprising the states of Vermont, Connecticut and New York. Judge Noyes was appointed in December, 1907. He resides at New London, Conn. Judge Noyes' successor has not been chosen.

New London, June 6—Judge Noyes states that the reason for his resignation was embodied in his letter to President Wilson. He says: "The salary of the office is inadequate for the support of my family and for the increasing expenses of the education of my children. My outside income is not sufficient to bring the total to an amount commensurate to the needs of my family. I have thoroughly enjoyed the six years' tenure of the position, which I deem one of the most satisfactory with which a member of the legal calling can be honored and I leave it only because necessity compels me to do so."

"I shall hereafter devote my time to private practice and I expect to open an office in New York this summer."

Judge Noyes is a native of Old Lyme and is well known in New London county, where he began his legal career. Mrs. Noyes is the only daughter of Benjamin A. Armstrong, of this city. They have three children, all girls, the oldest of whom is fourteen. The salary of a circuit court judge is $7,000 and in Judge Noyes' case virtually required residence in New York city.

EGGS LAID AT STORRS IN INTERNATIONAL CONTEST

The total number of eggs laid during the twenty-ninth week of the Second International Egg Competition was 2,254. This is an increase of 254 over last year's production for the same period. The White Leghorns take practically all the honors for the week. There were four pens that tied for first place for the week, each having laid thirty-one eggs. They are as follows:

Ingliside Farms Co., Thorndale, Pa.; Leroy E. Sands, Hawley, Pa.; W. L. Sleeper, York, Pa.; Tom Barron, Catforth, Eng.

Two pens tied for second place for the week with a score of thirty eggs. Both pens were Single Comb White Leghorns; one being owned by P. G. Platt, Wallingford, Pa., and the other belonging to Rosswood Poultry Farm, Doylestown, Pa.

There were four pens tied for next place for the week; each pen laid twenty-nine eggs. They are as follows:

C. S. Scoville, East Haven, Rose Comb Rhode Island Reds; W. P. Canby, East Downingtown, Pa., Single Comb White Leghorns; L. E. Sands, Hawley, Pa., Single Comb White Leghorns; Frank A. Jones, Northumberland, Pa., Single Comb White Leghorns.

The largest egg laid during the week weighed twenty-four one hundredths of a pound. This large egg was laid by a Barred Plymouth Rock pullet owned by Woodside Poultry Farm, West Philadelphia, Pa. The smallest egg laid during the week weighed one one hundredth of a pound. This small egg was laid by a Single Comb White Leghorn owned by F. A. Keppel, Paradise, Pa.

The following is a list of the leading pens to date with the total number of eggs laid by each:

Tom Barron, Catforth, Eng., Single Comb White Leghorns, 829.
Edward Cam Houghton, Eng., Single Comb White Leghorns, 604.
George H. Schmitt, Chicago, Ill., Single Comb Buff Leghorns, 588.
Edward Cam, Houghton, Eng., White Wyandottes, 553.
O. A. Foster, Santa Cruz, Cal., Single Comb White Leghorns, 558.
Bentley Farm, Stony Creek, Ont., Can., White Wyandottes, 541.
Braeside Poultry Farm, Stroudsburg, Pa., Single Comb White Leghorns, 531.
George P. Dearborn, Blainstown, N. J., Single Comb Rhode Island Reds, 529.
W. L. Sleeper, York, Pa., Single Comb White Leghorns, 516.
Bentley Farm, Stony Creek, West Willington, Rose Comb Rhode Island Reds, 491.
Ballock & Burrows, Wilmington, Del., Single Comb White Leghorns, 491.

Burtin E. Moore's Single Comb White Leghorns laid twenty-seven eggs this week, thereby making him second in Connecticut with 486 eggs credit, just two more than Mr. William E. Ross has.

GERMANS KEENLY INTERESTED IN SONDER ELIMINATION

Kiel, June 6—Great interest is being taken in the elimination trials scheduled for June 18 here, for the selection of the German representatives who are to participate in the German-American Sundry class regatta off Marblehead, Mass., in September, next. The corrected list of yachts entered for the preliminary trials and of their owners is as follows:

Palmstrom, owner Eberhard Marquardt, Stuttgart; Seehund, owners Otto Berghoff and Wilhelm Spindler, Berlin; Resi V., owner Julius Stahn, Berlin; Wittelsbach IX., owner Christof Alt, Berlin; Serum, owner Waldeemar Tetgens, Hamburg.
